DR. SHEPPARD UNDER CONSTANT WATCH AFTER MOTHER'S SUICIDE

He Is Put in Observation Cell Where Prisoners Are Sent When It Is Feared They May Harm Selves.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 8 (UP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, grief-stricken over the suicide of his mother, was put into a special cell under constant watch at county jail today.

The move was ordered without explanation by Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney despite protests by the convicted wife-murderer that "I want to be with the fellows I know."

Prisoners are put in an observation cell when it is feared they may commit violence to themselves.

Will Attend Funeral.

Dr. Sheppard was given permission today to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Ethel Sheppard, 64 years old, Monday afternoon. The request was made by William J. Corrigan, Dr. Sheppard's chief defense lawyer.

Permission was granted by Judge Harry A. Hanna, presiding judge of the current session of common pleas court.

The judge said, "I told Sheriff Joseph Sweeney it was all right with me, providing the sheriff did not think there was any danger in the move. He said he could see no reason why it couldn't be arranged. I told the sheriff to take such precautionary measures as were necessary."

(The Associated Press reported that members of his family who told Dr. Sheppard of his mother's death yesterday afternoon said he had "broken down completely," but he regained his composure before he was transferred to the new cell.

("Mother was very proud," said Sheppard's oldest brother, Richard N., one of those who visited the jail. "She had complete faith in Sam's innocence, but all of this was just too much for her.")

Mrs. Sheppard shot herself yesterday about the time Corrigan withdrew "without prejudice" his motion for a new trial for his client on the basis of "new evidence." Dr. Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder in the bludgeon killing of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31, July 4, and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Asks Bail for Doctor.

Corrigan also asked the three-judge court of appeals to free Dr. Sheppard on bail pending hearing on his appeal. The county prosecutor's office immediately announced it would fight the move, on the ground the prisoner is not bailable.

The appeals court will hear the bail motion Jan. 17. It will also hear a motion to postpone beginning of Dr. Sheppard's prison sentence.

He would be eligible for consideration for parole after serving 10 years of his sentence, but his time does not start until he is actually checked into the penitentiary at Columbus.

Mrs. Sheppard's health began to fail from the time her daughter-in-law was found, battered to death, in her Lakeside home two and one-half miles west of Bay View Hospital, where the father and three sons were staff members.

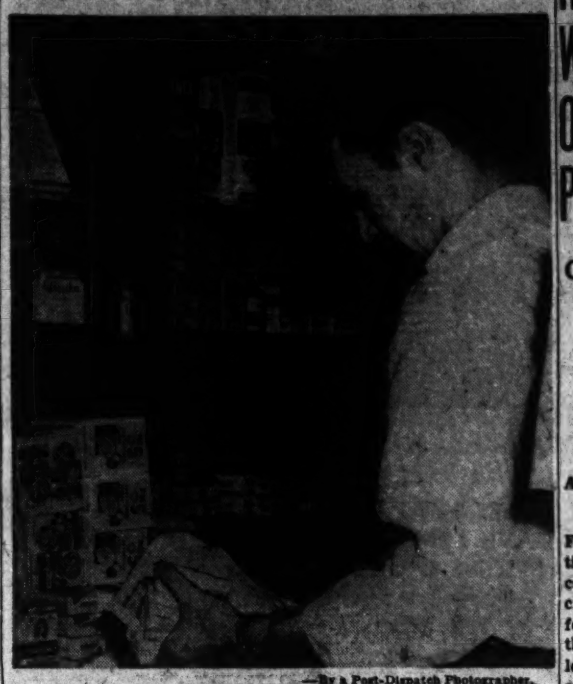

She suffered a stroke during Dr. Sheppard's trial and was hospitalized there for some time. When she got better, her husband, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, had a severe attack of pleurisy. He entered the hospital and asked that his wife stay in a nearby room instead of staying alone at home. Later she went to live with her second son, Dr. Stephen A. Sheppard. It was there she locked the bedroom door just before noon yesterday, wrote—"I can't manage alone without Father" on one of Dr. Stephen's letterheads—then lay down on the bed and shot herself with a revolver she found in a drawer.

No Mention of Dr. Sam.

There was no mention of her youngest son in the note. The last time she saw him was when he was released on bail Aug. 16, meeting him with open arms on her front porch. A grand jury indictment returned him to jail after 30 hours freedom.

Dr. Stephen Sheppard went to the hospital to tell his sick father of the death of the woman he married 39 years ago. Hospital attendants said his condition was "not good" but could not say whether he would be able to attend the funeral.

MINT GETS 86 LBS. OF COINS FUSED SOLID IN FIRE

DENVER, Jan. 8 (INS)—An express package containing 86 pounds of nickels, dimes and quarters arrived at the Denver mint yesterday.

Alma Schneider, director of the mint, said the package came from a man in Wiener, Ark., and that he would receive about $850.

The man had hidden his spare coins in a four-inch lead pipe for many years and recently his house burned. The heat of the flames fused the coins into a solid mass of metal.

Mrs. Schneider declined to name the man, but added, "I'll bet he keeps his money in a bank after this."

WOMAN, 60, HIDES 53 DAYS IN CREVICE AT NURSING HOME

LINCOLN, Nebr., Jan. 8 (UP)—A 60-year-old woman lived 53 days in an 18-inch crevice between the floors of a Lincoln nursing home, eating peanut butter, raisins, salad dressing and mustard because she was afraid to go to a mental hospital.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp said the woman—whom he declined to name—had been sent to the Hastings (Nebr.) Mental Hospital.

He said she disappeared 53 days ago when she learned she was to be transferred to the Hastings institution. It was believed the woman had left the nursing home, but recently the manager of the home noticed signs that someone had been in the basement and asked Karnopp to investigate.

He found a 12-inch hole in the ceiling of the basement. Karnopp said the woman was found inside of an 18-inch space between the basement ceiling and the floor above. He said she weighed 80 pounds, or 50 pounds less than when she disappeared.

PADLOCKS PHONE SO WIFE WILL FIND TIME TO DO CHORES

MUSKEGON, Mich., Jan. 7 (AP)—An exasperated Muskegon housewife asked police to help in breaking a padlock. Officers investigated but told her they were unable to assist.

They said the woman's husband had built a strongbox which he padlocked around the telephone before leaving for work each day. The woman said her husband had complained that when the phone was left in the open she carried on excessive conversations with friends, leaving housework undone and meals unprepared.

2 DAMAGE SUIT PARTICIPANTS MUST PAY EACH OTHER $1000

Jury Rules They Were Equally Negligent in Traffic Accident.

GREENVILLE, Miss., Jan. 8 (UP)—A circuit court jury, after hearing the suit of Mrs. W. C. Hudson and the counter-suit of Vance Lipe over a traffic accident, ruled that Mrs. Hudson and Lipe were "equally negligent and suffered approximately equal injuries and damages."

The jury then awarded each $1000 damages against the other.

CHINA EXECUTES 2 ACCUSED OF MAKING MAPS FOR CHIANG

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—China has executed two "Chiang spies" accused of compiling maps, the Moscow radio said yesterday.

The radio, broadcasting a Tass dispatch from Peiping, said 2000 persons attended the trial and "approved" the verdict against the Chinese Nationalists. The trial was said to have been held in Haiming, Chekiang province, on Jan. 3.

COURT HOLDS UP DEPORTATION OF ALIEN RACKETEER

Orders New Hearing Because Attorney General's Remarks Were Prejudicial.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 — The United States Court of Appeals yesterday set aside the order to deport racketeer Joseph Accardi because an announcement by the Attorney General was prejudicial to him.

The 2-to-1 opinion is expected to have far-reaching repercussions in the Government's attempt to get rid of undesirable aliens. The reversal stems from the October 1952 announcement by then Attorney General James P. McGranery. He said he was moving to deport about 100 undesirables, including such persons as Accardi and Frank Costello. Costello is a naturalized citizen.

On April 3, 1953, the Board of Immigration Appeals upheld the deportation of Accardi. The same day Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. called Accardi "a New Jersey racketeer" against whom deportation proceedings were pending.

Last March 15 the Supreme Court ordered the case taken back to the United States district court to give Accardi a chance to prove his charge that the Attorney General "dictated the board's decision."

Judge John F. X. McGohey, of the district court, held a hearing last June 23, when members of the Immigration Appeals Board testified. They said that although they were aware that Accardi was on the Attorney General's deportation list, they were not influenced by that fact. Judge McGohey ruled he must be deported on the board's testimony.

Yesterday's decision was a reversal of Judge McGohey's finding. Judge Jerome N. Frank wrote: "But it is incredible, human nature being what it normally is, that the Attorney General's statements—as interpreted by the Supreme Court—did not unconsciously influence the board members so that they felt obliged not to exercise their discretion and, without doing so, to decide against Accardi. Any other finding involves reliance on so remarkable a degree of improbability as to be untenable."

"We conclude therefore," Judge Frank said, "that the board members in deciding against Accardi's application for such discretionary relief—suspension of deportation — were controlled by what amounted to an order from their superior so to decide."

The appeals court ruled that unless the board holds a new hearing and renders a new decision, the alien must be released from custody. He is free in $1000 bond. Judge Charles E. Clark wrote a concurring opinion, while Judge John M. Harlan, who has been designated for the Supreme Court, dissented. The Government is expected to appeal.

Stevenson's Ex-Wife Wins Round, Home Declared Club, Not Tavern

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Ellen Borden Stevenson has won one fight in her campaign to sell liquor in her former family home.

The divorced wife of the former Democratic presidential nominee, Adlai E. Stevenson, has been trying since last summer to get a liquor license for her "1020 Club" on fashionable Lake Shore drive. The city zoning board withheld permission after neighbors objected, saying the place would be a tavern, which is forbidden by zoning laws.

Yesterday the state's attorney's office, in an opinion by John C. Melaniphy, assistant corporation counsel, held Mrs. Stevenson's establishment is indeed a club, and not a tavern. Mrs. Stevenson said her place has a limited membership confined to writers, poets and painters. If the board approves Melaniphy's opinion, the way will be cleared for issuance of the license.

HIGHEST BIDDER WINS CONTRACT ON U.S.-FINANCED PROJECT ABROAD

California Firm More Than 50 Pct. Above Low Bid From Missouri — Symington Protests to Stassen.

By EDWARD F. WOODS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8—The Foreign Operations Administration is negotiating a contract for construction of grain storage facilities in Pakistan with a California firm whose bid was more than $982,000 higher than the lowest bid submitted by a Kansas City firm and the highest of five quotations on the project, it was disclosed today.

Senator Stuart Symington (Dem.), Missouri, today demanded that Harold E. Stassen, FOA director, make public the reasons for "this unusual procedure," asserting that "this action is contrary to accepted good business practice and also would seem to be a waste of the taxpayers' money."

Strong protests also were lodged with Stassen by officers of the Columbian Steel Tank Co. and the Butler Manufacturing Co., both of Kansas City. Columbian submitted the lowest bid, the Butler company second lowest.

Range of Bids.

The contract, according to Stassen, is being negotiated with the Agricultural Construction Co., of Los Angeles, which bid $2,430,980.05 for the construction of three 10,000-ton grain storage elevators in Pakistan under the FOA technical aid program.

The Columbian company bid $1,448,923.30 and the Butler company $1,746,566.

Five companies participated in the bidding at Karachi, Pakistan, last August. The records show that the Agricultural Construction Co. bid was the highest.

Senator Symington, of St. Louis, has been making persistent efforts since Monday by letter and telephone to Stassen and other FOA officials to obtain an explanation of why the lower bids were rejected.

Stassen's Reply.

Stassen replied to Symington by letter Thursday that:

"The Pakistan government, the U.S.A. operations mission to Pakistan and a consulting engineer, after reviewing all the bids, recommended that a contract be negotiated with the Agricultural Construction Co. Unless there are over-riding considerations, I have made it a practice to follow the recommendations of the missions and host governments.

"I have personally reviewed this case and see no over-riding reasons for not following the recommendations of the mission and the participating government in this instance, particularly when we are anxious to get these grain storage plants erected as quickly as possible."

Stassen added that he could appreciate the disappointment of the other firms and that FOA would be "pleased" to give them opportunities to bid on future projects.

Kansas City Protests.

Declining to accept this as an adequate explanation, Symington disclosed today that he has been "investigating this matter" after receiving protests from Kansas City bankers and business men.

Symington said the highest bidder, Agricultural Construction Co. of Los Angeles, "was not incorporated when the bids were opened at Karachi, Pakistan, Aug. 23. It was incorporated in September 1954."

"These bids are a matter of public record," Symington continued. "After they were opened,

RUSSIANS FREE TWO AMERICANS HELD FOR YEARS IN RED CAPTIVITY

Pvt. William Marchuk, Missing Since 1949, and John Noble, Prisoner Since War, Released in Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 8 (AP)—Two Americans were released by the Russians today after years of captivity in a Soviet labor camp. They were described by United States officials as being in remarkably good physical condition.

The two men handed over by the Russians in Berlin are Pvt. William Marchuk, 38 years old, of Norristown, Pa., and John H. Noble, 31, of Detroit.

Marchuk, listed as absent without leave since 1949, was taken into Army custody. Noble, a civilian, trapped by the war, was turned over to the United States state department.

Both had been in the Soviet Union's most notorious Siberian slave labor camp, Vorkuta.

American authorities said that although both men appeared to be in good health that they will be given an extensive physical examination in the Army hospital here.

Being Questioned.

In the meantime, they are being questioned by intelligence authorities.

Noble, a slightly built man, was cheerful as he arrived at the headquarters of the United States Army's provost marshal. He told United States consul Norman K. Pratt that he was "delighted" to co-operate with any interrogators and he added:

"I have a lot to tell."

Marchuk, still wearing the little dark moustache he affected as a soldier in West Berlin, maintained silence.

Army officers who picked up Marchuk at Soviet headquarters in Karlshorst, in East Berlin, said the former soldier asked for an American cigarette. He told them it was his first in nearly six years. Then he said nothing more.

Army officers said Marchuk may face court-martial.

Wear Good Clothes.

Both men were especially outfitted by the Russians in medium quality woolen suits and overcoats, gray hats and black shoes. Marchuk carried a small suitcase but Noble was empty handed.

The Russians signed the papers of release and the men were brought to West Berlin in the cavalcade of United States Army and State Department automobiles.

Marchuk had been missing since February 1949 when he crossed the frontier in Germany with a buddy, Pvt. William Verdine, of Starks, La.

Noble was arrested, with his father, in Dresden when Russian forces stormed into a collapsing Germany. The elder Noble, a camera manufacturer, had come to Germany in 1938 and was trapped by the war. He was released in 1952 after seven years in Soviet zone jails.

Liberated German and Austrian prisoners reported seeing Marchuk, Verdine and Noble in Russian work camps. The Soviet Foreign Office, in agreeing to free Marchuk and Noble, told the United States Embassy in Moscow, however, that it had no knowledge of Verdine.

Russia disclosed that it planned to free the two Americans in a note delivered to the American Embassy in Moscow Dec. 31. The United States had demanded the freedom of the men in eight official queries but, until the Russian note came, it had received no information on their whereabouts.

Austrian prisoners recently released by the Soviets reported Verdine was suffering from tuberculosis. They said he was too ill to be moved.

Sister Thinks Russian-Speaking Marchuk Was Intelligence Agent.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 8 (AP)—"It's the most wonderful Christmas present we've ever had," said Mrs. Elmer Clemson today when informed her brother, Pvt. William T. Marchuk, had been released by the Russians after two years in captivity.

Mrs. Clemson spoke for her mother and father at their Norristown home. She said she was certain her brother was connected with a military intelligence unit of the Army and that he had been picked up in the Soviet zone of Germany while on an assignment. "He speaks Russian, you know," she said.

"I knew he was doing some special work because the FBI investigated him before he disappeared." Mrs. Clemson said. "I'm positive William is no deserter."

DENNIS PERRY at St. Louis County Hospital.

BOY, 4, RESCUED FROM BURNING HOUSE BY FATHER

Dennis Perry, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perry, was rescued from a burning house yesterday by his father after being overcome by smoke.

The boy had wandered into the house of a neighbor, Mrs. William Lohman, 6028 Brownleigh drive, Berkeley City, while she was visiting next door. After the fire started Mrs. Lohman ran to her back door and saw the boy collapsed on the kitchen floor. She was repelled by smoke.

She called the boy's father, who lives across the street at 6025 Brownleigh drive, and he carried his unconscious son out. The Berkeley City Fire Department revived him with a resuscitator. He was taken to St. Louis County Hospital for observation. His condition was termed satisfactory. Origin of the fire was not determined.

NINE CHILDREN SHARE $587 DUG UP BY STRAY DOG

LA PORTE, Ind., Jan. 8 (AP)—Nine youngsters had $65.22 apiece today as an indirect result of playing with a stray dog in a field near Rolling Prairie last May.

The dog dug up $587 in currency and the children turned it over to the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Frank E. Herrbach announced yesterday the money had not been claimed and the children should share it.

Checks were sent to Sheila Kay Smith, 2 years old, George Fultz, 3; Kay Fultz, 12; Ann Fultz, 11; Jill Fultz, 7; Robert Fultz, 9; Barry Blixt, 10; Robert Blixt, 6, and Donna Blixt, 11.

JAP FISHERIES ASK FOR $5,700,000 IN H-BOMB DAMAGES

TOKYO, Jan. 8 (AP) — Two Japanese fishing organizations have asked the Government for $5,700,000 in damages allegedly stemming from the United States H-bomb explosion March 1 at Bikini atoll.

The Japan Bonito and Tuna Fishing Industry Association and the fishermen's union expressed dissatisfaction with the $2,000,000 settlement accepted by Japan from the United States Tuesday.

They termed it "a gross diplomatic indiscretion" and asked for payment for their purported losses from the Government Treasury. They cited the national indemnities law as the basis of their claim.

The fishing industry dumped thousands of tons of radioactive fish after the H-bomb explosion. Japanese scientists since have said much of the dumped fish was fit to eat.

DEPUTY STAFF CHIEF JOINED IN FINAL DECISION, REPORT EXPLAINS

Wisconsin Senator Plans to Subpena Pentagon Officials — Zwicker Also Named in Chronology on Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Army said last night final approval of an honorable discharge for Maj. Irving Peress—an action opposed by Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin—came from Army counselor John G. Adams and Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, a deputy chief of staff.

The Army announcement sparked preparations by McCarthy for a new investigation of the case.

Adams and Weible made the final decision to discharge Peress, the Army said, because a review indicated "there existed no basis for reconsideration of the case" and that the discharge was the best and quickest way to remove him in the absence of evidence he had engaged in subversion on active duty.

In a 10,000-word chronology of the case, the Army noted, however, that the First Army Intelligence Division had reported nine months earlier it had "sufficient evidence of disloyal and subversive tendencies to warrant removal of Peress from the service."

Reference to Zwicker.

The Army reported also that Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, a frequent target of McCarthy in the Senator's initial study of the case, had several times urged Peress be discharged because his retention was "clearly not consistent with the interests of national security."

Zwicker was commander of Camp Kilmer, N.J., where Peress was stationed.

McCarthy called a meeting Monday of the Senate Investigations subcommittee and said he would demand new hearings, possibly Tuesday, with subpenas for some Army officials concerned. McCarthy said he is still acting as chairman of the committee until it is reorganized under Democratic control.

(Peress is the New York dentist whom McCarthy has called a "Fifth Amendment Communist" and who was discharged after he had refused to answer questions about Communist affiliations in an appearance before McCarthy's subcommittee.

Adams and Weible were among 62 persons named in the Army chronology as having had a part at one time or another in the promotion and discharge of Peress. Adams was the only civilian. Others ranged from warrant officers who signed papers to a four-star general, Charles L. Bolte, vice chief of staff, who approved an officers' board finding that Peress should be discharged.

Adams Declines Comment.

Adams declined to comment beyond saying "the chronology speaks for itself."

Efforts to reach Gen. Weible were unsuccessful.

(In New York, Peress told the United Press he "would like to read the report" and consult with his attorney before making any comment.)

(In Tokyo, a Twenty-fourth Division spokesman told International News Service Gen. Zwicker had no comment. He is now assistant commander of the division with headquarters in southern Japan.)

The chronology was released after a copy was furnished to Senator Leverett Saltonstall (Rep.), Massachusetts, who had asked Secretary of the Army Robert T. B. Stevens for it. Stevens said the full details were being made public because confidential handling of an earlier list of 30 names "has been misinterpreted in some places."

Before the document detailing the Peress case was given to reporters, Stevens took a draft of the chronology to Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson. The two men together with aids and assistants, spent practically the whole day putting the document into form for sending to Congress.

The Army chronology was reviewed by Wilson before it was made public but it was not submitted in advance to the White House, defense officials said. They added, however, that a check was made with the White House to make certain that nothing in the chronology conflicted with presidential orders governing release of certain information in security cases.

(The United Press said that congressional sources contended one reason for publication of th[illegible]

FRENCH PROPOSE ARMS POOL FOR EUROPEAN UNION

Suggest Agency to Order and Allocate Weapons—Little Support in Other Nations.

PARIS, Jan. 8 (AP)—The six nations to be linked with France in the new Western European Union studied today a new French plan to pool their arms in a combined defense against the threat of Communist aggression.

The plan was set forth in a memorandum from French Premier Mendes-France to the other prospective WEU members — West Germany, Britain, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The arms pool plan will be debated when delegates of the seven governments assemble here Jan. 17 under the recent Paris accords on West German rearmament.

Three Main Proposals.

There was no official announcement of the outline, but reliable French sources said it contained three main proposals.

1. Establishment of the proposed pool would be progressive rather than immediate. There would be a transitional period of two years before the pool took permanent shape.

2. The pool eventually would be managed by an international board acting if necessary by a two-thirds majority instead of by unanimity.

3. The international panel would have relatively wide powers to standardize West European armament under a co-ordinated purchasing program.

Mendes-France and his staff envisage it as a pool which would provide the supranational elements which the WEU needs for effective control of West Germany's military potential while mustering German manpower into western defense.

France hopes it will repair the damage done by French rejection of the European Defense Community.

Proposed Powers.

Planned as a sort of international Pentagon in charge of arming troops of the seven nations serving under WEU, the central international administration would have to:

1. Draft armament programs for member nations

Dancers' Soda-Drinking Sitdown Makes Reds Play Forbidden Jazz

The Chicago Daily News-Post-Dispatch Special Radio. Copyright, 1955.

ROME, Jan. 8—The swing-hungry teen-agers of Eastern Europe have devised an ingenious way of getting managers of Communist youth clubs to play the forbidden or "undesirable" music they want.

"When the band refuses to play boogie-woogie or sambas," a Polish jitterbug told Radio Free Europe, "we all start buying the drink at the bottom of the wine card, soda water."

Radio Free Europe turned this revolt of youth against the Red Poles this week. The American-sponsored Munich station boomed ridicule at the Communists for their ban on swing. Radio Warsaw surrendered.

While letting boogie-woogie remain unmentioned, the Warsaw station sweetly announced that samba is now innocent again because samba is a "Brazilian folk dance played in the name of friendship of nations."

The Polish jitterbug touched off the East-West duel during the holidays by revealing on the air how anti-Communist boys and girls turn themselves voluntarily into drinkless wallflowers. The "hooligans," as the kids outside the official ZMP, or Polish youth society, call themselves, switch from wine to charged water as soon as they get fed up on polkas and waltzes, which is early.

"The manager knows exactly what we mean, but he can't throw us out," he explained.

"The manager whispers to the bandleader, then the leader speaks to us. He says, 'Ladies and Gentlemen, until now we have been playing progressive music. Now let's hear some capitalistic music, just to see how repulsive it can be.'"

The teen-agers cheer and stamp. The bandleader, pleased that the lesson has been grasped, announces, "All right, here comes another nauseating example."

So the evening passes in "educational" enjoyment of music that is officially "loathsome."

DEMOCRATS LIST 20 ATTACK POINTS ON EISENHOWER'S 1955 PROGRAM

Party Headquarters Critique to Congressmen Names Proposals on Defense, Foreign Aid, Farms, Housing.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (UP)—Democratic members of Congress devoted special attention today to a memorandum from party headquarters suggesting 20 grounds on which President Eisenhower's 1955 congressional program might be attacked.

The memorandum, dated Jan. 6 and originally marked "confidential," was prepared the very day Mr. Eisenhower appealed in his State of the Union message for co-operation from the Democratic-controlled Congress on domestic matters.

It was distributed to all Democratic Senators and Representatives by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler.

Jolt for 'Harmony' Appeal.

The memorandum, a critique of congresional proposals outlined by the President in his message, was a severe jolt to the President's appeal for "harmony and good will" and for "unhesitating" co-operation in the Eighty-fourth Congress.

It raised questions or made criticisms of the President's proposals on defense, foreign aid, farm problems and public housing, among others.

It cited the President's statement that Russian strength is "steadily growing" and asked, in view of this, how the President could justify his proposed cuts in the size of the armed forces.

The memorandum also referred to the President's statement that "undue reliance on one weapon or preparation for only one kind of warfare simply invites an enemy to resort to another."

It then asked, "May not the planned cuts in United States Army manpower invite the Communists to resort to small land wars than can only be countered by troops?"

Cites Surrenders.

The memorandum said that in proposing less restrictions on foreign trade, "the real question is not the content of Mr. Eisenhower's recommendations but whether he will fight for them against G.O.P. opposition instead of surrendering as he did in 1954."

It said the same question might be raised about the President's proposal of 35,000 public housing units in each of the next two years.

"In 1953, after 83 per cent of the House G.O.P. had voted against and killed Ike's public housing program, the President refused to criticize the House action."

It asked also, "what happened to the extensive 'Marshall plan for Asia' program proposed by Messrs. Dulles and Stassen?"

The President said in his message the United States must assist friendly nations but didn't mention an Asia program by name.

It challenged the President's assertion that "an improved and strengthened security system is in effect throughout the government by asking: "Is the Ladejinsky case an example of this . . . ?"

This referred to Wolf Ladejinsky, ousted by the Department of Agriculture as an agriculture attache in Japan, but rehired with full security clearance by the Foreign Operations Administration.

Puts Farm Loss at Billion.

It also challenged the President's statement that the Administration farm program has worked well.

"Farm income dropped $700,000,000 in Ike's first year in office and dropped another $300,000,000 in the first half of 1954," the report said. "Farm prices have dropped 10½ per cent since Ike's inauguration."

It challenged also the President's statement that 1954 "was one of the most prosperous years in our history." The President was accused of failing to mention that "average monthly unemployment in 1954 was nearly 2,000,000 higher than in 1953."

The memorandum noted that the President said the Administration had sharply reduced federal expenditures, making possible a tax cut. But, it retorted, the G.O.P. still has not lived up to its promise to balance the budget.

The memorandum attacked also the President's proposal to increase postal rates.

Power Policy Attacked.

By the Associated Press.

The Administration's new federal-state-local partnership power policy which the President said is "producing good results" and bringing increasing numbers of applications for power development surveys came in for attention. The criticis said:

"Mere applications for power-site surveys will not generate a single kilowatt of power . . ."

The research staff also took issue with Eisenhower's remark that "continued vigilance will be maintained over our . . . national parks and forests, and the public lands." Citing the appointment of former Representative D'Ewart (Rep.), Montana, as special assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, it said D'Ewart was the author of "the most far-reaching bills to open public grazing and forest lands to private exploitation."

SOVIET ASSAILS IRAQ, RECALLS ITS DIPLOMATS

Moscow Says Baghdad Must Bear Responsibility for Breaking Off Relations.

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Russia announced today it is withdrawing its diplomatic mission from Iraq.

The Moscow radio said the Soviet charge d'affaires in Baghdad, I. M. Yakushin, delivered the following note today to the Iraqi government:

"In view of the unfriendly attitude toward the U.S.S.R. of the Iraqi government, as shown in the statement of the breaking off relations with the U.S.S.R., the Soviet government has adopted the decision to recall its diplomatic mission from Iraq.

"The Soviet government deems it necessary to state that the responsibility for these aforementioned acts is fully borne by the government of Iraq."

The new Soviet act brings to a close a series of diplomatic exchanges between Iraq and Russia which began in November.

On Nov. 6 the Iraqi told the Russians they planned to shut down their legation in Moscow for economy reasons. On Jan. 3 Iraq informed the Russians that in addition to closing the legation it also planned to discontinue, for the present, diplomatic relations with the U.S.S.R.

Yesterday the Russians replied, accusing the Iraq government of a desire to draw the Arab countries into an "aggressive bloc"headed by the United States and Britain.

The Soviet note did not say it was severing diplomatic relations for good.

CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION HEAD IN CAIRO ON FAIR TRIAL STUDY

CAIRO, Jan. 8 (UP)—Roger N. Baldwin, chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union, arrived today to investigate whether 10 Jews charged with spying and sabotage for Israel are getting a fair trial in an Egyptian court.

He said he will then go to Israel to make the same study of the cases of Arabs charged with espionage there.

"My organization is interested in seeing that the United Nations charter of human rights is respected everywhere," Baldwin said.

CONANT PARDONS THOUSANDS CONVICTED IN WEST GERMANY

BONN, Jan. 8 (AP)—United States High Commissioner Dr. James B. Conant granted full pardon yesterday to all persons convicted of certain minor offenses in United States military government courts prior to Jan. 1, 1950.

The action will affect several thousand persons found guilty of minor thefts, breach of curfew and anti-loitering laws as well as other occupation regulations. It will not affect convictions for war crimes or espionage.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES WIN RECOGNITION IN SCOTLAND

EDINBURGH, Jan. 8 (UP) — The Jehovah's Witnesses have won legal recognition as a church in Scotland after more than half a century of campaigning.

They lost a case against conscription of a minister, but Edinburgh's Court of Session, the high court of Scotland, defined the Witnesses as a denomination under the provisions of Britain's draft laws.

BABY'S HEART OUTSIDE BODY

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Jan. 8 (AP)—A boy was born at Muskogee General Hospital with his heart outside his body.

A hospital spokesman said yesterday the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Morrison underwent an hour's surgery to transfer the organ into the chest cavity. Mrs. Morrison, 16 years old, was reported in good condition by a spokesman who said the baby "was breathing evenly and its color is good but we're keeping our fingers crossed."

SAILOR, FIANCEE MARRIED AT LAST AFTER FIVE TRIES

BRISTOL, England, Jan. 8 (AP)—Jannie Van Rotterdam, 22 years old, and her seafaring sweetheart, Dirk Vlaanderen, 25, were married here yesterday, finally beating a jinx that wrecked the Dutch couple's wedding plans in five European ports.

For a year, the young woman has followed her fiance around Europe, waiting for a chance to get married between his voyages as master of the little coaster, Jakob Oorburg.

Each time he had to sail away before she had established the legally necessary residence.

Shortly before Christmas, the girl moved into the Y.W.C.A. here to await her fiance's scheduled return. Yesterday he pulled into Newcastle and boarded the first train to Britol. She was waiting for him and last minute formalities were quickly completed.

On Monday, the bridegroom sails again, and his bride returns to Holland. Next summer she plans to sign on as a stewardess on his ship.

"It's hard to believe we really are married at last," she said. "I've packed and unpacked my wedding dress so often I thought I'd never get a chance to wear it."

COLONEL CHARGED WITH MISUSE OF FUNDS, BRIBERY

TOKYO, Jan. 8 (UP) — The Far East Air Force today formally charged Col. Bishop P. Parrish, former base commander here, with misuse of funds and bribery.

Parrish, of Columbia, S.C., was relieved of command of the Tokyo base last July pending investigation of "irregularities" in his administration of a concession contract with the T. W. Tom Tailoring Co.

F.E.A.F. headquarters filed eight charges against Parrish and announced that he would be tried by a general court-martial of two brigadier generals and seven colonels. The eight specifications charge violation of four articles of the uniform code of military justice.

The charges include "conspiracy to misuse $2500 in United States public funds, conspiracy to sign and the signing of a false customs declaration, unlawful procurement of a loan of United States public funds, unlawful solicitation of a bribe, making false statements under oath on two occasions and conduct unbecoming an officer."

JOBS DECREASED BY 1,000,000 UNDER G.O.P., SAYS MORSE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 8 (AP)—Senator Wayne Morse (Ind.), Oregon, told 1300 Ohio CIO council delegates yesterday that there are 1,000,000 fewer jobs in America than there were when the Eisenhower Administration took over two years ago.

"Ike has been sold a bill of goods—the trickle-down theory," Morse asserted. "The job of politicians is to promote the general welfare of the people, not General Motors."

He declared that "the Eisenhower Administration has not done one single thing to implement the full employment act of 1946." He called it "an Administration of, by and for big business."

The economic turndown has cost the United States 14 billion dollars, Morse said, and added: "We are not out of the economic turndown yet."

He said statistics show that 1,500,000 workers exhausted unemployment compensation in the first 10 months of last year, compared with 620,000 in the same period of 1953. He said farm income declined 25 per cent from 1951 to 1953 and "probably will decline in 1955 for the fourth straight year."

AIRLINER FLIES FROM LONDON TO MONTREAL IN 11½ HOURS

MONTREAL, Jan. 8 (AP)—Trans-Canada Air Lines last night claimed a record of 11 hours and 27 minutes for a flight from London to Montreal, shaving 23 minutes off the old mark. The plane was a Super Constellation.

TCA said the previous mark was 11 hours and 50 minutes, also set by a TCA plane in June. A British Overseas Airways Corp. plane completed the trip in 11 hours and 56 minutes Wednesday.

MILK, POSTAL, RAIL LOBBYISTS TOP SPENDERS

House Clerk Also Lists Outgo of Veterans, Electric Firms, Labor and Farm Groups.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Lobbyists for milk producers, postal clerks and railroads were among the heaviest official spenders during the closing months of the Eighty-third Congress.

Legislative agents for veterans' groups, electric companies, labor organizations and organized farmers also were high on the list of big spenders compiled by the clerk of the House.

During the first nine months of 1954, which included the final two months of the Eighty-third Congress, the National Milk Producers' Federation, Washington, spent $181,496 "in connection with legislative interests." Of this total, the federation reported in a statement filed pursuant to the lobby laws, $44,594 was spent during the third calendar quarter of 1954.

The federation defined its legislative interests as "any legislation that may affect milk producers or the co-operatives through which they act together to process and market their milk."

Railroad Spending.

The Association of American Railroads spent $151,983 during the first nine months, including $27,519 during the third quarter.

The National Federation of Post Office Clerks listed $111,479 spent on legislative interests during the first nine months, $33,680 of it during the third quarter.

Other big spenders on the basis of their reports to Congress included these, with amounts spent during the nine months:

American Federation of Labor, $91,819; American Farm Bureau Federation, $83,867; American Legion, $60,099; American Medical Association, $28,571; American Petroleum Institute, $34,868; American Retail Federation, $31,337.

CIO Figure $90,161.

Congress of Industrial Organizations, $90,161; District Lodge No. 44, International Association of Machinists, Washington, $48,971; Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America (National Farmers' Union), $70,198; Stephen Fitzgerald and Co., New York, $73,591.

Friends Committee on National Legislation, $47,632; Iron Ore Lessors' Association, Inc., St. Paul, $34,928; Jewelry Industry Tax Committee, Inc., $30,751; Johns-Manville Corp., New York, $55,555; National Association of Electric Companies, $77,718; National Housing Conference, Washington, $58,758; National Rural Electric Co-operative Association, Washington, $44,687; National Tax Equality Association, Chicago, $28,423; National Wool Growers' Association, Salt Lake City, $34,843.

Nationwide Committee of Industry, Agriculture and Labor on Export-Import Policy, Washington, $70,346; the Prudential Insurance Co. of America, Newark, $36,945; Retired Officers' Association, Washington, $28,011; Silver Users' Association, Washington, $26,131; Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, $74,400; United States Savings and Loan League, Chicago, $45,467.

MENDES-FRANCE HAS WATER WITH MACARONI LUNCH

POSITANO, Italy, Jan. 8 (AP) — French Premier Mendes-France has switched from milk to water with his macaroni.

That news leaked out of the vacationing premier's hotel yesterday.

Mendes-France told reporters he came for a rest and has nothing whatsoever to say—on milk, wine or any other subject. But Paolo Sersale, mayor of this Gulf of Salerno resort, announced that the premier and his wife "had an extremely good lunch of tagliatelle"—a macaroni dish with milk and butter sauce.

"The premier drank water—no milk, no wine."

The premier and his wife are staying in this village of 2400 inhabitants for five days before going to Rome, where Mendes France will confer with Italian leaders.

HAMMARSKJOLD AND CHOU TALK FOR FIVE HOURS

Arrange Another Session for Monday on Issue of Release of American Airmen.

TOKYO, Jan. 8 (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai had their third and longest official meeting today since Hammarskjold came to Peiping to ask the Reds to free 11 American airmen jailed as spies and other U.N. prisoners.

A Peiping broadcast heard in Tokyo said they met for more than five hours—from 3 p.m. to 8:10 — and scheduled another meeting for Monday.

The Communist radio gave no hint whether they were making progress or were deadlocked over Hammarskjold's request, prompted by a resolution of the General Assembly.

Little Information.

The official Red radio still has not told its listeners the purpose of Hammarskjold's mission. It has reported the meetings, now totaling more than 12 hours, in briefest detail.

Said the broadcast:

"Present at the meeting this afternoon were Chang Han-fu, vice minister for foreign affairs; Chiao Kuan-hua, assistant minister for foreign affairs; Prof. Chou Keng-shen advisor to the ministry of foreign affairs; and Tung Yueh-chien, director of the department of international organizations and conferences of the ministry of foreign affairs.

"Also present were Ahmed S. Bokhari, under secretary of the United Nations; Per Lind of the executive office of the United Nations Secretary General, and Humphrey Waldock, professor of international law."

Hammarskjold had been reported planning to leave Peiping Sunday or early Monday. Apparently he changed his mind and decided to continue the talks.

By the United Press.

D. R. Mankekar, a Times of India editor on special assignment in Peiping for the United Press, said it was apparent the diplomatic sparring was over and that real negotiations began yesterday.

Mankekar said Hammarskjold put forth the United Nations' case at the first formal meeting Thursday, holding that Red China violated the Korean war prisoners agreement by refusing to repatriate the flyers, captured while in uniform.

Chinese Argument.

Chou was said to have set forth Red China's argument at Friday's meeting, alleging that the flyers were on an "espionage" mission when they were shot down and were not entitled to repatriation.

The U.N. argument is that the flyers' B-29 was downed in North Korea. Chou claims their plane crashed in the Manchurian sanctuary near Antung, where they were captured by peasants.

Mankekar reported the meetings are being conducted under the most pleasant circumstances. He said Hammarskjold, Chou and their advisers sip jasmine-flavored tea from fragile eggshell porcelain cups while conferring.

Every convenience is offered to Hammarskjold. He is driven from and to the Swedish Embassy in a black Soviet-made Zis, the Russian version of an American Cadillac, and other automobiles are made available to members of his mission.

PRAYERS AT MASS FOR POPE'S HEALTH ORDERED DROPPED

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 8 (AP) — Cardinal Micara Clemente, the Vatican's vicar general, today instructed priests celebrating mass to eliminate reference to the illness of Pope Pius XII in their prayers.

This canceled instructions issued last month and reflected the increased confidence of church authorities in the improvement of the 78-year-old Pope. Yesterday he walked unaided for nearly a half hour in the Vatican gardens.

The Pope plans to grant his first private audience since his collapse to French Premier Mendes France — probably Wednesday.

Russian Youths Told to Settle In Siberia and Rear Families

MOSCOW, Jan. 8 (AP)—Kicking off a government drive to send thousands of youths to till virgin lands in Siberia, Nikita Khrushchev told Soviet young people last night to settle and rear families for the good of the country.

The Russian Communist party boss told a youthful audience in Moscow's Bolshoi theater that the Soviet Union has a population of 200,000,000 but "if you add 100,000,000 more to this it still would not be enough."

The government hopes to bring previously untilled lands in central and northern Asia into production, particularly for grain to feed the population. A leader of Komsomol, the Communist youth league, said more than 3000 youths in Moscow alone had volunteered for such work.

"It is very good that youths are going to the virgin lands of our farflung territories," Khrushchev said, "because it is easier for them to settle in those conditions than for a big family.

"But you should remember that these lands are not to be left in a year or two. It is desirable that people settle there once and forever. For this it is necessary that they marry . . . a man who has a family is a good citizen."

The Communist party chief told the meeting that he was personally responsible for the Soviet Union's tax on bachelors and childless couples.

"I suggested to Comrade Stalin to work out and pass a law on bachelors and this law was drafted and approved," he said. "I think this is a correct law . . . we must think about the development of soiesty. That is why we should have in a family at least three children and bring them up well."

"We must think about tomorrow. We must think about our socialist society so that it will develop and then we shall be strong and the roots of our society will never be pulled out."

Khrushchev said it was not sufficient that Soviet agriculture bring millions of acres of virgin lands into production. This year, he said, "we are going to cultivate unproductive pasture lands for grain."

Premier Malenkov sat behind Khrushchev during the address.

Army Counselor JOHN G. ADAMS reading report on case of Maj. Irving Peress at his home in Washington last night.

ARMY SAYS ADAMS GAVE APPROVAL TO PERESS OUSTER

report now was a threat to Stevens that all military promotions might be held up because of Army "secrecy" on the case.

(Senator Charles E. Potter (Rep.), Michigan, who was a member of the Mundt committee, demanded this week that Stevens and Adams be fired.

Deny They Will Resign.

(Both Stevens and Adams denied reports yesterday that they would resign. But no other high official did. A White House spokesman had "no information" on whether a successor to Stevens was being sought. Secretary Wilson met with silence press requests for comment on the resignation reports. So did Wilson's top spokesmen.)

McCarthy said he would demand the subpena, possibly for appearance on Tuesday, of Stevens, Adams, Weible and Zwicker. The latter was questioned sharply by McCarthy at hearings early last year.

McCarthy said he wanted to know why Stevens "didn't give this information" (in the chronology) to the committee headed by Senator Karl E. Mundt (Rep.), South Dakota, which investigated the McCarthy-Army controversy last summer.

"What they have released now," McCarthy said, "is completely different from the list of names in the report they gave the investigations subcommittee, in which they listed 30 names.

"Adams was not on that list, and I'm not sure, Weible was."

(The United Press pointed out that in the Army-McCarthy hearing, Adams was not questioned in detail about the Peress case. Chairman Mundt tried to keep the investigating committee from going into that question in an effort to expedite the hearing.

(McCarthy did bring up the Peress promotion and discharge several times in his questioning of Stevens. Secretary Stevens replied that the Army inspector general was making a thorough study of the case and would report later.)

McCarthy told reporters that "a great deal of perjury apparently was committed" in the Mundt committee hearing.

Senator John L. McClellan (Dem.), Arkansas, who is to succeed McCarthy as chairman of the Senate Investigating subcommittee which inquired into the Peress case, commented that "it is strange that it has taken this long to disclose the facts, if these are the facts in the case."

In offering the new and detailed explanation of the Peress case, the Army took pains to defend Gen. Zwicker. It said Zwicker had urged, on several occasions, that Peress be discharged because his retention was "clearly not consistent with the interests of national security." Zwicker also opposed Peress's promotion to major, the report said.

Abuse of Zwicker Charged.

McCarthy's sharp questioning of Zwicker after Peress was discharged brought Army charges that McCarthy had mistreated the general, and was a major factor in bringing on the Army-McCarthy hearing.

By the United Press.

The record answered at length the question which has become a chant of McCarthy supporters: Who promoted Peress?

It said the doctor draft act and Defense Department directives required doctors and dentists to be given rank, hence pay, in line with their civilian experience and qualifications. Peress was one of 681 such persons considered for promotion or "reappointment" to a higher grade on the basis of "medical professional qualifications only."

He was approved for major on Oct. 23, 1953, by the adjutant general's office in Washington—two days after Zwicker at Camp Kilmer proposed to his superiors at First Army in New York that the dentist be ousted.

By Dec. 30, 1953, Weible had studied all field and headquarters studies of the case and passed to Bolte the recommendation for dismissal with irrevocable loss of commission.

MALENKOV'S 53RD BIRTHDAY PASSES UNNOTICED IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Jan. 8 (AP)—Premier Malenkov turned 53 today.

Soviet newspapers took no notice of the event. This is not unusual since it is the custom of the press here to make a big thing of birthdays of Soviet leaders only on such round-number occasions as the fiftieth, sixtieth, seventieth, and so on.

There has not been any mention, either, of the fact that the great Russian ballerina, Galina Ulanova, became 45 today.

FORMOSA LEGISLATIVE GROUP APPROVES PACT WITH U.S. ON DEFENSE

TAIPEH, Formosa, Jan. 8 (AP).

THE Foreign Affairs Committee of the Legislative Yuan (Parliament) today approved the mutual defense pact between Nationalist China and the United States.

Ratification by the entire legislative body is expected next week.

The pact, signed in Washington Dec. 2, commits the United States to defense of Formosa and the nearby Pescadores islands.

AIRMAN, ADOPTED BABY IN NAPLES; DIAPERS DWINDLE

NAPLES, Italy, Jan. 8 (AP)—Homeward-bound Lt. Norman (Moose) Donahoe arrived here today from Athens with his adopted baby daughter, Roni Marie, under one arm and 32 disposable diapers in his dwindling supply.

Donahoe, who left his naval air station at Corpus Christi, Tex., last month for the 13,000-mile air hitchhiking trip to adopt a daughter in Greece, had 48 disposable diapers when he started out.

He had used 12 by the time he got 17-month-old Roni Marie on an Air Force C-47 bound for Naples from Athens this morning.

"Now we're down to 32," he said on arrival here, laden with luggage stuffed with tinned milk, baby food and baby bottles. "I wish I had four arms.

"My wife is waiting for us in New York—and at this rate we'd better get there fast," he said.

CHICAGO BIDDING FOR CONVENTIONS OF BOTH PARTIES

Offers Each $250,000 for Expenses—Democrats Set 1956 Conclave for Aug. 27.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Chicago representatives today pledged $250,000 to each political party for expenses if the Republican and Democratic 1956 presidential nominating conventions are held there.

Chicago was the convention site for both parties in 1952 but apparently will have to bid against Philadelphia and Atlantic City for the 1956 Republican meeting. Chicago bid $250,000 for the 1952 Democratic convention, and presumably the same amount for the G.O.P.

The bipartisan Chicago delegation met today with the Republican convention site subcommittee in a closed session to make its offer. Earlier its members conferred with Paul N. Butler, Democratic national chairman. The Democrats have not named a site committee.

Butler was reported to have commented that in view of rising costs the Democrats might want to raise the expense ante a little.

In the Chicago delegation were Illinois Senators Everett Dirksen (Rep.), and Paul H. Douglas (Dem.), and C. Wayland Brooks and Jacob M. Arvey, Republican and Democratic National Committee members from Illinois.

As a Republican national convention site subcommittee met in closed session to receive city invitations, its members and Chairman Leonard W. Hall expressed surprise that the Democrats had already picked a date for their convention without waiting for a location.

Butler announced last night that the Democrats had selected Monday, Aug. 27, the second latest date in party history, to start their 1956 national convention. This would leave a much shorter period for campaigning than in the past.

Democrats usually arrange their convention to follow the G.O.P. gathering. There was speculation that Democrats believe it is likely President Eisenhower will be renominated in 1956 and thus were willing to make their plans without regard to when the Republicans meet.

Both parties in recent years have opened their conventions in July.

BOND PROJECTS EXPECTED TO BE CUT $131,000,000 BY COMMITTEE

Screening of $231,789,650 Program Begins Next Week — Tax Rise for $100,000,000 Total May Be Avoided.

Civic leaders sharpened the axe today and prepared to chop more than $131,000,000 worth of projects from the list of public improvements suggested for inclusion in a bond issue program to modernize the city.

The Citizens' Bond Issue Screening Committee, assembling at Kiel Auditorium for its first meeting yesterday, received from Mayor Raymond A. Tucker a list of proposals that would cost $231,789,650 if all were carried out. In selecting the most urgently needed improvements, the committee is expected to reduce the list to a program of about $100,000,000.

Civic leaders have stated that it might be possible to finance a $100,000,000 bond issue without increasing the tax rate.

Sidney Maestre, general chairman of the citizens' committee, announced that the work of screening projects will get under way next week following appointment of subcommittees, each of which will study one category of proposed public improvements. The screening process is to be completed and recommendations are to be submitted to the executive committee by March 1.

Vote Planned in May.

Present plans call for submitting the bond issue program to the voters in May.

"This screening process is a difficult assignment, and there isn't much time in which to do it, but it impresses me as being a great civic challenge," Maestre told the group of St. Louisans who accepted invitations to serve on the committee. "The work of the members of the Citizens' Bond Issue Screening Committee will have a lasting effect on the St. Louis of the future.

"No one can question our city's need for public improvements. All you have to do to realize that need is to live here. We have waited too long already to build new hospitals and to enlarge and improve our parks and playgrounds system. Our street lighting has obvious deficiencies. Our streets and highways are not up to the traffic load they are called on to handle. There are many other noticeable deficiencies in our city's physical makeup.

"In other words, St. Louis is presently a city that is somewhat out of date. This bond issue can correct that condition. It can make St. Louis a modern American city equipped to cope with modern problems. It can make it a finer city for all of us to live and work in, and for our children to grow up in."

Maestre Advises Skepticism.

Mayor Tucker said the list of public works contains all the suggestions made by city officials, public agencies and civic groups, but the compilation does not mean every project is recommended by his administration.

He emphasized that the citizens' committee will have a free hand in drawing up the final program, and Maestre told the committee members:

"We should look at the proposals before us with an attitude of healthy skepticism. When we make our decisions on which public improvements are to become part of the bond issue program, we should keep always in mind what are the city's greatest needs."

Invitations to serve on the screening committee were sent last week to approximately 250 St. Louisans, and more than 200 already have accepted.

The need for decisive action to enable St. Louis to maintain its position as one of the country's leading cities was stressed by Aloys P. Kaufmann, president of the Chamber of Commerce;

Shaping Up City's Bond Issue Program

Some of the members of the Citizens Bond Issue Screening Committee listening to speakers explain the organization and function of the group and the importance of the work they will do. Papers they hold are reports outlining proposed projects for the bond issue.

Delmond Garst, regional director of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and John I. Rollings, executive secretary of the AFL Central Trades and Labor Union.

The bonded indebtedness of St. Louis now is $52,958,000. State law permits the city to issue bonds up to $165,220,313, but Maestre said his committee does not intend to increase the bonded debt to the maximum.

The door is still open for additional suggestions as to bond issue projects, he announced.

Projects proposed for consideration were classified in 21 categories as follows:

Expressways—$21,650,000. This total would cover the city's share of the cost of acquiring rights-of-way for the Daniel Boone, Mark Twain and Ozark Expressways and of constructing the Market street cut-off and the grade separation at Grand boulevard and Market. The municipal outlay would bring approximately $140,000,000 in state and federal funds for building the expressways.

Hospitals and public health—$17,650,000. This would include an $8,000,000 hospital to care for cases of chronic illness, a new administration building at Koch Hospital, improvements at the other municipal hospitals, two new health centers and an administration building to house all agencies of the Public Welfare Department.

Correctional institutions—$9,950,000. A new workhouse costing $5,000,000 and modernization of the jail are proposed. The boys' and girls' correctional institutions would be consolidated in a children's center providing a separate building for study of individual cases.

Parks and playgrounds—$35,396,650. This would finance new parklets, wading pools, tennis courts, handball courts and baseball diamonds, lights and other improvements.

Bridges and viaducts — $25,625,000. A new vehicular deck for MacArthur bridge, grade separations and a Loughborough avenue bridge over the River des Peres are included.

Street improvements — $32,360,000. Many streets would be widened, including portions of Jefferson, West Florissant, Vandeventer, Southwest, Newstead, Easton, Spring and Macklind avenues, Goodfellow, Forest Park, Grand and Union boulevards, South Broadway and Fourteenth, Gratiot and Chippewa streets.

Resurfacing streets and alleys —$5,000,000.

Traffic and street cleaning—$2,255,000. Additional traffic signals costing $1,000,000, a new traffic division building and new street-cleaning equipment are included.

Rubbish collection — $7,400,000. A new rubbish incinerator, a new garbage-grinding plant and 60 additional trucks are proposed.

Slum clearance — $20,700,000. This would provide a revolving fund to finance the city's contribution to residential, commercial and industrial redevelopment of nine areas, including Mill Creek Valley. Federal contributions would be double the municipal outlays.

Neighborhood rehabilitation—$5,000,000. The city would provide parks, playgrounds and street improvements to help 10 districts combat blight.

Public buildings and improvements—$9,763,000. Proposals include a City Hall annex, addition of another floor to the Municipal Courts building, air-conditioning for the courts buildings, City Hall, Soldiers' Memorial and small meeting rooms in Kiel Auditorium; equipment for microfilming city records and new elevators.

Cultural Center — $10,525,000. A planetarium, science museum, hall for concerts and meetings, specialized library and parking lot for 2000 automobiles are proposed for the Jefferson Memorial area in Forest Park.

Public library — $3,890,000. This would finance modernization of the central and branch libraries and construction of eight new branches.

City Art Museum—$2,300,000. An air-conditioned auditorium for 600 to 800 people, additional display quarters and work space, children's classrooms, elevators and a parking lot for 200 automobiles are proposed.

Fire protection and civil defense—$2,750,000. This would provide eight additional fire stations, a new firemen's training school, an up-to-date operations building for the fire and police telegraph systems, and a civil defense control center in a blast-resistant building at the Howard Bend pumping station near Chesterfield.

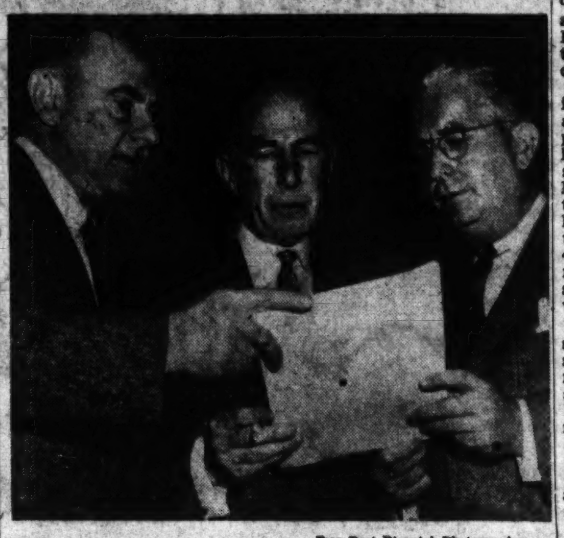

Election facilities—$4,000,000. A new headquarters for the Board of Election Commissioners is proposed. The city would buy 1670 voting machines.

Municipal docks — $7,500,000. Two docks are proposed to make St. Louis an inland world port; one dock would accommodate light-draft ocean steamers, the other would handle ocean barges.

Zoo—$2,175,000. Projects include a children's zoo and farmyard, a deer park, an aquatic house, enlargement of the chimpanzee show facilities, remodeling of the lion and elephant houses and other improvements.

Street lighting — $6,000,000. New standards affording better illumination would be erected on major streets, in shopping areas and at residential neighborhood intersections. (This is not the city-wide increase in candle-power of street lights suggested in recent public discussions; such a program would cost about $50,000,000.)

Accounting and auditing equipment—$500,000. This would provide machines to modernize the city's bookkeeping.

ALDERMANIC COMMITTEE TO HOLD PUBLIC HEARING ON AREA TRANSIT PLAN

A SPECIAL aldermanic committee will conduct a public hearing on the proposed establishment of a Metropolitan Transit District at 2 p.m. Friday at City Hall.

After hearing "parties on both sides," the committee is to report back to the Board of Aldermen, which yesterday adopted a resolution creating the special committee to hold the meeting.

The resolution said the aldermen had been asked many questions concerning the proposal, which will be submitted to voters of St. Louis and St. Louis county Jan. 25.

A.E.L. GARDNER DIES; LAWYER AND FORMER STATE SENATOR

Funeral services for former State Senator A. E. L. Gardner, active in Republican politics in St. Louis county for many years, were held yesterday at Oak Grove mausoleum, followed by entombment there. Mr. Gardner, 87 years old, died yesterday at his home, 619 North Clay avenue, Kirkwood, after a short illness.

A native of Ohio, he received his law degree at the University of Missouri and was admitted to the bar in 1891. He served in the Missouri House of Representatives from 1901 to 1905 and in the State Senate from 1905 to 1921. He was a former president of the St. Louis County Bar Association. Mr. Gardner, who had his law office in the St. Louis County National Bank Building in Clayton, retired last June.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Hiram F. Liggett of Clayton and Mrs. Herbert Hausman of Ellisville.

MAN IS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

Julius Clivio, a bartender, was in serious condition at Coun-ty Hospital from head injuries apparently suffered in a fall early today in a tavern where he is employed at 9709 St. Charles road, St. Louis county.

Clivio, 54 years old, was found unconscious by Ray Stewart, operator of the tavern, at the bottom of stairs leading to Stewart's second-floor living quarters. Clivio lives at 3904 Jane avenue, St. Louis county.

POLICE ARREST 117 DRIVERS IN DAY AS SPEEDERS

Traffic police in St. Louis arrested 117 speeders in the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. today in the police campaign against reckless driving.

It was the third straight day speeding arrests increased. Twenty-seven were caught during the 24 hours ending Thursday morning, a rainy period, and 72 arrests were made in the same period ending yesterday morning.

In addition to the speeding arrests made in the latest 24-hour period, the traffic squad reported 98 other "moving" violations.

Seven tickets charging illegal walking were issued by police in the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. today. A total of 77 careless walkers have been arrested so far this year compared with seven for the same period last year.

TRUCKER NAMED IN WARRANT IN COUNTY AUTO FATALITY

Clifford E. Hale, truck driver of Borger, Tex., was charged with manslaughter in the traffic death Thursday night of Walter R. Brown, Ferguson construction worker, in a warrant issued yesterday by Magistrate Raymond I. Harris at Clayton. Bond was fixed at $2500 and a preliminary hearing set for next Friday.

A verdict of homicide with recommendation for prosecution was returned earlier at an inquest into the accident at Ladue road and Lindbergh boulevard, Creve Coeur, where Brown's wife and two infant children were seriously injured as the Brown car was struck by a tractor-trailer driven by Hale.

Norbert Mueller, living on Craig road in Creve Coeur, testified Brown, eastbound in Ladue road, was making a left turn into Lindbergh with the automatic light in his favor when the southbound tractor struck his car. Mueller said he did not see the truck swerve or slacken speed. Hale did not testify at the inquest. The tractor-trailer was owned by the Panhandle Pipe and Supply Co. of Borger.

WIDOW OF VICTIM OF AUTO PLUNGE FROM BRIDGE SUES

Mrs. Mary Stamps, widow of Harry A. Stamps, who was killed when his automobile plunged off the Eads Bridge Dec. 4, yesterday filed suit for $40,000 against the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis in circuit court.

The suit charged the association with negligence and carelessness in not maintaining an adequate guard rail on the bridge. It termed as "flimsy and insubstantial" the temporary rail erected after another motorist was killed in a similar accident Nov. 16.

The suit also alleged that the curbing was improperly lighted and that the association permitted the surface of the bridge to be "rough and irregular," thus allowing automobiles to slip and slide. Mrs. Stamps, the mother of 14 children, lives near Granite City.

51 Dead in Philippines Storm.

MANILA, Jan. 8 (AP)—The number of dead in the storm which swept the southern Philippines this week rose to 51 today, the Philippine National Red Cross reported.

SIX MEN CAUGHT AT OR NEAR STORE BURGLARY SCENES

Police Found Them Either in or Running Away From Businesses.

Six men were arrested early today by police who reported either finding them inside stores where entry had been forced or running along the street near where windows had been smashed and merchandise or other property taken. All were booked suspected of burglary and larceny.

Two men who said they were Jerry Reed and Robert Gilbert, both of the 1600 block of Baugh avenue, East St. Louis, were arrested in a tavern at 4873 Goodfellow boulevard by police called by neighbors who heard a rear door being forced open. Police said the men told them they needed room rent and decided on a burglary to get it.

Walter Francis, Negro, living in the 3000 block of Lambdin avenue, was arrested by two policemen in a scout car who had stopped to question a group standing on Whittier street near Easton avenue. While talking to the group, police said, they heard a window broken at Central Furniture & Clothing Store, 4153 Easton, and saw Francis run away carrying clothing. He stopped when police fired one warning shot and one at him.

Police en route to a window smashing at a women's clothing store at 1723 Franklin avenue reported they saw George Johnson, Negro, living in the 1200 block of North Eleventh street, run from an alley near the store. They said he ran back into the alley when he saw the squad car. Police chased and arrested him, and said he admitted breaking the window and showed them where he had discarded a dress and window dummy from the store.

Benjamin Roston, Negro, living in the 1800 block of Coleman street, was arrested in the 2300 block of Pine street as he carried two small portable radios, police reported. Police said they chased him after they saw him break a window at a radio and television company at 2324 Olive street as they rode nearby in a scout car, and run away with the radios.

A beat patrolman reported seeing Simon Martin, Negro, run across a parking lot in the 1700 block of Market street and calling to him to halt. Martin stopped and threw 130 pennies to the ground, the officer said, and after being arrested admitted breaking glass in the door of a restaurant at 1720 Market street and taking them from the register. He said he had no home.

MRS. KELLERMANN NAMES HUMANE SOCIETY IN WILL

Mrs. Bessie Kellermann, vice president of the Humane Society of Missouri, who died Wednesday, left her estate—aside from specific bequests of $3000— to the society in a trust fund she had established in 1946.

No estimate of the value of the estate was made. The bequests of $1000 each were left to a sister-in-law and two cousins.

Mrs. Kellermann also directed the trustee of the estate to destroy all family portraits and pictures, explaining she was the last member of the immediate family and did not want them to fall into the hands of unappreciative persons.

FOUR SEEK RE-ELECTION IN EAST ST. LOUIS PRIMARY

Four of the five members of the present city administration of East St. Louis filed last night for re-election. Filings for the primary election on Feb. 15 will close next Tuesday.

Those filing for re-election included Mayor Alvin G. Fields, Finance Commissioner Dan Foley, Building Commissioner Robert Keeley and Police Commissioner Russell Beebe. Fire Commissioner Leonard O. Reinhardt resigned after being elected St. Clair county sheriff last November. In his place on the administration slate is Edgar Lehman, Reinhardt's predecessor as sheriff.

Others who have filed for the primary include Michael Gregowicz, a tavern operator; Charles Johnson, a chemical plant employe, and Eugene Mayer, district representative of the United Gas, Coke & Chemical Workers Union, for commissioners, two candidates have filed for police magistrate, Clinton Wright, a steel foundry clerk, and Harry J. Cassin, who operates a sporting goods store.

CHICAGO POLICE KILL LAST SURVIVOR OF 3-MAN GANG

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (AP) — A police detail last night shot to death the last surviving member of a three-man robbery gang. The two others were killed in a police trap five months ago.

Three robbery detail detectives said they spotted Andrew (Gus) Orfanos sitting in a parked car on the West Side. He was wanted in connection with three minor robberies.

The detectives said that when Orfanos was asked to identify himself he pulled a revolver and fired two shots, neither of which found their mark. The officers replied with a fusilade, hitting Orfanos 10 times.

The two other members of the gang, Chris Kanakes and George Manos, were cut down by machine-gun and pistol fire when they attempted to flee a police trap.

EX-POLICEMAN SHOT IN TAVERN, WIFE HELD

Shooting Occurs in Row Over Drinking, Work in Bar They Operate.

Robert William Burke, a policeman 17 years until he resigned a year ago, was shot and seriously wounded last night by his wife, Leora, in a tavern they operate at 1601 South Second street.

Burke, 41 years old, is in City Hospital with a bullet wound in the abdomen. Mrs. Burke, 32, was booked at Lynch street police station suspected of assault to kill.

Police quoted her as admitting she fired three shots with a .32-caliber revolver after a quarrel which began when he accused her of drinking too much while on duty and she replied that he didn't help her enough.

After more words Mrs. Burke, who had been seated in front of the bar, walked behind it and took the pistol from a drawer. She said she fired two shots in the floor and the third at her husband when he said: "You won't shoot me," and advanced toward her, police reported.

Several Negro customers departed rapidly when the shooting started. Those remaining gave similar accounts of the affray.

The Burke residence is at 1921A South Compton avenue. Burke joined the police department in 1937 and was promoted to corporal in 1947. He was stationed in the Carondelet district until 1952, when he was transferred to Lynch street.

MRS. IRVIN S. DE WOSKIN GETS DIVORCE, CARE OF CHILDREN

Mrs. Mary DeWoskin obtained a divorce yesterday from Irvin S. DeWoskin, president of Beltx Corp., 1110 Washington avenue, in the court of Circuit Judge Raymond E. LaDriere at Clayton. The decree was issued on her cross-bill after dismissal of a suit filed previously by DeWoskin.

She was given custody of their four minor children and $140 a week for their support, with DeWoskin to have right of temporary custody.

In a property settlement made a part of the decree, Mrs. DeWoskin is to receive title to the home at 1063 Purcell avenue, University City, a 1954 Chevrolet and $5454 annually for 11 years. DeWoskin agreed to keep $25,000 of life insurance in force with her as the beneficiary, and also two accident policies totaling $20,000. She testified that they were married July 25, 1937, and separated last April 6.

JOSEPH W. BECKERLE FILES FOR ALDERMAN NOMINATION

State Representative Joseph W. Beckerle of the Fifth St. Louis district filed yesterday for Democratic nomination for alderman in the Fourteenth ward in the city primary March 5. He was the first Democrat to file.

Beckerle, 33-year-old tavern operator, is serving his fourth consecutive term in the Legislature. He lives at 4164 Fairview avenue.

25 BROWNIES SING COMMERCIAL—AND STOKOWSKI LEADS

Twenty-five girls, members of a Brownie troop, were shy but highly pleased when a distinguished looking gentleman stopped and asked them to sing as they were waiting in the lobby of the Post-Dispatch to view a television show.

The girls responded prettily, and their enthusiasm mounted as the gentleman began waving his hands to conduct them with considerable flourish. He was enjoying himself thoroughly and chuckling. When the song was over he told the delighted girls their rendition was "very good, very good," then walked on.

The song? A singing commercial for a dairy.

The man? Maestro Leopold Stokowski.

FREDERICK B. EISEMAN QUITS AS OFFICER OF RICE-STIX

Frederick B. Eiseman, senior vice president of Rice-Stix, Inc., and a director of the board, announced his resignation yesterday by letter to members of the board.

At the same time the election of M. M. Clairmont, chairman of the board of Reliance Manufacturing Co. of New York, as a director of Rice-Stix was announced. Eiseman, who did not give a reason for his resignation, had earlier announced his intention to sell his stock to Reliance.

Last November the New York firm offered to purchase 75,000 shares of Rice-Stix stock and last Dec. 8 terminated its requests for tenders of common stock in the firm, one of the country's largest wholesale dry goods houses.

DILLON, U.S. ENVOY TO PARIS, FLIES HOME FOR 3 WEEKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UP)—C. Douglas Dillon, United States ambassador to France, arrived by plane today for a three-week visit to the United States.

Dillon, who was accompanied by his wife, said he would confer with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Jan. 17.

Answering a reporter's question, Dillon expressed his satisfaction over last week's vote in the French national assembly favorable to German rearmament.

CHARLES MACHACEK'S WILL BEING FOUGHT

Music Teacher Left $144,836 for Library—Six Claim He Was Unsound.

Suit contesting the will of Charles Machacek, who directed that his $144,836 estate be used for a new St. Louis Public Library branch, was on file today in circuit court.

Six persons claiming to be heirs at law filed the suit, alleging he was of unsound mind when he made his will May 10, 1951. Mr. Machacek, former piano and violin teacher, died Jan. 11, 1954, at his home, 1725 Oregon avenue.

The will contest was filed by William P. Wondracek, 3822 Pennsylvania avenue; Edmond Siroky, 789 Yale avenue; Mrs. Herman C. Dressel, 4101 Tholozan avenue; Mrs. Thomas J. Queeney, 3231 Oregon avenue; Mrs. Josephine M. Stevens, 1028 Bates street, and Alphonse C. Wondracek of Chicago.

They claim to have been related to Mr. Machacek through his aunt, Marie Elizabeth Wondracek, his mother's sister.

In his will, Mr. Machacek specifically noted that he was leaving nothing to relatives and said he wanted his estate, consisting chiefly of notes on real estate, used "to perpetuate the family name."

Neighbors of Mr. Machacek, who was 75 years old when he died, described him as a "miserly but kindly man," who lived meagerly, spending little for food and clothing. He would go around carrying a basket in which he would put bits of wood and old papers to heat his home.

PLEADS GUILTY OF PERJURY IN INCOME TAX INQUIRY

James Cologne of Collinsville pleaded guilty yesterday at Springfield, Ill., to an indictment charging him with perjury in an income tax investigation.

He was accused of giving false testimony to Internal Revenue service agents in denying he understated amounts he collected from pinball machines and juke boxes for his employer, Robert Young.

After accepting the plea of guilty, United States District Judge Charles G. Briggle deferred sentence pending further investigation, on recommendation of the United States Attorney.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Reader on the Comics

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Beetle Bailey: Terrific strip, very funny. Artist Mort Walker does more with a few simple lines than Mr. Godwin (Rusty Riley) does with his innumerable scratches.

Grin and Bear It: In a class by itself.

Out Our Way: Also humor in its highest form, but I'll have to admit it's sometimes too high for me.

Li'l Abner: One of the best ever.

Gordo: Outstanding art work and it has had some very fine satirical adventures.

Rip Kirby: The drawing is tops; story is too! Very classy strip.

Pogo: Good humorous strip with some fine art work. Takes brains to decode the satire, though.

Side Glances: Good cartoon all the way around.

Believe It or Not: No need to tell you of its value to the comic pages.

Mut Sawyer: Top-notch art work and the story is usually tops, too.

Rex Morgan: Fairly good art work, good plots, but too drawn-out.

Kerry Drake, Steve Roper: Two good detective stories, but not quite first class.

Blondie: Has a good name but only occasionally funny.

Joe Palooka: Also has a good name but very punky. Poor drawing, lousy stories, strips for idiots and pseudo-patriots.

The Girls: Second class but is fairly funny; uses old stuff, though.

Sister: Occasionally provides a slight laugh.

Nancy: Terrible.

Elsworth: Better than most of these throw-ins.

Grandma: Rates with Elsworth.

Jackson Twins: Shows some originality but still terrible.

Heart of Juliet Jones: Sickening; very amateur.

Room and Board: Can't figure this thing out.

Henry, Herman and D. Duck: Unnecessarily printed although Herman is better than many of the above strips.

Mandrake: Poor drawing but very original; big weakness is the ease in which Mr. M. gets out of a mess by simply hypnotizing everybody in sight.

Rusty Riley: Dead drawings and dead strip; should be buried immediately.

Dixie Dugan: Very low class; always has a happy ending; a woman's story.

The Post-Dispatch has good comics, on the whole, but there are so many better strips available that the paper should do all it can to obtain some of these and keep the comics on par with the rest of the paper. C. K.

Warning Note

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

"Setback for St. Louis."

Unless the St. Louis Board of Aldermen gets behind one of the best Mayors this city has ever had, you will see a Republican procession moving grandly forward in harmonious columns to take over where this board failed.

NOEL PRIMM.

Still in the Directory

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I was much amazed to find the other day that the United States Food and Drug Administration still had a listing in our telephone directory.

Like thousands of other St. Louisans I supposed it had gone out of existence, judging from the way our food manufacturers seem to get away with things these days.

Last summer I stupidly left a quart of ice cream made by one of our leading dairies out in the sun on one of those blazing days when the temperature climbed to 114 degrees. On second thought maybe I wasn't so stupid as I did not eat the "ice cream" which ended up as the strangest glutinous mass you ever saw. It never melted!

During our recent warm spell the milk took a beating and it took the longest time to sour. It was amazing. Then it turned to some strange chemicals, not the old sour milk or clabber of old.

Take our bread—well, you take it or let the so-called Pure Food and Drug Administration take it and throw it away. Wonder if there are any others who feel the way the undersigned does? T. C. LINK.

Sold as a Patron

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Here's a little more about junk advertising mail.

Advertising, in its simplest form, is communication. Until recently exposure to advertising was something of a matter of personal choice. For instance, if you bought a newspaper or a magazine you made a choice—you paid the fiddler—and any advertising that reached you was a direct result of your purchase. The same goes for radio and TV programs.

But today any advertiser (or pressure group or political party?) can for the price of a stamp use the U.S. Postal Service as a company of private circular carriers.

If a farmer wants to lease the side of his barn to an advertising firm for the purpose of painting a sign thereon, that's his business. He owns the barn. But the Post Office Department does not own me.

Yet somehow today the Post Office Department has "sold" me as a "Postal Patron" for a cent and a half to any advertiser who wishes to stuff an advertising circular (unwanted by me) into my mailbox. Do I have no choice? No recourse?

UNCAPTIVATED CAPTIVE.

No Place for Politics

Efforts to inject politics into the St. Louis county police plan are flatly contrary to what the people voted for—a non-political police force.

Chairman Norman C. Parker of St. Louis county's Republican Central Commitee, for one, seems to have completely forgotten the reason behind the overwhelmingly favorable vote to create a County Police Department.

If he would refer to his files he might find a copy of a pamphlet mailed last fall to every citizen in the county. It urged a favorable vote for the proposed Police Department, and in question-and-answer form it set out to show just why. Here is a sample:

Ques. What is the purpose of proposed Amendment No. 1 to the County Charter establishing a County Police Department?

Ans. The primary purpose of the amendment is to remove police from politics, thus improving the quality of law enforcement in St. Louis county.

Ques. Will the proposed department be nonpolitical?

Ans. Definitely. Most of the chief features of the proposed amendment are designed specifically to make county law enforcement free from partisan politics. POLICE AND POLITICS JUST DON'T MIX.

And whose name appears on that same pamphlet as one of the indorsers of the proposal? You guessed it: Norman Parker. Surely he is not the same man who has now persuaded the Republican majority on the County Council to delay approving the Police Board nominated by Supervisor Matthews.

Mr. Parker is peeved. He thinks Mr. Matthews should have consulted the G.O.P. Central Committee and bargained for a group of Republican Police Board candidates "mutually acceptable." Judging from some of the Republican committee's suggested nominees, it is a good thing that Mr. Matthews stayed away from Mr. Parker and the committee.

As a matter of fact, the Supervisor has scrupulously tried to keep the politicians at arm's length in this matter. He selected the Board from a panel of 10 names submitted to him by a six-man screening committee headed by Robert E. Blake, former president of the St. Louis Crime Commission.

Mr. Matthews was not required to set up this screening committee. Had he wished, he could have obtained the names of three G.O.P. hacks from the obliging Mr. Parker, and then appointed them along with two mine-run Democrats. That would have suited Mr. Parker fine.

Fortunately Supervisor Matthews employed the screening committee. The result is a first-class Board. The three Republicans are Arthur B. Baer, president of Stix, Baer & Fuller Co.; Clark R. Gamble, president of Brown Shoe Co., and Walter L. Metcalfe, attorney and former Council chairman in University City. The Democrats are Irving Edison, executive vice president of Edison Brothers Stores, Inc. and Theodore A. Kienstra, head of a supply firm bearing his name.

The four Republican councilmen will make a serious mistake if they aid Mr. Parker's cheap attempt to inject partisan politics into the selection of this first Police Board.

Any unnecessary delay in acting on the Police Board nominees will be construed as just that by the voters.

Junior?

Just cannot get used to it. He has been the Vice President. For years Majority Leader in the United States Senate. A champion of much important legislation, an oratorical iron man and story-teller extraordinary. Sometimes controversial, always beloved and generally in plain public view during most of his 77 years. And now, returning to the Senate where he spent so many fine years, he is called the junior Senator from Kentucky. We grant that there is a senior Senator from Kentucky, Earle C. Clements by name, but on the day some Senator refers to Alben W. Barkley as "the distinguished junior Senator," may the Senate fall flat on its dignity.

Juggernauts on the Highway

A huge tractor-trailer with a load of pipe that made its gross weight 26 tons approached the traffic lights at Ladue road and Lindbergh boulevard from the south last Thursday night as an automobile was nearing the signals from the east. A minute or so later the driver of the automobile was fatally injured, his wife and two children were seriously hurt and the tractor-trailer driver was trying to stop his vehicle as it continued for several hundred feet past the intersection.

The Missouri Highway Patrol reports this is what happened: The tractor-trailer driver, according to his own story, saw the automatic light change to red as he approached the intersection. He tried to stop but failed. The automobile driver, with the signal in his favor, was proceeding through the intersection. The tractor-trailer, with a weight about 25 times greater than that of the automobile, struck the car and the driver was hurled 50 feet through the air.

If these are the facts, and there is no reason to doubt the Highway Patrol report, this is the type of accident that makes many persons feel that such multi-wheeled juggernauts should be more strictly controlled in the interest of safety or their cargoes broken into smaller and safer truckloads—or handled by the railroads.

Easy Victory for Filibuster

Along with a change in Senate rules pertaining to investigations, a change in the rule which permits easy filibusters is long overdue. The decision of Northern Democrats not to fight for such a change at this session can only be regretted. By this decision, Southern Democrats who have long used the power of filibuster to prevent consideration of civil rights legislation won another battle without firing even a whiff of grape.

The man who ran up the white flag appears to have been none other than Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, once a red-hot backer of a new cloture rule. According to Marquis Childs's account, he led the opposition, in the Democratic caucus, to Senator Lehman's stock resolution for a change in the rules. All in the name of party unity, he pleaded against reviving the old dispute.

"Why should we do this," he said, "just to please these civil liberties groups?" To which these civil liberties groups might well reply: "What has become of the sacred principles of legislative responsibility which Senator Humphrey used to swear by?"

In fairness, it must be acknowledged that the best chance in years for a change in the cloture rule came in 1953, and that this chance was lost not by Democratic but by Republican votes.

With a Republican Senate coming into office on the wave of Eisenhower popularity, and with President Eisenhower having promised before election to support an anti-filibuster rule, there was a golden opportunity to combine Republican and Northern Democratic strength against the filibuster. But President Eisenhower stood aloof from the struggle, the late Senator Taft combined the Republicans with the Southerners rather than the Northern Democrats, and the filibuster triumphed once more.

After this experience it is understandable that the Northern Democrats do not care to dash themselves against the bum saw in a losing cause. But some day the principle of the filibuster will have to be decided on its merits. When it is, it will have to be decided in favor of a reasonable cloture rule.

Record in the Peress Case

Close on the heels of the announcement by Senator Daniel of Texas that he and a group of other Senators would move for a new investigation of the Irving Peress case, the Department of the Army has made public a 10,000-word chronology of the promotion and discharge of the New York dentist who invoked his constitutional privilege not to answer questions on Army forms about Communist affiliation.

The record shows that Brig. Gen. Zwicker, who became the center of the Peress controversy through the attack on him by Senator McCarthy, opposed the promotion. This would seem to clear the combat soldier who was told by the Wisconsin Republican that he was "not fit to wear the uniform."

If Gen. Zwicker was not responsible for the promotion of a man who invoked the protection against possible self-incrimination, then who was?

The Army answers that the final responsibility rested on Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, a deputy Chief of Staff, and John G. Adams, counsel for the Department of the Army. The promotion, the Army says, went through because on final review "there existed no basis for a reconsideration of the case." Under then existing Army regulations the promotion was automatic because of Peress's professional training as a dentist and his experience. The honorable discharge was the quickest way to get him out of the service.

Altogether 62 men are named as participating in the Peress case, the only civilian being Army Counselor Adams. The highest ranking officer listed is four-star Gen. Charles L. Bolte, Vice Chief of Staff, who approved the finding of an officers' board that Maj. Peress should be discharged.

If there was any plot to advance a man who invoked the Fifth Amendment, it is not evident in the record. What the chronology does show is that the Army bureaucracy is so large and so slow-moving that one section did not know what another was doing. It also shows that the Army had the case under review before Senator McCarthy made it a public issue.

Since the explosion a year ago, President Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense Wilson have both said that the procedures needed correction. Accordingly they have been changed. Two things can still be clarified. First, whether Irving Peress did anything harmful to the interests of the United States while on dental duty in an Army hospital. Second, why it took the Army so long to release the detailed chronology.

The Bus Riders Heard From

Bus riders have the deepest interest in the city-county transit election on Jan. 25, and so it is natural for them to be first aboard the proposal for a Metropolitan Transit District. A new Bus Riders Committee for the Transit Plan has been formed to work for a Yes vote.

Keith Brownell, committee chairman, who practices law in the city and lives in the county, has invited several hundred community leaders to share in this campaign. Here is a public effort led, not by public officials, but by private citizens. And there are two reasons for this.

One is the mixed and sometimes apathetic official reaction to the transit plan. Mayor Tucker and County Supervisor Matthews oppose it. Many of the city aldermen have not made up their minds though several have now promised support. The St. Louis County Council has become the first major official body to support the proposal, by a 5-to-2 vote.

The whole history of the current transit proposal, however, has been outside official channels. The movement for the board of freeholders was begun by popular petition. The freeholders represented the public and not government. Hence the new Bus Riders Committee is going to the people rather than to the officials. The people, after all, will decide the question.

Not Waiting for U.S. of Europe

Europeans can co-operate. Just now West Germany and Italy are discussing a plan to have Italian workers replace German workers called to arms under the pending Western European Union agreements. This would avoid a manpower shortage in Germany's now booming industries, and it would lighten to some extent Italy's millstone of unemployment.

The proposal is far from mature. Thought must be given to the large number of Italian Communists—both because of their probable opposition to the plan in parliament and the possibility of seeding agents among the workers going North. Also the basic agreements are still to be brought into force.

It is hopeful nevertheless to encounter an admission of Europe's interdependence and the desire to do something practical—even if a constitutional United States of Europe, with all its preceding problems of sovereignty, may be far in the future.

Mr. Skinker's Alternatives

The confusion in City Hall over the fluoridation program might have been held to a minimum—and perhaps avoided altogether—if Water Commissioner Thomas J. Skinker were even slightly sympathetic to the program.

Unfortunately that is not the case. Mr. Skinker in fact has been one of fluoridation's most powerful opponents in St. Louis by virtue of his official position. And in defiance of the City Administration he is supposed to have been serving, he has employed every trick to publicly propagate his opinion, including the dissemination of anti-fluoridation propaganda in water bills.

Mr. Skinker is entitled to his opinion. But so long as he chooses to remain in his protected, merit-system city job, he should do his utmost to carry out the policies of the current City Administration. Fluoridation not only is a Tucker Administration policy; it is public policy as established by the people's representatives in the Board of Aldermen.

If Mr. Skinker wants to oppose Mayor Tucker and the Board of Aldermen, that is his privilege. But to exercise it he should resign from his city post. If he chooses to keep his job, then let him carry out the orders of his superiors.

As the Granary Spills Over

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Government-held surplus of farm products expands by 2½ billion in year and will grow further despite moderate lowering of price supports, says Iowa paper; urges direct income payments to farmers, greater aids to consumption as a better farm policy.

An Editorial in The Des Moines Register.

The United States Government has nearly 7 billion dollars invested in farm products stored under price support programs. A year ago, the figure was around 4.5 billion dollars.

These are shocking figures. They raise serious questions about the soundness of present farm income stabilization programs. Government holdings are equivalent to more than one fifth of the total cash income of American agriculture this year. This does not mean that one fifth of farmers' income is from the Government. We make this comparison only to indicate the size of the surplus, which has been built up over a period of years.

The seven-billion-dollar total includes about two and a half billion dollars in loans advanced to farmers on storage crops. The rest is made up of commodities owned outright by the Deparment of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation. This total inventory is valued at the support prices paid in acquiring it. Actually, the market value today would be considerably less than 7 billion dollars if the stuff were to be released.

The size of this farm commodity surplus dramatizes the need for radical changes in farm policy.

Strategic Reserves Also Large

The action of the last Congress in moderately lowering some price guarantees will barely touch the problem. The accumulation of farm commodities is continuing and will continue during the year.

Ideas have changed in recent years on how large farm commodity reserves should be. Bigger carryovers have been found to be worthwhile as protection against drouth. In a time of world crisis, obviously the nation requires sizable amounts of storable food and fiber crops on hand. Reserves of grain and cotton, for example, are as vital to national security as reserves of zinc, lead and tin.

It should be recognized that the Government stockpile of non-farm strategic reserves also is very large. The Government has been spending about a billion dollars a year for the last four years to put strategic mineral reserves in the defense stockpile. Part of the CCC investment in farm reserves should be credited to strategic stockpiling.

However, it is obvious that some of the reserves are much larger than needed for this purpose. CCC holds enough wheat to satisfy domestic needs for a year and three months and enough cotton to last about a year.

Reserves of perishable food commodities cannot be defended on the basis of strategic stockpile necessity. The Government now holds nearly a half billion dollars' worth of butter and cheese, for example, which ought to be moving into consumption.

Surpluses and People in Need

Just removing price supports and letting farm income "go hang" is a solution few people would advocate. Farmers have taken severe losses in income already, because of the decrease in exports and because of somewhat lower consumer demand during the last year. Both political parties are agreed that the farmer is entitled to protection against declines in the general economy or by changes in the international situation.

It would be much more efficient, from the viewpoint of the general public which pays the taxes, if farmers' income supports were paid directly in cash, instead of in the form of price supports which pile up excessive surpluses.

The surpluses also should stir congressional thinking on possibilities of expanding consumption in the United States and abroad. The school lunch program has proved to be a workable method, with federal, state and local governments co-operating. This program could well be expanded, since it only reaches about 30 per cent of the school children at present. Other ideas for stimulating food consumption should be explored.

It is indefensible for the United States Government to accumulate surpluses so long as people are in need. And many people are, even in these prosperous times. Farm subsidies should be paid for increasing consumption—not for cutting production or for building excessive reserve stocks.

Sucker Lists for Editors

From the Pleasant Hill Times

The editors of small newspapers seem to constitute the nation's most gullible list of suckers.

Our mail is stuffed with letters, pamphlets, mimeographed copy, mats and photos from people who want to tell us what to print and how to think.

Nothing but the highest ideals govern the free riders. All their material is nobly inspired for the betterment of our readers' lives, honor and fortune, and only our native stupidity and lack of space prevent us from printing all of it—and losing all of our subscribers in the process.

We are reminded of this by a fortieth anniversary brochure celebrating the continuing devoted labors of E. Hofer & Sons' "Industrial News Review," Portland, Ore.

Since 1913, the Hofers have been blanketing the rural press with essays in behalf of "the essential well being of Our Country," as they demurely phrase it. It just so happens that the essential well-being of Our Country always coincides with the special interests of those industries — notably oil, power, railroads, shipping and stock exchanges —which pay the tab for the Hofers.

The Hofers' duplicating-machine product is the suggested editorial (no credit necessary, Mr. Editor; use it if you wish as though it were your own) which defends and glorifies the enterprises that underwrite the Hofer mission to underprivileged newspapers.

A substantial amount of this guff must get printed, or the "Industrial News Review" could not continue collecting from its clients. However, we have a low suspicion there may be only one winner in the game.

It is not the ink-stained chump who permits someone else to sell and collect for the space in his newspaper; not Uncle Sam, who must rule this a legitimate, tax-deductible business expense; not even the clients, who really ought to know the influence bought from a newspaper that would go for canned editorials isn't worth postage. The winner, by a T.K.O. of everybody in the ring, is E. Hofer & Sons.

Nice going boys—and it looks from here like you are good for another 40 years! They are still being born as fast as Barnum declared.

AUTOS, TOO?

From the Wall Street Journal.

The Parker pen people weren't surprised when they got an order recently from India for 3000 pen tops. In that country, it's a mark of caste distinction to carry fountain pens. But natives who can't afford the full pen buy just the tops.

Between Book Ends

Life in Russian Village

THE FIVE SEASONS, by Karl Eska. Translated by Robert Kee. (Viking Press, 344 pgs., $3.75.)

Milton Rugoff in the New York Herald Tribune.

"Karl Eska" is the pseudonym of an Austrian who spent the war years as a deportee in Soviet Central Asia and out of his experiences has written this novel of the corruption and injustice fostered by Communism in the Russian hinterland. Since he was in exile in the Turkmen Republic one would not normally expect him to be impartial, but his book bears out such testimony by other outsiders as Alexander Weissberg's "The Accused" and is, moreover, internally convincing. In adopting the form of the novel Eska may have given up non-fiction's claim to unadorned truth, but he has achieved an intimacy and intensity that might not otherwise be possible. It is indeed a point of the novel that documents may prove a system is achieving its goals even while its human components starve or survive only by thievery and cheating. Thus, this is another book about Communism whose ultimate significance is that the end does not justify the means.

The Sower

Doubtless for dramatic effect the author chooses a young Communist zealot, Ana, as his central character, and in the course of four seasons, and a fifth, famine, has her experience the bitter difference between the Communist dream and the Russian reality. Perhaps the main lesson the girl learns is that a plan on paper cannot in five years or even a generation transform customs and attitudes born of centuries of climate, soil and human frailty. When she volunteers to pick cotton on a communal desert farm—where the peasants still use camel's dung for fuel, bind their children's heads, and sell their daughters into marriage—she finds that the local officials milk the peasants, as they always have, that the peasants distrust the authorities and cheat them whenever they dare, as they always have, and that the peasants work the hardest and receive the least, as they always have.

In a half-baked attempt to correct injustice Ana tries to expose a cheating farm official and is treated as a foolish meddler by both officials and peasants; when her closest friend, Peter, flees from compulsory factory labor into the limbo of the besprisorni, the outcast children, she condemns him utterly; and she is more than once on the verge of denouncing her mother because the latter has become a party member and head of the local carpet weavers' league through connivance and the mouthing of party dogma. Eska no doubt intended Ana as an overweening and impractical idealist but he could hardly have planned to make her seem a heartless young prig.

The character of Ana is in fact less interesting and convincing than many of the scenes in which the action of the book takes place: in the tent of a peasant family, or among the besprisorni on their island hideout, or in a factory canteen when Peter's father, an old employe, dares to criticize the food. Although the result is not an entirely successful novel, "The Five Seasons" is none the less a remarkably interesting and revealing narrative.

Isherwood Doubles

THE BERLIN STORIES, by Christopher Isherwood. (New Directions, 376 pgs., $5.)

"The Berlin Stories" presents within a single cover two of Mr. Isherwood's previously published novels complete with a new preface. They are "The Last of Mr. Norris" and "Goodbye to Berlin," the latter being distinguished for the inclusion of the story "Sally Bowles" which became the basis for the stage play "I Am a Camera." "The Last of Mr. Norris" was first published in 1935.

CHRISTIAN CENTURY CALLS DR. GILL

Lindenwood Teacher and Preacher Named Associate Editor of Chicago Weekly.

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Rev. Dr. Theodore A. Gill, head of the department of religion at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, and interim preacher at Second Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, has been named associate editor of the Christian Century, Chicago.

Announcement of his new appointment was made in this week's issue of the Christian Century, undenominational weekly journal of religion. The Rev. Dr. Gill also became managing editor of The Pulpit, magazine for ministers published by the Christian Century.

Hand in All Departments.

An associate editor of the Christian Century, he is to have immediate responsibility for the book department and a hand in the work of all the others, the editorial announcement explained.

The Rev. Dr. Gill will spend two days a week at the Chicago publishing office, and will do some of his editorial work at home, he told the Post-Dispatch.

As editor of the magazine's book department he succeeds the Rev. Dr. Winfred Ernest Garrison, who becomes a contributing editor. The Rev. Dr. Garrison, who was born in St. Louis 80 years ago, has done the book reviews for the magazine for 30 years. He now is teaching full time in the philosophy department of the University of Houston, Tex., where he lives.

The Christian Century pays tribute to the Rev. Dr. Garrison in a leading editorial this week, "Thirty Years' Distinguished Service," which says:

"In addition to having been a university president at 30 (Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind.) one of the authors of the constitution under which New Mexico became a state, a University of Chicago professor of church history, he is a sculptor whose work adorns many public buildings, a musician good enough to play in a university string quartet, a traveler whose poking into unfrequented corners has taken him all the way from a round with a Lapland postman above the Arctic circle to a sojourn in a Spanish (or was it Italian?) mountainside monastery."

Studied in Switzerland.

The Rev. Dr. Gill is a Presbyterian minister, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and Princeton Theological Seminary. He did graduate work at Union Seminary, New York, and Basle, Switzerland, and took his doctorate under the famous Emil Brunner at Zurich, Switzerland, in 1948.

In addition to his duties at Lindenwood, he occupies the pulpit at Second Presbyterian Church, whose pastor, the Rev. Dr. James W. Clarke, resigned to join the faculty of Princeton Seminary. The church is seeking a new pastor.

LUTHERAN YOUTH GROUP WILL MEET NEXT WEEK

Problems facing youth will be discussed at the annual Lutheran Youth Conference to be held at the De Soto Hotel Wednesday and Thursday. The meeting is sponsored by the 80,000-member Walther League, youth organization of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

The Rev. Dr. Clarence Peters, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Taft and Alaska avenues, is chairman of the conference. The meeting will be attended by chairmen of the youth committees of the church's 32 districts in the United States and Canada.

The subject of "Christian Vocation", will be discussed by the Rev. A. P. Klausler of Chicago, editor of the Walther League Messenger.

SOUTH KOREAN CHRISTIANS MINORITY OF 5 PER CENT

The population of South Korea is about 20,000,000, and about 5 per cent are Christians, according to the National Lutheran Council, New York. There are 5,000,000 refugees from the north in South Korea.

"The native religion (South Korea) is Taoism, a mixture of Buddhism, Shintoism and animism," N. L. C. reports.

PRIEST SURVEYS PROTESTANT VIEW

Most Protestant Ministers Reject Catholic Doctrine of Mary, Poll Reveals.

Protestant ministers disagree widely from the Catholic Church doctrine relating to Mary, according to a survey made by the Rev. Kenneth Dougherty S. A. of Washington, D. C.

Father Dougherty gave the results of his survey in an address here this week at the sixth annual convention of the Mariological Society of America.

He sent a questionnaire to 270 Protestant ministers, and received 100 replies, he stated. The 100 ministers who replied represented 17 denominations, including Episcopalian, Lutheran, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, and smaller groups.

Out of 100 ministers, Father Dougherty said, "22 affirmed belief in Mary, the Mother of God, 63 denied this title to Mary, and 15 gave no certain replies to the questions."

"The main reasons for the negative replies," he said, "were the beliefs that Mary was simply the mother of Christ the man, and that Rome has deified Mary."

His aim in making the survey, Father Dougherty said, was "to inform the Catholic theologian of current trends among Protestant ministers regarding Mary." The survey was made during the Catholic Marian Year, which ended last Dec. 8.

The Mariological Society announced the names of winners of its 1954 awards at its meeting here. A special award "for outstanding contributions in the field of Mariology" went to the Rev. Stanley Matceszwski M. S., editor of "Our Lady's Digest" magazine, Olivet, Ill. Other awards went to the Rev. Alexander A. DiLella O. F. M., Holy Name College, Washington, D.C.; the Rev. Anthony Schreck O. F. M. Cap, Capuchin College, Washington, D. C., and Brother Alfred Bourque S.S.S., Cleveland, O.

Church Federation Promotes 'Religion and the Arts'

New Commission Sponsors Festival of Arts for April 17, 18, 19, With Local Competitions.

The newest commission in the Metropolitan Church Federation is called "Religion and the Arts," and Mrs. Eugene W. Meyer is chairman. She is the wife of the pastor of the Church of the Open Door in Webster Groves.

The commission is planning a festival of arts for April 17, 18, and 19. It will deal with the use of creative arts in the Christian church—drama, literature, architecture, music and liturgy.

Churches are asked to produce religious dramas for the festival. There will be awards for the best play, the best setting, the best role, etc.

Competitions will be held for original compositions in religious music and art objects. Art objects will include nine classifications: painting, sculpture, ceramics, silversmithing, jewelry, woodworking, photography, weaving and needlework. Music entries may include instrumental pieces, anthems for mixed voices, or a unison anthem with accompaniment graded for junior choirs.

The competitions are open to anyone living within a 30-mile radius of St. Louis. Information may be obtained at the church federation office, 1528 Locust street.

"The problem of communication is the basic problem of both the church and the artist today," Mrs. Meyer said. "Increasing awareness that this is true is bringing a new encounter between the two. The church is realizing that art is of significance to those who would fully understand religion, and the artist is realizing that religion is of significance to those who seek to express ultimate meaning.

"The National Council of Churches recently established a Department of Worship and the Arts. Commissions have been appointed in architecture, art, drama, literature, music and ways of worship.

"The St. Louis Metropolitan Church Federation was the first in the country to set up a similar commission within its own framework.

"We hope to see churches set up committees, not only of music as most of them have already, but of the fine arts."

The Commission on Religion and the Arts includes pastors, church musicians, artists, church architects, workers in drama and other arts, and interested lay people.

CHURCH FEDERATION ANNUAL MEETING SET FOR JAN. 17

The Metropolitan Church Federation will hold its forty-fifth annual meeting Monday, Jan. 17, at 6:30 p. m. at Ladue Chapel, 9450 Clayton road. The principal address will be given by the Rev. D. J. Quinter Miller of New York, secretary of the National Council of Churches.

The Rev. Dr. O. Walter Wagner, executive director of the federation, will give his annual report. The Rev. Dr. Wesley H. Hager of Grace Methodist Church, president of the organization, will preside.

The annual election of officers, board and commission members will be held.

BISHOP HOLT WILL PREACH IN FORMER PULPITS

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will be the preacher at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow at St. John's Methodist Church, Kingshighway and Washington boulevard, where he was pastor from 1918 to 1938, when he was elected bishop.

At 8 p.m. tomorrow he will preach at Mount Auburn Methodist Church, Hodiamont and Wabada avenues, on the forty-fifth anniversary of his first sermon in St. Louis. On Jan. 9, 1910, Bishop Holt preached at Mount Auburn Church, then without a pastor. He had just completed graduate study at the University of Chicago.

Bishop Holt will also dedicate the educational building at Mount Auburn Church on which the debt has been paid. Others taking part in this service tomorrow night will include the Rev. Dr. Herman H. Luetzow, superintendent of the St. Louis district of the Methodist Church, and the pastor of Mount Auburn Church, the Rev. William Roy Foster.

Tomorrow is Bishop Holt's birthday; he will be 69. He has been bishop in charge of the St. Louis area since 1944. His area is the state of Missouri.

It was while he was pastor of St. John's Church that Bishop Holt served for two years as president of the old Federal Council of Churches, now part of the National Council of Churches. He is also president of the World Methodist Conference.

The Rev. Dr. Albea Godbold is pastor of St. John's Church.

Rabbi Klausner at Knox.

Rabbi Bertram Klausner of Temple B'nai El will represent the Jewish Chautauqua Society, Wednesday, at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill. He will give a chapel lecture on "Contemporary Judaism" and will deliver several classroom lectures.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH REPORTS 2,907,321

Gains Made in Membership and Sunday Schools—Receipts $125,532,521.

The Episcopal Church has 2,907,321 baptized persons on membership rolls, a record high, according to the Episcopal Church Annual, published this week.

The number of baptized persons increased 4.17 per cent over 1954, communicants increased 2.19 per cent to 1,777,631, the largest number in the long history of the church in America.

According to the annual, the church made gains in church members, communicants, clergy, church schools and total receipts. Clergy now total 7367.

The Pacific coast area reported an increase in church membership of nearly 6 per cent.

Total receipts for church support show record high of $125,532,521.65.

Sunday school enrollment rose in the last year almost 10 per cent to 678,935. A total of 121,463 persons received baptism.

There were more ordinations of priests and more candidates for the ministry than ever before, the church annual reports.

Church Council Will Meet.

The ninetieth annual convention of the Missouri Council of Churches will be held at Sedalia Jan. 19-20. Pre-conference sessions for children's workers and youth will be held Jan. 18.

CHURCH OF ASCENSION PLANS FEAST OF LIGHTS

The Feast of Lights service at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension at 8 p.m. tomorrow will emphasize the fellowship between Eastern Orthodox and the Episcopal Church. The preacher will be the Rev. Georges Mastrantonis, pastor of the Greek Orthodox Church of St. Nicholas.

The service on the twelfth night after Christmas commemorates the time when the "light of the Gospel was first made known to the Gentiles."

Bishop Arthur C. Lichtenberger will give the blessing to the congregation before the candlelight procession, including all present, moves out of the darkened church into the parish hall where closing prayers will be offered.

The Rev. Arthur Walmsley, associate rector of Ascension parish, will conduct the liturgy, and the Rev. A. Malcolm MacMillan, rector, will be master of ceremonies.

Bears Sink Record 44 Free Throws Against Miners

Barton Has 14 for 14 In Victory

By Jack Rice

Basketball can be defined today at Washington University as the shortest distance between two whistles, and that makes one-note music lovers of the Bears. They practiced hard to get that way too, after it failed to come by ear.

The Bears defeated Missouri School of Mines, 86 to 63, last night at the Field House. The news items were a school-record 44 free throws made by Washington in 61 attempts, and a stopping point for a losing streak that had reached five games.

The most successful man in the place was Washington's sophomore, Jim Barton. He made the humble free throw a work of art. He tried 14, and he made 14, one short of a record Bud Cristal set earlier this year. Barton made seven field goals, and at 28 points, there wasn't anyone within 11 points of him on either team. Cristal made 13 free throws.

19 Straight Over Miners.

As contests go, it qualified fairly well as a reflex action: Bears meet Miners, Bears beat Miners. It has happened 19 successive times now.

Washington took precautions with this crowning glory, too. Wednesday night against Hamline the Bears missed 24 of 44 free throw attempts, and Thursday afternoon practiced for slightly more than an hour. Among things done in practice were 1160 free throws, Coach Blair Gullion calculated.

He was able to be specific—1160 free throws, not 1100 or 1200—because he had 16 players go through regimented routines. While Gullion was multiplying the sum of the regiment by the square root of the routine to arrive at the 1160 figure, a bulletin reached him. A student manager had noticed that new cords put on a basket, the game before, were frayed, probably to the point of replacement. Gullion grinned happily. Long live the overhead, in such worthy causes.

The Miners maintained an element of suspense for the greater part of the first half. There never was much hope of survival for the six-season-old Bears free throw record, however. Five of the nine points the Bears scored in the opening two minutes or so of play were free throws. That pace figured to dispense with the 1949-50 record of 49 tried, 32 made against Illinois Wesleyan.

Bears Ahead 49-36 at Half.

The Bears led at the half, 49-36, a late and rapid improvement. They made 15 points while Rolla made six in the last five minutes of the half. Other Rolla deficits at the half included two starters with four personal fouls, and another with three fouls.

Before five minutes had been played in the second half, three Miner starters fouled out, within a 21-second interval. The Bears made seven points as they did it, for a 56-44 lead, and there wasn't much reason for anyone else to stay, either.

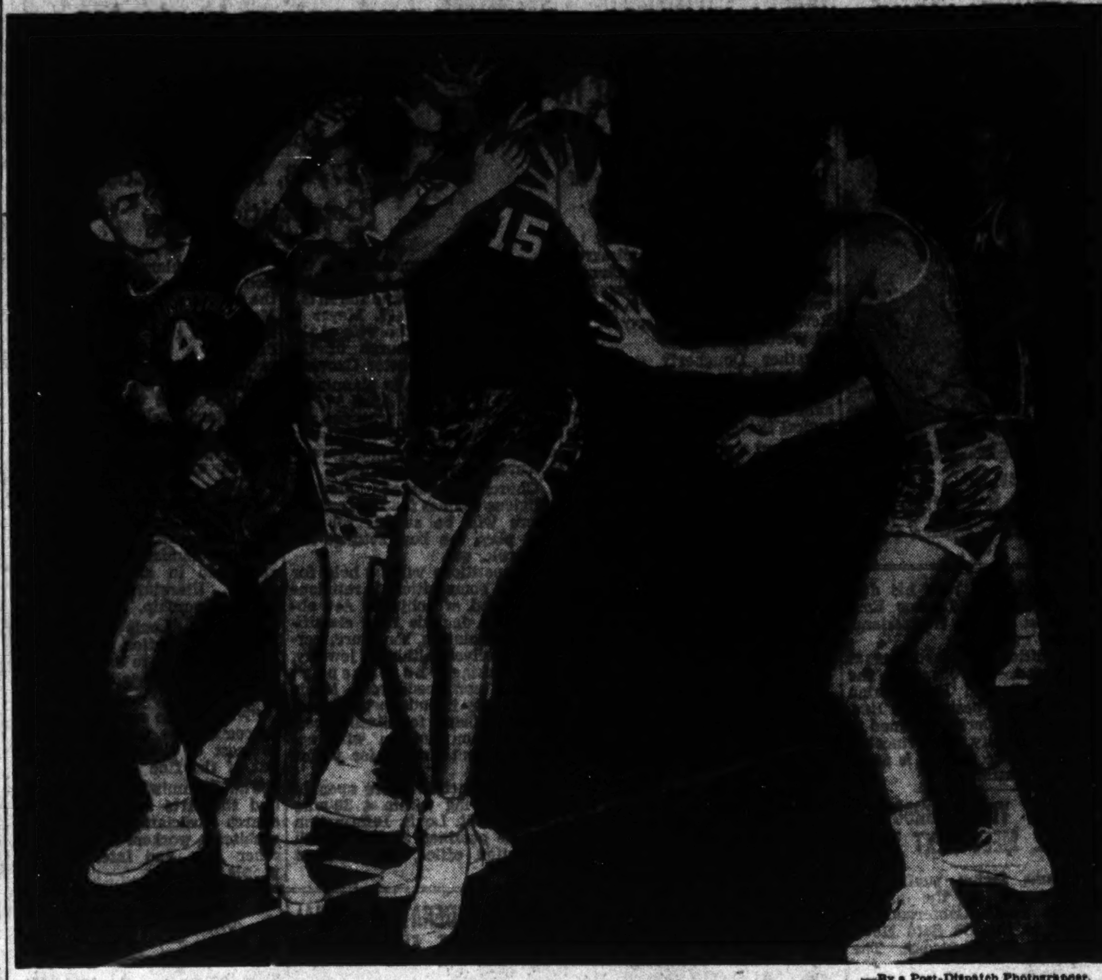

A sufficient number did stay, however, to work up the game's total fouls called to 59. The Miners committed 36. The whistle was not blowing to prevent mayhem. It was not a rough game, as such.

Missouri Mines, says Coach Dewey Allgood, this year is the best team he has had in five years at Rolla, and the Miners were rushing forth to redeem themselves after all these years. Maybe they got carried away in the rush, but even late in the game Emily Post prevailed. It still was good form for a man knocked down to be helped to his feet by his upsetter.

Missouri Valley Victor.

FULTON, Mo., Jan. 8 (AP)—Mike Newell led the assault with 28 points as the Missouri Valley Vikings defeated the Westminster Blue Jays, 68-65, in an M.C.A.U. basketball opener here.

Hand-Made Triumph for Bears

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

Eager hands reach from all directions as the Washington U. Bears and Missouri Miners from Rolla battle for possession of the ball in the game at the Field House. From left: DENNIS BARBER (4), CHARLES MILLER (51), LESLIE MEDLEY (15) of Washington grasping the ball, GILBERT JURENKA of Miners and TOM NICHOLSON (21) of the Bears. Another set of arms, reaching over the shoulders of Miller, belong to an unidentified W.U. player. The Bears won the game, 86-63.

Patterson, Kayo Winner Over Troy, Will Be Ready for Bout With Moore 'Within the Year'

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UP)—Young Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn, who stopped Willie Troy in the fifth round, will be ready for a light-heavyweight title shot "within the year," Manager Custer D'Amato admitted reluctantly today.

D'amato, the fight game's most cautious pilot, was practically forced into that admission of his fighter's prowess by Patterson's smashing victory over knockout-specialist Troy of Washington, D. C., at Madison Square Garden last night.

"Yes, he'll be ready for a shot at Archie Moore before the end of the year, D'amato said. "He proved for sure last night he's got plenty of steel in his chin." Troy had knocked out 23 of his previous 32 opponents.

But, meanwhile, Floyd will engage in his first scheduled 10-round bout on Jan. 17, against Don Grant of Los Angeles at Brooklyn's eastern Parkway arena.

Patterson, 1952 Olympic middleweight champion was rated fourth among lightheavyweight contenders when he went into the ring last night for his last scheduled eight-rounder. The bout was slated for only eight sessions because the match was made before Floyd's twentieth birthday last Tuesday. It was nationally televised and broadcast.

Scaling 166 pounds to Troy's 162, rangy young Patterson gave 22-year-old Troy such a merciless battering that Dr. Vincent Nardiello, referee Al Berl and Troy's manager, Al Weill agreed Willie would be unable to come out for the sixth round.

Berl awarded Patterson his nineteenth victory in 20 professional bouts on a technical knockout at the end of the fifth, according to New York state rules. The bell had not rung to start the sixth. It was Floyd's eleventh kayo victory and Troy's third defeat, all by kayoes, in 33 fights. He had been stopped previously by Joey Giardello and Holly Mims.

Patterson was favored at 4-1; but it might as well have been 10-1 after Floyd's speed and power gave him command in the second half of the first round. Troy, with his left eye swollen shut and his lower lip dripping blood, was so completely outclassed by Patterson's speed and power that only one of the three ring officials, Judge Harold Barnes, gave him a single round. There were no knockdowns, but Troy was almost out on his feet when he staggered to his corner at the end of the fourth session. Dr. Nardiello made his first visit to the corner then.

Patterson scaled down to 166 pounds for middleweight Troy, "but that's the last time he'll ever fight at less than 170," said Manager D'amato. "He's growing, and will weigh about 174 or 175 before next January."

Troy said he was stunned by a head blow midway in the second round, "and I wasn't myself for the rest of the fight."

Kiner Signs for $50,000 With Cleveland Club

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 8 (UP)—Ralph Kiner's salary negotiations with the Cleveland Indians, which excited the interest of Commissioner Ford Frick and some of baseball's best legal minds, ended yesterday when the 33-year old slugger accepted a "compromise reduction" of 25 per cent to about $50,000.

General Manager Hank Greenberg revealed that Kiner, acquired in an interleague deal with the Chicago Cubs, was the first of the 1954 American League champions to agree to terms.

The terms of the pact were not announced but they are believed to call for a 25 per cent cut from the $65,000 which Kiner earned with the Cubs last year.

Kiner astonished the baseball world on Dec. 14 when he asked for a salary reduction in excess of the 25 per cent cut which baseball law lists as the maximum permitted. He and Greenburg signed a document reducing Kiner's salary to about $40,000 but Frick withheld his approval.

Following a conference with Kiner in New York on Dec. 17, Frick said he would not approve the contract. Kiner and Greenberg then entered into new negotiations.

Kiner, one of the greatest home run hitters in National League history, had a poor season in 1954, batting .285, hitting only 22 homers and driving in only 73 runs in 147 games.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UP)—The New York Yankees announced the signing of rookie pitchers Steve Kraly and Ed Gereghino and bonus first baseman Frank Leja to 1955 contracts, bringing the number of players in the fold to 12.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8 (UP)—General Manager Roy Hamey of the Philadelphia Phillies denied a new report that Pitcher Curt Simmons is about to be traded. He said, however, that he was "working on trades and I'm interested in any deal that will strengthen the club. But there is nothing imminent as yet."

Cathedral Defeats Chaminade, 46-43

Belleville Cathedral last night defeated Chaminade, 46-43, in the opening Catholic League basketball game for both schools. The game was played on the Chaminade floor.

League standings:

	W.	L.	Pts.	Op. Pts.
Coyle	2	0	101	80
Cathedral	1	0	46	43
St. Francis	1	1	106	97
Chaminade	0	1	43	46
St. Peter's	0	2	94	124

Hockey's Top Goalies in Game Here Tomorrow

A duel of two of the top goalies in hockey is in store for Arena fans tomorrow night, as Terry Sawchuk and the world champion Detroit Red Wings oppose Al Rollins and the last-place Chicago Blackhawks in a regularly scheduled National League game, fourth in St. Louis this season.

Sawchuk, after gaining league all-star honors three straight years, was nosed out last year by Toronto's Harry Lumley. Rollins, at the same time, proved most valuable to his team and won the $1000 Hart trophy for being named most valuable in the circuit.

Rollins, it was pointed out by Johnny Gottselig, the Blackhawks' advance man, back in St. Louis for tomorrow's big game, has been "on the spot" quite a number of times in his colorful career and has come back every time.

Originally with Chicago, he was sidelined by rheumatic fever, shuffled to the minors after recovery, but bounced back to the big league at Toronto, of all places, where he ousted the colorful Turk Broda. Fans didn't like Rollins at first at Toronto, because Broda was a dyed-in-the-wool favorite, but Rollins played so well he won the Vezina trophy (and $1000) awarded to the goalie who plays the most games for the team with the lowest goals scored against it.

Rollins next was traded to Chicago, where he had a poor defense ahead of him, but he led the Blackhawks to the play-offs last year, despite a tail-end team with him, won the coveted Hart trophy.

After an 8-3 loss in St. Louis Dec. 15 to Toronto, he was benched, but has come back to play some of the best hockey of his career. You can't keep this Rollins down.—H. F.

Missouri Team Favored Over Nebraska Five

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 8—The Missouri Tigers, ranked from sixth to ninth in various collegiate basketball polls, will play Nebraska's Cornhuskers here tonight, with the winner remaining atop the Big Seven standings.

The Tigers conquered Kansas 76-65 at Lawrence while Nebraska pulled an upset by defeating Iowa State, 76-63, in league openers. The Tigers will be favorites with a home court advantage plus a 75-58 drubbing administered the Huskers in the pre-season tournament 10 days ago.

Missouri has an 8-2 season record, marred only by losses to Illinois and Houston, while Nebraska stands at 3-6.

Blessed with half a dozen players who can score from any reasonable distance with uncanny ability, the Missourians have outscored 10 opponents, 76.5 to 71.1 points, despite a 28-point loss to Illinois in their opening game.

Bob Reiter, 6-9 Brentwood center, currently is the leading scorer with a 16.9 average. Norman Stewart, Shelbyville junior, has a 16.7 average.

The Tigers have been hitting 36.6 per cent of their field goal attempts, with Stewart averaging 45.7, Park 44.1, and Reichert 40.8, while Stewart has connected with 88 per cent of his free-throws, Reiter 74.1, Filbert 73.3, and Park 71.6.

In other games, Colorado, an early season favorite to battle Missouri for the title, opens its league season against Oklahoma at Norman, while Kansas State meets Iowa State at Ames.

Dupo Nips Robinson In Slow Game, 23-21; Dehner's Team Wins

Close was the name for some of the top games on the East Side last night. Dupo, winner of the recent East St. Louis tournament, outlasted Robinson, 23-21, in a game featured by the stalling tactics of the visitors.

East St. Louis beat a good Herrin team, 47-36, as Coach Pick Dehner used just five players in the Flyers' ninth victory in 10 games. Jim Sims, with 16 points and Lou Vesely, with 15, paced the Flyers, who hit 52 per cent of their field goal attempts.

Collinsville nipped Edwardsville, 55-54, when Jack McWhirter scored in the last few seconds. The lead changed hands 10 times in the last quarter. Terry Bethel, with 23 points, paced Collinsville, while top scorer for Edwardsville was Governer Vaughn with 21.

Waterloo captured the Kaskaskia tournament title by defeating Valmeyer, 52-44, and Red Bud finished third with a 45-42 triumph over Columbia.

Big Ten Rebuffed in Vote Of Colleges on TV Plan

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UP)—A rousing 80 per cent "test of strength" indorsement today gave the N.C.A.A.'s incoming television committee a green light to continue the "Game of the Week" TV program in 1955.

The committee, which will be chosen today, is under no obligation to suggest a continuation of the 1954 plan but is expected to do so as a result of the overwhelming show of strength in yesterday's vote. In that vote, 165 of 207 colleges approved either the "game of the week" program or a plan similar to it.

The test vote, requested by the Rev. Edmund Joyce of Notre Dame, was a stinging reversal for the powerful Big Ten and Pacific Coast conferences which are demanding that a regional program be worked out. Only 18 colleges joined with 19 Big Ten and P.C.C. schools to support the plan.

The new committee was directed to consider the various proposals for TV programs and then submit one to the N.C.A.A. membership for a mail vote. Two-thirds of the schools must approve the new plan for it to be adopted.

H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, athletic director of Michigan, indicated that the Big Ten would await the result of the mail vote before making its decision known.

"We'll do nothing until the TV plan is announced in April," Crisler said. "The Big Ten has stated its position and its thinking. We are not wedded to a regional plan. We are open-minded as long as the new plan is not the same as last year or too similar."

The television problem was the chief order of business yesterday but the convention also was warned of the recruiting problem by Frank N. Gardner of Drake University, who is chairman of the N.C.A.A. committee on infractions.

Gardner reported that 52 cases of recruiting had been reported in the last three years and that 13 cases of alleged infractions still are being investigated. The identities of the colleges were not revealed but Oklahoma was investigated last month.

"There is nothing wrong with recruiting as such," Gardner stated. "What makes it wrong is when it is carried on in violation of the basic educational and ethical principals and when it bursts out of prescribed boundaries."

In other business:

Clarence P. Houston of Tufts college was elected president of the N.C.A.A. succeeding A. B. Moore of Alabama.

Ray Eliot of Illinois was elected president of the American Football Coaches Association, while Jess Neeley of Rice was elected first vice president.

Voted to count any intercollege scrimmage as a "game" to be included in the permitted schedules of 26 basketball games and 10 football games per season, exclusive of authorized post-season competition.

Decided by a vote of 87-61 not to count games played against the University of Hawaii at Hawaii in the maximum playing schedules for football and basketball squads.

Voted to limit post-season practice in football and basketball to 20 sessions.

Adopted a resolution to cooperate with a new major league rule banning the signing of college baseball players, except for freshmen, until the player's class has graduated or he is 21 years old.

South Favored To Beat North In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 8 (AP)—Selected North and South squads meet in the sixth annual senior bowl football game at Ladd stadium today. The kick-off was set for 1:45 p.m. (St. Louis time).

The South team, coached for the sixth time by longtime pro coach Steve Owen, was favored by a slim, one touchdown margin over Coach Paul Brown's North squad.

Brown, coach of the pro championship Cleveland Browns, has won the last three contests since he took over the North reins. Owen's teams won the first two.

The South's offense was directed by Gator Bowl star Bobby Freeman of Auburn. His running mates were Frank Eidom of Southern Methodist and I. G. Dupre of Baylor at halfbacks, and Dick Bielski of Maryland at fullback.

Dave Leggett of Ohio State's national championship team will quarterback the Yankee attack. All-America Alan Ameche was full backback, and Bob McNamara of Minnesota and Ron Drzwiecki of Marquette were at the halfback slots.

The 50 players turn pro in the contest. Each member of the winning squad receives $100 more than the losing team members' $400. Scores of pro scouts were on hand.

Billiken Swimmers Oppose Miner Team

St. Louis University's swimming team, which won seven of nine meets last year, begins its 1955 campaign in a meet with Missouri Schools of Mines this afternoon.

Prep Notes

Central and Hadley Tech teams turned in victories over Beaumont and Roosevelt in Public High League swimming meets, yesterday. Central's margin over Beaumont, in the meet at North Side Y.M.C.A. pool, was 56-21, and Hadley made it a rout over Roosevelt, 60-17. Larry Smith of Central was the only double winner, taking the 100-yard back stroke and the 120-yard individual medley race. Beaumont's only victory came when Tom Murphy took the 200-yard free style. Gerald Kozenski, with a victory in the 100-yard free style and a second in the 40 topped Hadley's point scorers with 9.

Wrestling Champion Upset.

Suburban League wrestling meets yesterday were won by Normandy and Ritenour. The green Ladue team was shut out, 50-0, by more experienced Normandy grapplers as the Vikings scored seven pin falls. Ritenour, however, just nosed out Kirkwood, 24-20. Lemoine Dickinson of Kirkwood scored an upset when he defeated the state champion 145-pounder, Ron Minardi of Ritenour.

Two Soccer Shutouts.

Randy Wielandy and Bob Convey each scored two goals as Country Day soccer team defeated Ladue, 4-0, in a High School Soccer League match. St. John's stopped Chaminade in another league game, 2-0, on goals by Ray Cooch and Steve Kerch. St. Louis U. High and C.B.C. played a scoreless tie in a non-league game.

Moffat Paces Eagles.

FAYETTE, Mo., Jan. 8 (AP)—The Central College Eagles, with Ed Moffat sinking 24 points, defeated Drury's Panthers, 86-73, in an M.C.A.U. basketball game.

Gomez Wins Ninth Straight Game in Puerto Rican Loop

SAN JUAN, Jan. 8 (AP)

REUBEN GOMEZ of the New York Giants pitched Santurce to a 4-2 victory over Cagus yesterday for his eleventh triumph and his ninth straight in the Puerto Rican baseball league. He has lost three.

The righthander struck out four, walked one and gave seven hits.

Willie Mays, back in the lineup after a 10-day layoff, got one hit—a single.

Furgol 142 and Harrison 144 In Coast Golf

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Jan. 8 (UP)—The unknowns of the golf world, surprise leaders after two days of the 32,500 Los Angeles open, teed off in the third round today with the "solid" veterans hot on their trail.

In a wide-open battle in both the men's and women's professional division, and in the men's amateur, the standings stood like this after 36 holes of play:

Men professionals—Eric Monti, Los Angeles, and Gardner Dickinson, St. Andrews, tied for the lead with 136 totals—six under par for the distance.

Women professionals — A three-way tie between Carol Bowman, Richmond; Mickey Wright, La Jolla; Beverly Hanson, Indio—all California girls—with 149 totals.

Men amateurs—Led by Eddie Draper, Seattle, Wash., star, with a 146 total.

National open champion Ed Furgol of St. Louis added 72 to his opening 70 for an aggregate of 142, while E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, St. Louis's other entrant, finished the second 18 with 73 for a 144 total.

Not one of the leaders had been considered a championship threat before the tournament started. Dickinson fired a five-under-par 66; Monti a four-under 67; Miss Wright and Miss Hanson a one-over-men's-par 72, and Mrs. Bowman 75.

Julius Boros, the former National Open champion from Mid Pines, N.C., had the best round of the day yesterday—a 65—and had a two-day total of 138 on the Inglewood Country Club course, which has a par of 36-35—71.

Seixas Defeats Swede in Final

ADELAIDE, Australia, Jan. 8 (UP)—Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, the United States singles champion, today won the South Australian tennis title by beating Lennart bergelin of Sweden, 6-3, 7-5, 8-6.

The veteran Davis Cup star broke through his rival's service in the second game of the opening set to take a 2-0 lead and coast home as each player retained, his service thereafter.

Both Seixas and Bergelin lost services early in the second set but a break through in the eleventh game gave Seixas the edge he needed to go two up. He could not gain an advantage in the final set until the thirteenth game where he again took Bergelin's service and went on to win the match in straight sets.

Parochial Soccer Playoff.

A semifinal in the Parochial soccer playoffs between Holy Rosary and St. Paul schools will be played at Penrose Park at 7:15 p.m., today. The other semifinal will be between Resurrection and St. Louise, will be at the same field Sunday at 2:15.

U.S. Women's Skates Champ In Meet Here

How to Get Your Tickets for Silver Skates Tomorrow

THE EVENT—Thirtieth annual Silver Skates speed races, sponsored by the Post-Dispatch.

WHEN AND WHERE — Tomorrow, 2 p.m., at The Arena, 5700 Oakland avenue.

WHERE TO GET TICKETS—Arcade Building Ticket Office, Eighth and Olive, mezzanine floor, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. or at The Arena ticket office (west tower), 9:30 to 5:30.

TICKET PRICES—Boxes $2, Arena Circle $1.85 and $1.50; unreserved, 50 cents.

By Harold Flachsbart

Eight late Wisconsin entries, two more from Cleveland and six from Chicago, have swelled the Silver Skates out-of-town entry list to a record 66, who will compete with about 145 St. Louisans in tomorrow's Silver Skates carnival at The Arena.

Southwest Open and Missouri State speed skating titles will be decided in 23 speed races, starting at 2 o'clock. And Hayes Alan Jenkins of Colorado Springs, Colo., tops an impressive figure skating cast to add grace to a colorful show.

Heading the Wisconsin delegation will be Pat Gibson, the National outdoor women's champion from West Allis and the University of Wisconsin; Bob Zirkel, former national midget boys' champion, and his sister, Sue Zirkel, a junior girls beauty who won the race for 14-15-year-old girls in the Silver Skates here last year. Bob Zirkel now is in the intermediate boys' division.

Other Wisconsin entrants are Ron Brylski of West Allis in the junior boys division; Mike Johnson of West Allis and Tom Wessel of White Fish Bay in the juvenile boys' group; Gail Erdman of Milwaukee, in the senior women's class and Nina Roberts of White Fish Bay, juvenile girl.

New Cleveland standouts are John Schaefer, in the junior boys' class and Tom Quinn, who will meet a star-packed field in the juvenile boys' division that has a pretty classy St. Louisan, Jon Mars, also ready to take charge. Mars is undefeated in the city championship racing series at the Winter Garden.

Chicago's last-minute contenders include Roger Arsenau in the senior men's racing; Don Devine and Jim Hancock, junior boys; Fred Strobl, juvenile boy; Ray Eckert, intermediate boy, and Barbara Lockhart in the juvenile girls' group.

Starting time for tomorrow's finals, sponsored by the Post-Dispatch, is 2 o'clock. There will be qualifying heats in the morning in all Open events, starting at 10 o'clock.

Phelan's Drive Wins for DeAndreis

St. Mary's Overtaken Near End

By Harold Tuthill.

Little John Phelan frequently seems out of place with some of the giants of modern basketball, but the diminutive De Andreis playmaker makes up in hustle what he lacks in size. It was his drive last night that helped to touch off a Wildcat rally which overhauled St. Mary's and resulted in an opening 47-44 victory for De Andreis in Catholic Athletic Conference competition.

Meanwhile McBride served notice it would be a strong contender for the championship when it won on its home floor from Mercy, 64-49, and Laboure, also on its own court, walloped Du Bourg, 60-31, as North St. Louis schools made a sweep of the first league games.

De Andreis seemed destined to go down to defeat as it trailed at one post after another, 12-13, 18-24 and 26-31, going into the final eight minutes. Then Glenn Murphy's Wildcats began narrowing the gap until successive field goals by Phelan tied the score at 35-35, the first time since the opening toss up De A had been on even terms with the Green Dragons.

Donnelly Leads Scoring.

Later, the teams were tied at 41-41, but then a field goal by Ken Donnelly and two free throws by Ted Fanter put De Andreis ahead, 45-41, with about a minute to play. At this point Phelan fouled out and he received a rafter-raising ovation from the Wildcat fans.

Tom Kennedy, who was fouled, made both efforts to leave St. Mary's two points behind, 45-43. Then Donnelly connected on one of two free throws and Charles Stiebel did likewise for St. Mary's to match points and just as the game ended Gene Zelinski of De Andreis was fouled. He made the second effort good for the final 47-44 count.

Donnelly, with 21 points, led the scorers, while Kennedy, with 18 points, paced Vern Winter's Dragons.

McBride, which had two 21-point quarters, was led to its triumph by the veteran Sal Ligamaro who had 23 points. Bob Brophy had 18 and Bob (Lefty) Graves had 12 for the Irish, while Fred Leiding, with 18, and Jim Beckman, with 15 points, paced Mercy.

Mollerus Scores 20.

Laboure's Rich Mollerus had a good night of 20 points, as Bob Goodwin's athletes rode roughshod over Du Bourg's small team. Don Gunther was the only player to hit double figures for the Cavaliers. He scored 12.

Pirrie in Star Role as Leafs Trim Webster

By John J. Archibald

A year ago Maplewood began its Suburban League season with a 50-49 victory over Webster Groves, and went on to win the championship. Last night the Leafs got past Webster by a margin of four free throws to win, 59-55, and the odds again favor Coach Howdy Sanders's veteran team in the long title race ahead.

Kirkwood, another strong contender for the Suburban crown, whipped Brentwood, 58-45, as Ellis Minton scored 22 points for the winners. University City, led by Wilber Marsh with 20 points, downed Clayton, 53-39. Wellston achieved its first victory of the season, 44-40, over Ritenour, and St. Charles upset Ferguson, 40-36. In the other Suburban encounter, Ladue edged Normandy, 38-36.

Maplewood's triumph came on the Webster floor, where the fervor and the acoustics produce wholesale noise and a distinct advantage for the home team. The Leafs, though pushed all the way, had at least a one-point lead at each stopping place.

Jack Pirrie, the Maplewood junior who outplays most seniors he happens to meet, scored 22 points to lead the Leafs. He was the visitors' big man in the third period when Webster made its bid. Pirrie sank four field goals, three of them on beautiful hook shots, and added a pair of free throws to give him 10 points as Maplewood outscored Webster, 16-14 in the quarter, for a 45-42 lead.

Webster's Jim Johanson provided the Statesmen's chief threat in the first period. When the score was 8-7 in Webster's favor, all eight points had been scored by Johanson, the 6-5 center. He made 10 points in the quarter, but Maplewood's Ron Gulley had nine and the Leafs managed a 15-14 edge. At the half, it was 29-28 in Maplewood's favor.

Webster's Hank Kuhlman, their best rebounder against the tall and husky Leafs, committed his fifth foul with six minutes remaining in the last period, and the score 50-42. Two quick baskets by Jerry Wolff and another by Larry Marshall moved Webster to within two points, but that was as close as the Statesmen got until the last few seconds. Wolff sank a pair of free throws with five seconds left, but that gave Maplewood possession of the ball and they ran out the clock.

Johanson had 20 points, Wolff 18 and Marshall 12 for the Statesmen. Gulley's 19 was second best for Maplewood. Both teams made 21 field goals, but the Leafs made good on 17 out of 24 free throws, while Webster hit 13 out of 22.

Beaumont, McKinley In League Feature

Although tonight's Public High League basketball tripleheader at the St. Louis University gym on West Pine will be featured by the Beaumont-McKinley game, the Southwest-Roosevelt contest, No. 1 on the program, may give the fans some unexpected early thrills. Southwest will be favored to win.

Central will oppose Soldan-Blewett in the middle game.

John Burroughs Beats Country Day, 54-43

Tad Foote scored 15 points as John Burroughs opened the ABC League basketball campaign yesterday with a 54-43 victory over Country Day, the defending champion.

Principia Academy will be host to Western Military tonight in another first round game.

Kirksville Triumphs.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Jan. 8 (AP)—Dick Maack scored 25 points, 21 of them in the second half, as the Kirksville Bulldogs beat Warrensburg's Mules, 71-63, in an M.I.A.A. basketball game last night.

6 HELD IN ROBBERY OF BANK IN TACOMA

FBI Recovers $35,000 of Loot After Holdup in Washington State.

SEATTLE, Jan. 8 (AP) — A peg-legged painter, five other persons and $35,000 were in federal custody today and the Federal Bureau of Investigation said the case of who robbed a Tacoma bank of $67,055 Wednesday was all wrapped up. All except for finding the missing $32,055, that is.

Last to be caught was Floyd Pebsworth, painter and holder of a long criminal record. He was picked up in his Tacoma home but officials were unable to find the remainder of the loot.

Clarence Wayland Ramsey, magazine salesman, confessed the bold daylight robbery which, he said, was accomplished with a wooden gun that fooled about 40 persons in the bank.

Richard Auerbach, FBI agent, said Ramsey named Pebsworth as the driver of one of two getaway cars used by the gang and as recipient of approximately half the money.

Also in custody are Ramsey's wife, Wilma, John William Murphy, Kenneth R. Springer and Virgil K. Gunnarson. The latter are taxicab drivers.

The Ramseys have been charged with bank robbery, Murphy with conspiracy, Springer with receiving stolen property, and Gunnarson, first man taken, as a material witness.

Genoa (Ill.) Bank Robbed of $14,000 by 'Customer.'

GENOA, Ill., Jan. 8 (AP)—A man wearing the familiar garb of a working farmer tricked unsuspecting bank employes and robbed the Genoa State Bank of $14,000 yesterday.

Sheriff Alf Deisz said the man entered the bank in the small Dekalb county community shortly before 3 p.m. and courteously asked to arrange for a bank loan.

Since the bank manager, John Butzow, was busy at the time, the man decided to wait for him.

While he waited, he told bank workers he was "Frederick Peterson," of Mendota, Ill., and said he wanted to arrange a loan to purchase a farm north of Genoa.

When Butzow was free, he invited the man into his office and within moments was facing a .32 caliber pistol.

Butzow said the man forced him to have the assistant cashier, Mrs. Margaret Rudolph, to come into the office, at which time the gunman produced a paper bag.

Then he forced her to fill the bag with cash from the cash drawers and made Butzow and four employes stand near a wall.

HIGHEST BIDDER TO GET CONTRACT FOR FOA PROJECT

and based on information given these two Missouri companies by FOA, instead of competitive bidding, FOA is now proceeding to negotiate a contract with this highest bidder, the Agricultural Construction Co.

"The difference between the original competitive bid of the one company with which FOA is now negotiating and the low bidder is $962,057.75."

Symington declined to discuss the possibility of a Senate investigation. He is a member of the Senate Government Operations Committee, under the jurisdiction of which such an investigation might fall.

One of those who urged Symington to take action against the FOA decision was James M. Kemper, chairman of the board of the Commerce Trust Co. in Kansas City, and a prominent Democrat. Arthur Eisenhower, a brother of President Eisenhower, is an officer of the same bank.

Both of the Kansas City firms are well-established, the Columbian company having been in business for 61 years and the Butler company for 54.

The Agricultural Construction Co. was incorporated under Delaware law in September 1954. Available records indicate it is headed by Norman P. Van Valkenburgh, who has been engaged in pipeline contracting for many years.

'Many Irregularities.'

In a letter to Stassen today, Gideon Hadary, director of the international division of the Columbian Steel Co., charged that there were "many irregularities" in the decision to negotiate a contract with the Agricultural Construction Co.

"As our company was the low bidder in the public opening, and as we have complied faithfully with the specification in all details, and as we have not been advised by you of any reason which disqualifies our offer, we hereby protest your decision, and request that you forthwith review with us the reasons for not selecting Columbian Steel Tank Co. as the low bidder on this offer."

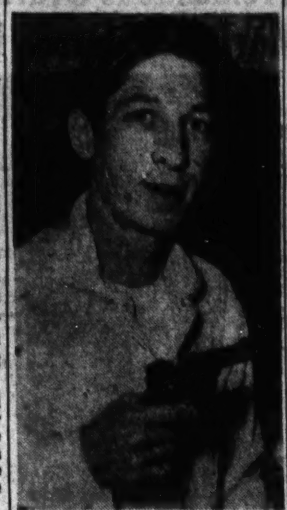

Hadary added that in the four-month interval since the bid was submitted "no one on the FOA staff in Washington has been willing to formally discuss with us the status of this project although informally we have been repeatedly assured that a review would be held with us."

Hadary said that because of the delay in letting the contract and getting the work under way "thousands of tons" of American wheat are lying unprotected on the docks at Karachi."

Harold A. Edlund, of Kansas City, general sales manager of the Butler company, wrote Stassen that since the bids were opened at Karachi in August and the Agricultural Construction Co. was not incorporated until the following months the latter firm would not fulfill the requirements of bidders qualifications.

"We believe a serious injustice has been done," Edlund wrote.

Shot at Robbers

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

ANGELO TRIOLA, jeweler, holding the revolver he used last night in an exchange of shots with a robber.

JEWELER EXCHANGES SHOTS WITH ROBBER

Merchant Says He Believes He Hit Holdup Man—$200, Jewelry Stolen.

Angelo Triola, operator of a jewelry store at 1821 North Grand boulevard, exchanged pistol shots with a robber last night and thinks he may have hit a holdup man, who stumbled and fell in his flight and was assisted by a companion.

Triola, 26 years old, and Joseph Giameo, a customer, 4749 Leduc street, were in the store when two Negroes entered. One pointed a pistol at Triola and ordered him to open the cash drawer. The second robber took $200 from the register and scooped watches and jewelry valued at $2000 from a display case.

When the robbers ran outside, Triola grabbed his revolver and fired a shot through a window at them. He hurried to the door and fired three more shots at the men, who were running south in Grand boulevard toward a taxicab.

Robber Stumbles.

The armed robber stumbled to his knees. His companion grabbed the pistol from his hand, helped him to his feet, then fired three shots at Triola, who ducked inside his store. The men got into the taxicab, which was driven west in Cote Brilliante avenue with lights out. A bullet went through a window in a store at 1817 North Grand.

Fifteen minutes after two young men slugged Robert Raglin, attendant at a filling station at 1121 Hampton avenue, and took his billfold containing $25 last night, Brentwood police arrested the pair and recovered Raglin's billfold and cash.

The prisoners, booked as Douglas Leon and Jerome F. Vandermoot, each 22 years old, of the Kingsland Hotel, 6668 Delmar boulevard, University City, admitted the holdup, police reported. The attention of Brentwood police was attracted to the men who appeared to be looking over a tavern in the 8700 block of Manchester avenue, and because a cloth concealed the license plate of their automobile.

Identified by Victim.

Raglin, who was slugged with a pistol, identified the pair. A pistol was found in a seat of the automobile.

Donald Brown, proprietor of a market at 7000 Lansdowne avenue, was robbed of $600 last night by a man armed with a pistol. The robber fled in an automobile driven by a second man.

Other holdup victims last night were: Donald Ludeman, a clerk, slugged by a man, a Negro, and robbed of $30 in front of his home, 6131 Elizabeth avenue; Isidore Flegel, market operator at 4745 Newberry terrace, $300; Charles Brown, manager, and George Hahns, pharmacist, Ace Drug Store, 799 Bayard avenue, $213; Miss Lillian Reutter, clerk in a confectionery at 2100 Lafayette avenue, $100.

ALASKA FISHERIES OFFICER'S SECURITY SUSPENSION LIFTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—John Dassow, director of the Fisheries Technological Laboratory at Ketchikan, Alaska, was cleared yesterday under a Department of the Interior security review and an order suspending him was canceled before it became technically effective.

Raymond Davis, an assistant to Secretary Douglas McKay, announced the reinstatement after a conference at which Dassow's replies to the charges had been considered. Davis earlier had said Dassow had been suspended during the investigation.

Later, however, department officials said Dassow was notified by letter dated Dec. 27 of his suspension, effective at the close of business today, under terms of the law requiring a review of all old loyalty board security cases. He promptly sent in his answers and on their receipt here today they immediately were considered, and he was cleared during the day.

Officials said this was not a particularly unusual case from the standpoint of speed. They said they attempted to expedite all such cases, which usually are not made public. In this instance Dassow's suspension had become publicly known in Alaska.

3 MEN BIND AND ROB GROCER, LOSS $1000

Victim Makes Way to Phone and Asks Operator to Call Police.

Samuel Ozersky, grocer, was held up in his store, 1321 North Kingshighway, by three men today and robbed of $1000, he reported to police.

When officers reached the store Ozersky's hands and feet were bound with rope and a necktie. He said he had hopped to a telephone after the holdup men fled, and asked the operator to call police.

Ozersky said the robbers, Negroes, followed him inside when he opened the store shortly after 7 a.m. He was forced to lie on the floor and a robber armed with a revolver warned him, "don't look, or I'll shoot."

After he was tied, Ozersky's billfold, containing the money, was taken from him. A witness reported seeing three men, one carrying a loaf of bread, leave the store and drive west in Minerva avenue in a red pickup truck.

3 CHILDREN IN FAMILY HURT BY AUTO IN FRONT OF HOME

The three children of Mr. and Mrs. William Davis were injured yesterday by an automobile in front of their home, 4522 Chouteau avenue, as they were on their way to school.

Judy Ann Davis, 9 years old, suffered a bruised left leg; Richard Lee Davis, 7, a nose injury, and Rosemary Ann Davis, 6, a cut on the left leg. They were released after treatment at St. Louis Children's Hospital.

The driver, James Yale, 5585 Connecticut street, told police the children walked into the right front fender of his machine as he was driving east. He was not arrested. Mrs. Davis, who is expecting a fourth child soon, was watching from the front porch when the children were struck. She stumbled and fell twice going to their assistance.

BOARD TO URGE 101-BILLION ROAD PLAN FOR NATION

Presidential Commission to Propose 54-Billion Boost in Normal 10-Year Program.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—A presidential commission is prepared to recommend a 101-billion-dollar state and federal highway program to run over the next 10 years.

The five-man advisory commission headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay agreed yesterday to recommend to President Eisenhower federal sponsorship of a 54-billion-dollar addition to the 47 billions which State and Federal Governments normally would spend in the 10-year period.

Mr. Eisenhower is expected to stay pretty close to the group's line of reasoning when he submits his highway program to Congress on Jan. 27.

Congressional leaders got an advance peek at the commission's report last night. A certain amount of bipartisan support for a major highway development program already has cropped up on Capitol Hill. Proponents regard such a program as vital to national defense and as a stimulus for the economy. There appeared to be divided opinion about proposed financing.

Outline of Report.

Only a rough outline of the commission's report was made public yesterday by its executive director, Frank Turner.

It wraps up (1) Mr. Eisenhower's own "grand plan" for additional expenditure of about 54 billions to modernize American highways for maximum use in a possible national emergency, and (2) present plans calling for spending of 47 billions on highway improvements. All but 10 billion of this latter amount would come out of the state coffers. No definite figures were given on the added amount the states would be expected to provide under the expanded program.

As outlined by Turner, the commission proposal calls for the Federal Government to pay "substantially all" of the approximately 24-billion-dollar cost of updating the 40,000-mile "strategic network" of interstate highways.

As things stand, the Federal Government lays out 60 per cent of the cost of work on interstate roads. The states pay the rest.

New Agency Proposed.

For financing the expanded program, the report to be submitted to the President next Tuesday suggests establishment of a new agency—much like the now defunct Reconstruction Finance Corp.—to float bonds to pay for the federal share of the work. The proposed bonds would be sold to the public.

There were indications the financing program would have certain self-liquidating features, but no details were given on this point.

It was considered likely the highway bonds would not be charged against the national debt, but would be incorporated into a separate fund.

Such a proposal, if it ends up in Mr. Eisenhower's recommendations to Congress, might run into trouble on Capitol Hill. Senator Byrd (Dem.), Virginia, said earlier this week he does not look with favor on the idea of issuing bonds outside the legal debt limit to pay for the projected highway development. Byrd is to be chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. However, some bipartisan support already has turned up for an RFC-type agency to handle the highway program financing.

JACK WEBB, 'DRAGNET' STAR TO MARRY DOROTHY TOWNE

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8 (AP)—Jack Webb, star of the radio and television show "Dragnet," will marry Dorothy Towne, blonde actress, in Chicago and honeymoon there, a source close to Webb announced yesterday in Chicago.

Webb, through his publicity man, said in Hollywood yesterday that he and Miss Towne "will be married some time next week somewhere in the Midwest." He added only that he and the actress "are flying out of here either Sunday or Monday."

In Chicago, one of Webb's friends, who declined use of his name, said the couple "definitely will marry and honeymoon in Chicago." He said Webb was scheduled to fly there Monday.

Webb, 34, divorced actress Julie London in 1953 after giving her custody of their two daughters and a $500,000 settlement. Miss Towne previously was married to Leo Pavich, Sunset Strip bar operator.

PETERSEN SENT TO FEDERAL HOSPITAL FOR TREATMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Joseph S. Petersen Jr., former government research analyst under 7-year sentence for misuse of secret documents, has been sent to the federal medical center at Springfield, Mo., for "classification and medical treatment."

Petersen pleaded guilty of storing secret papers in his Arlington (Va.) apartment. Two other charges against him were dismissed.

The 40-year-old former college physics professor, who was employed at the National Security Agency, was indicted under the espionage laws. It was brought out that he had passed information designated secret to a representative of the Netherlands.

Tremendous Ovation, Tears Greet Marian Anderson in Debut at Met

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

Soprano ZINKA MILANOV throws her arm around MARIAN ANDERSON in joining in the tribute paid the great contralto last night following her debut at the Metropolitan Opera.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—Amid applause and cheers—and a few tears—American contralto Marian Anderson became last night the first Negro to sing with the Metropolitan opera, now in its seventieth year.

The warm welcome given her proved but the prelude to an artistic success by the famed concert performer. Critics were unanimous in praise of her rich and moving voice, heard in the second scene of Act I of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera" (The Masked Ball).

As the curtain rose on the second scene there was Miss Anderson as Ulrica, stirring her witch's caldron.

Many Dab at Eyes.

The audience broke into a tremendous ovation. Many men and women in the audience—white as well as Negro patrons—dabbed at their eyes in the emotion of the moment. Orchestra conductor Dimitri Mitropoulis stopped the playing until the demonstration was over.

Then Miss Anderson, a grim, taut figure as her role called for, started to sing her first aria, "Ridell'a Bisso."

After a slight hint of nervousness the full voice heard by hundreds of thousands since the singer's Town Hall debut in 1926 soared to its accustomed richness.

Said music critic Olin Downes in today's New York Times: "The passage suited well the dark and rich color of the voice, as the simplicity and eloquence of Miss Anderson's singing graced the song."

Paul Henry Lang, music critic of the New York Herald Tribune, said Miss Anderson's role called for "an ample voice and good control of the widely separated vocal regions, both of which she supplied freely."

W. G. Rogers, Associated Press arts editor, had this to say: "The only color that counted was the color of her voice, which has been one of the richest and most moving in her generation . . . she evaded none of the vocal responsibilities of her part . . ."

Phrase Omitted.

In her role as the Negro sorceress, Ulrica, a phrase in Miss Anderson's lines was omitted—without the singer's knowledge.

It was the judge's derogatory remark about the sorceress' Negro race: "Abbietto sangue de' Negri"—a reference to "vile blood."

The second scene of the act is climaxed by the aria "E Lui" sung by Ulrica.

At the end of the act there was a noticeable hush in the audience until the singers took their curtain calls. There is a new policy at the Met that no one takes solo curtain calls.

Then there were repeated waves of "bravos" and handclapping as Miss Anderson took her bows with other members of the distinguished cast.

Famed soprano Zinka Milanov and Miss Anderson next appeared on the stage alone. Miss Milanov threw her arms around Miss Anderson and kissed her on the cheek. This brought a tremendous new demonstration.

Miss Milanov was Amelia; Richard Tucker, Riccardo; Leonard Warren, Renato, and Nicola Moscona, Samuel; Roberta Peters, Oscar; Norman Scott, Tom, and Calvin Marsh, Silvano.

In the audience sat Mrs. Anna Anderson, of Philadelphia, mother of Miss Anderson; the contralto's sisters, Alyse Anderson and Mrs. Ethel De Priest, and the singer's husband, Orpheus H. Fisher.

Backstage in Miss Anderson's dressing room after the second scene the singer's frail mother threw her arms around her famous daughter, kissed her, and said, "We thank the Lord."

Miss Anderson, happy but restrained, thanked all those at the Met who had given her "nothing but encouragement."

Asked if she was ready to assume a second operatic role, Miss Anderson quietly replied: "First, I must learn to sing this one better."

with emphasis on standardization.

2. Place ammunition and equipment orders with factories in members' nations and presumably elsewhere, such as the United States and Canada.

3. Allocate arms thus produced.

4. Co-operate with American authorities in handing out guns and equipment which the United States would give WEU members. The United States has refused to delegate any allocation authority to an arms pool, but Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has promised to co-operate with such a pool.

This administration would be distinct from the "arms control agency" of WEU. The control agency's function is to set and enforce mobilization ceilings, particularly for West Germany.

The key point in the French proposal was that decisions on such matters need not be unanimous, but could be made by a two-thirds majority. This apparently was designed to correspond to a similar majority which Britain has accepted under WEU as decisive for keeping British troops on the continent.

British Opposed.

In the Jan. 17 conference, Britain and Holland are expected to oppose the plan. West German Chancellor Adenauer has expressed general approval while Italy's attitude has been in doubt.

(A United Press dispatch from London said Germany as well as Britain would oppose the plan, that Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg were cool to it and that only Italy could be counted on to support it.)

VITT RESIGNS JOB OVER LETTER IN LADEJINSKY CASE

Editor Says Approval of Benson's Action Was Misinterpreted as Being Anti-Semetic.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—George N. Vitt, who wrote a letter approving the Agriculture Department's dismissal of Wolf Ladejinsky, has resigned from his own job.

In resigning as editor of American Exporter Publications, Vitt said yesterday he did so because of "misinterpretation and involuntary character assassination" resulting from the letter.

Vitt had written to Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson approving the dismissal of Ladejinsky as agricultural attache in Tokyo. The letter was later made public and quickly drew criticism as being anti-Semitic.

In one place Vitt had written: "Regrettably . . . a goodly share of (Russian) revolutionaries were found among the Russian Jews." Elsewhere in the letter he said: "Jews who turned into Reds or fellow travelers after 1919 were the worst kind of traitors."

Vitt later declared, "There was nothing anti-Semitic and nothing fascistic in what I said." He claimed his statements were factual and those regarding Jews were taken out of the context of the eight-page letter.

Vitt described himself as a native of Latvia and an American citizen since 1925. He said he had a long background of study and research in Communism and wrote to Benson at the suggesion of friends.

The Agricultural Department said Ladejinsky was ousted on security and technical grounds that had nothing to do with his religion.

In giving up his editorial job, Vitt said he had no immediate plans for the future. Ladejinsky was given a responsible job with the Foreign Operations Administration after the Agriculture Department dismissed him.

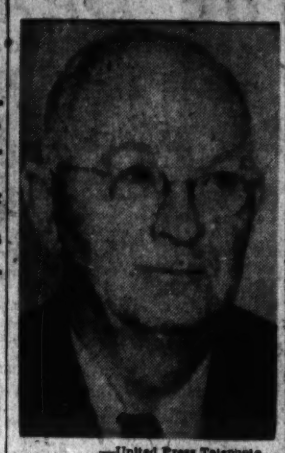

Benson Says Not All Facts on Ladejinsky Have Come Out.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (UP)—Agriculture Secretary Benson said yesterday the public hasn't heard all the facts about the security background of Wolf Ladejinsky and that unless new evidence came to light he would still fire him.

Benson told a news conference here "I personally am glad the matter has been resolved, apparently to everyone's satisfaction."

He did not discuss the hidden facts and indicated they were classified, but said he "assumed" that they were also available to the FOA, which gave Ladejinsky a new job.

8 IN ROBBERY GANG INDICTED, 2 ON CHARGES OF MURDER

The voting of indictments against eight persons by the circuit court grand jury, in 26 cases including murder, armed robbery and burglary, was announced yesterday by Circuit Attorney Edward L. Dewd.

Those indicted, all Negroes, were said by police to have been members of a robbery gang.

Robert (Red) Burnett and Sterling P. Quinn were charged with the murder of Abraham Levitt, a market operator who was killed in an attempted robbery Dec. 20. Burnett also was indicted on five charges of armed robbery, and so was his brother, Frank.

Willie B. Davis, said to have been the gang leader, whose arrest led to others, was charged in seven cases of robbery. Robert Shaw was named in three robbery indictments, and Robert Earl Buchanan was named in one. Equaker Brandon and Juan Perades were charged with second-degree burglary and larceny.

The grand jury returned a no true bill in the case of William Burdine, who had been arrested on suspicion of another robbery last January.

Geographic Society Trustees.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The National Geographic Society announced yesterday that Chief Justice Earl Warren and Benjamin M. McKelway, editor of the Washington Evening Star, have been elected life trustees by the board of trustees. Dr. Thomas W. McKnew, secretary since 1945, was named vice president.

BRITAIN CHARGES VIETMINH IGNORES TERMS OF TRUCE

Says in Note Ho Regime Is Trying to 'Flout' Authority of Armistice Team.

LONDON, Jan. 8 (UP)—Britain has accused the Communist Indochinese government of "flouting" the authority of the international commission supervising the armistice, the British Foreign Office announced today.

In a note handed to the Soviet government in Moscow yesterday, Britain charged the Communist regime of Ho Chi Minh was trying "to ignore the provisions of the agreement on the cessation of hostilities in Viet Nam," the announcement said.

The British note replied to a Soviet request that Britain—as former "co-chairman" of the Geneva conference—should circulate to conference members Viet Minh complaints against alleged breaches of the Geneva settlement.

Britain has refused to pass on these complaints to conference members.

The Communist Indochinese complaints charged breaches of the Geneva agreement by the South Viet Nam government, France and the United States.

Britain's note to Moscow said under the Geneva agreement "the international commission shall be responsible for supervising the proper execution by the parties of the provisions of the agreement."

"If the Vietminh consider that a violation has taken place, their complaint should accordingly be addressed to the International Supervisory Commission," the note added.

Britain made it clear that the parties to the agreement can only approach members of the Geneva conference if one of the parties refuses to put into effect a recommendation of the International Supervisory Commission.

Communist complaints now are being considered by the commission and there is no obligation for conference members to deal with them before the commission has made its recommendations and unless these are not put into effect, the note said.

"In the circumstances Her Majesty's government can only regard the communication made by the Vietminh as an attempt to flout the authority of the International Supervisory Commission," the note said.

One of the Vietminh's complaints concerned an American mission in Viet Nam headed by Gen. Lawton Collins. The Vietminh said Collins had gone to Viet Nam to train and equip the Vietnamese army, in violation of the Geneva agreement.

Europe's Lighter Side

Trombone Bottleneck For Jazz in Paris

By Art Buchwald

PARIS.

THE other day a friend scolded us for not bringing back a report on jazz from Africa. He said that he and a lot of other readers would like to know, for example, whether they bop, boogie or bongo in the Congo, and whether the Congo combos have gone cool.

ART BUCHWALD

This rebuff reminded us that we have been remiss in our reports on jazz in Paris, so the other night we plunged into two of the best-known jazz caves on the Left Bank.

First we went to Les Trois Mailletz (translated as The Three Mallets, Beetles or Hammerhead Sharks—Cassell's French Dictionary), formerly known as the Metro Jazz, located at the end of Rue Saint-Julien-le-Pauvre. Feeling like an adventuresome speleologist, or like a beetle, we crawled down through narrow, dripping passageways until we hit a layer of smog and heavy sound waves which told us we had reached the center of activity.

★ ★ ★

THE ACTIVITY consisted of a couple of battered-looking jitterbugs dancing to the loud but uninspired music of Michel Attenoux and his five-man orchestra, the featured drumming of Moustache, whose departure from the jazz band of Claude Luter, in 1952, left that group in better shape because the music could again be heard over the drums, and the singing of "Fats" Edwards, who has been working Left Bank "caves" for several years, unprofitably.

A couple of hours later we climbed wearily up out of the smog and into the clear night air. Grimly we headed for the Vieux Colombier, located on the rue of the same name. Down we went into another smog of the same smell and density, but this time the music was good enough to make even an aged asthmatic forget his troubles.

★ ★ ★

THE FIRST-STRING ORCHESTRA at the Vieux Colombier is still Claude Luter's, the one which launched the club a few years ago. Although they are probably the most famous jazz group in Europe, and spend their summers in the High Society of the Riviera, they remain unspoiled and play a happy, free kind of jazz.

But the youths who make up the Luter band really leave the ground when they are joined, twice an evening, by that stern old genius Sidney Bechet. Bechet and his soprano saxophone returned to Luter and the Vieux Colombier a couple of weeks ago. Bechet provides that last necessary measure of discipline, inspiration and solidity. In other words, the joint jumps.

★ ★ ★

LUTER HIMSELF could compete with any young clarinet player in the States today. He has always been a bald imitator of Chicago's famed Johnny Dodds, but the imitation is so good that only a pedant would protest. (One night a friend, who was raised on jazz of the late '20s, and who was hearing Luter for the first time, jumped up after about three minutes and let out a nostalgic yell: "Play it, Johnny!")

On some nights customers can also hear the clear, hard trumpeting of Pierre Dervaux, who spends his daylight hours running a tailor shop. Dervaux says he is fond of jazz but has a passion for tailoring, and so he shows up at the Vieux Colombier to work on rugs only when cloth-cutting is slow.

★ ★ ★

TWO OTHER ORCHESTRAS play at the Vieux Colombier when Luter is on tour. The second-string band is headed by Andre Reveilloty and the third-string band is headed by Maxime Saury. Both are pretty good, especially the clarinets, which seem to be an ill wind which Frenchmen blow good, but all three groups have trombones which often sound breathless and uncertain, like Grandpa blowing across the top of a whiskey jug.

As a matter of fact, this trombone bottleneck is the only thing holding back a big renaissance of young jazz in Paris. Since jazz brings American tourists, and since American tourists bring dollars and drink lots of milk, we suggest that Premier Mendes-France give the problem a little thought. A few slide trombones that sound like Wilber de Paris, or even like Jack Teagarden, and this country will be filled with happy cats and contented cows.

Try and Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

P. G. WODEHOUSE, creator of the famous English comedy butler, Jeeves, recalls a theater manager who discovered one day that his box office treasurer had been short-changing him for years. He sent for the culprit and asked, "What's your salary here?" "Sixty a week," was the answer. "It's raised to a hundred. No, by George, make it two hundred," said the manager. "Thank you," burbled the treasurer. "I'm overcome."

"There's just one thing more," added the manager. "You're fired!"

"You see," he explained to Wodehouse later, "I wanted to fire the crooked so-and-so from a really good job."

A farmer once named a cow Zephyr,
She seemed such an amiable heifer.
But when he drew near,
She chewed off his ear,
And now he is very much dephyr.

HONORS FOR R.O.T.C. QUEEN Members of Scabbard and Blade provide honor guard for Miss Nancy Larson following her coronation as Miss Armed Forces and honorary colonel of Washington University's Air Force and Army Reserve Officers Training Corps units last night. Ceremony took place at the forty-fifth annual military ball at Hotel Jefferson. Escorting Miss Larson are Air Force Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pisarkiewicz (left) and Army Cadet Lt. Col. Edward Dewein. A senior in the College of Liberal Arts, Miss Larson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Wayne Larson, 14 Godwin lane, Ladue. —By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

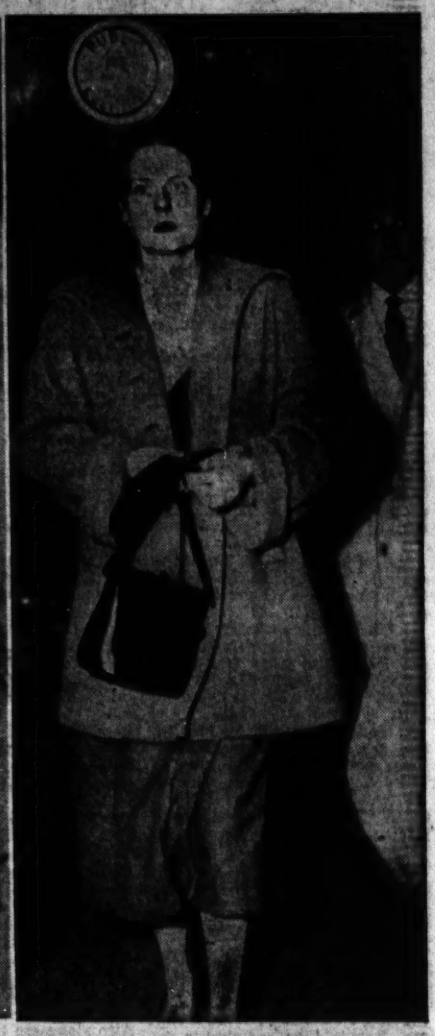

HEADACHES IN PROSPECT Stacks, piles and mounds of census reports cause John Gifford to give ground slightly as he looks over scene in St. Louis office of the Bureau of the Census. Supervisor of the economic census division, Gifford and his aids have just completed agricultural census covering 60 northeast Missouri counties and 30 south Illinois counties. They turn now to the census of business, manufacturers and mineral industries. —By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

SILENT ON DIVORCE PLANS Posing in front of billboard announcing play in which she will appear, Gloria Vanderbilt takes a break from rehearsals of the play, "Time of Your Life," at New York City Center yesterday. Estranged wife of conductor Leopold Stokowski, who is in St. Louis for weekend appearances with the symphony orchestra, Miss Vanderbilt refused to answer questions about reports her lawyer has been instructed to file divorce papers. "Maybe I'll have a statement on Monday," she said. —Associated Press Wirephoto.

DEATH AGAIN IN SHEPPARD FAMILY

Dr. Stephen Sheppard, holding gift boxes, chats with jailer Mike Uccello while awaiting permission to visit his brother, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, following suicide of their mother at Cleveland yesterday. At right above, Mrs. Dorothy Sheppard, the wife of another brother, Dr. Richard, arrives to console the man who was convicted last month in the murder of his wife. At right is pistol found beside the body of the mother, Mrs. Richard A. Sheppard. In poor health and shocked by the conviction of her son, Mrs. Sheppard shot herself at the home of Dr. Stephen Sheppard. In a note, she said she "can't manage alone without father"—Dr. Richard Sheppard who is seriously ill in hospital. News of his mother's death was reported to be a crushing blow to Dr. Samuel. —Associated Press Wirephoto and (upper right) United Press Telephoto.

'BEST-DRESSED' WOMAN, FOURTH HUSBAND Mrs. Harrison Williams (right), ranked regularly as one of the world's best dressed women, enjoying night club visit with Count Albert Edward Bismarck, to whom she was married Wednesday. Announcement of the wedding yesterday said Bismarck left Thursday for Europe where he will be joined later by his bride. It was the fourth marriage for the former Mrs. Williams whose husband died in 1953, leaving her 90 per cent of an estimated $100,000,000. With them at New York club in 1949 is Countess Uberto Corti of Rome. —Associated Press Wirephoto.

NIGHT OUT IN HOLLYWOOD

Heiress Barbara Hutton obviously enjoying herself as she dances with British actor Michael Rennie in Hollywood night club. RADFORD TO URGE DRAMATIC STEPS BY U.S. IN ASIA

Admiral Said to Be Convinced That Proper Economic and Military Aid Can Stop Reds.

By EARNEST HOBERECHT.

TOKYO, Jan. 8 (UP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff, will tell President Eisenhower strong and dramatic measures should be taken to bolster Asia against Communism, reliable sources said today.

"Radford, who has just completed a tour of free Asia, is on his way back to Washington to report to the President.

Reliable sources said Radford was pleased with the military aid program—"so far as it goes"—and believes "proper" United States economic and military aid program would "turn back the tide of Communist aggression."

Worry in Asia.

Radford, according to these sources, will include the following points in his personal report to the President:

1. Those Asians who are counting on American support to keep their countries free and independent are worried about the United States troop cutback in Asia.

2. There is a growing fear in free Asia that the United States once again is turning toward a "Europe first" policy.

3. Some Asia leaders believe the United States is wrong in placing such a high priority on European affairs when acts of Communist aggression actually are going on in Asia and one of the biggest threats against peace is in Asia.

Truce Violations.

4. The Communists are violating the armistice in Viet Nam just as they are violating the truce terms in Korea.

5. Viet Nam can be saved from total loss to the Communists if the United States is willing to launch a large aid program and will assure the Viet Namese they will not be abandoned to the Reds.

6. Economic aid, as a general rule, should be increased to all Asian nations. It might be wise to make the aid program equal to the Marshall plan which worked so successfully in Europe.

7. The United States must be ready, materially and mentally, to fight small wars around the edges of the Bamboo Curtain, rather than to permit the Reds to nibble away at the small countries until Communist power has expanded sufficiently to win World War III.

8. There is a real need for a dramatic gesture to give assurance to the Asians who are fighting Communists and to deter further Red adventure, either by open aggression or subversion.

CHINA REDS STEP UP SHELLING OF QUEMOY ISLAND

TAIPEH, Formosa, Jan. 8 (AP)—Chinese Communist guns today resumed shelling of Nationalist-held Quemoy and Little Quemoy islands following yesterday's artillery duel, described as the heaviest action since the new year.

The defense ministry reported the Reds fired 60 shells from Amoy and Tateng islands, the latter a small island between Quemoy and the mainland.

The ministry said Communist cannon on Amoy island fired 88 shells at Quemoy yesterday and eight at Tsuyu, a tiny, Nationalist island nearby.

Nationalist guns on Quemoy countered the shelling "effectively," the ministry reported.

It said a woman on Quemoy was wounded fatally, another seriously injured and a school house demolished.

Last night the Reds on Toumen island fired 26 shells at Yikiangahan island, but caused neither damage nor casualties, the ministry added. Those islands are to the north, near the Tachens.

EX-SHERIFF CHARGES ILLEGAL EVIDENCE IN HIS TAX CASE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 8—A motion to suppress evidence in the case of former Sheriff George V. Gruenewald of St. Clair county, who is charged with income tax evasion, was taken under advisement yesterday by United States District Judge Charles G. Briggle.

Defense attorneys argued that Internal Revenue Service agents illegally obtained certain documents from Gruenewald in 1951 and 1952, failing to advise him they were working toward criminal prosecution.

Assistant United States Attorney Marks Alexander said the charges were unjustified and that the evidence in question was "very important" to the Government's case. Gruenewald, former Republican officeholder, of Belleville, Ill., was indicted last June on charges of evading payment of $9426 in income taxes for 1948 through 1950.

DEWEY TO SPEND NIGHT AS EISENHOWER'S GUEST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (UP)—Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will spend Monday night as a guest in the house here he twice sought as his residence.

The twice-defeated presidential candidate will be an overnight guest of President Eisenhower at the White House after a stag dinner at the executive mansion.

Asked if Dewey was getting a Government job, a White House press aid said the former Governor, who recently returned to private law practice, was "just getting out of one."

Navy Recruits to Train as Unit

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

Group of Navy volunteers, part of a company of 61, ready to board train at Union Station for Great Lakes Naval Training Station. The enlistees, all from the St. Louis recruiting district, will train as a unit under a return to a Navy policy in effect before World War II. Enlistments here have increased since a recent executive order curtailing benefits for persons entering the armed forces after Jan. 31.

PRESIDENT RELAXES AT WEEKEND RETREAT

Two Granddaughters With the Eisenhowers at Camp David.

THURMONT, Md., Jan. 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower called time out today from preparation of messages to Congress and relaxed with his grandchildren at his Catoctin mountain lodge here.

The Presiednt's favorite weekend retreat was noisier than usual because of the presence of the children, but he always looks forward to having them around.

Barbara Anne, 5 years old, and Susan, 3, accompanied him from Washington yesterday on the 65-mile drive to Camp David.

Also along are the President's wife; the children's mother, Mrs. John S. Eisenhower; and the first lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, who went first to Gettysburg for a look at the Eisenhowers' new home nearing completion on the Civil war battlefield there.

Going to Gettysburg.

The President planned to go to Gettysburg today.

This was the first time the chief executive's two granddaughters had visited the camp without their 6-year-old brother, David, for whom the presidential retreat is named.

David entered the first grade at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., last September and had to pass up this trip because of school. He remained with his father, Maj. John Eisenhower, who is stationed at Fort Leavenworth.

Shortly before leaving Washington, the President completed work on a foreign trade message he will send to Congress Monday. Awaiting final touches when he returns to the White House are two other messages which will go the Capitol next week.

Messages Coming Up.

One of them, to be submitted Tuesday, will call for pay increases for civil service and postal workers, and for a hike in postal rates. The other message, going to the lawmakers Thursday, will set forth the Administration's new manpower-reserve program and recommend selective pay increases for members of the armed forces.

The three messages scheduled for next week will be the first of a series detailing the 1955 legislative program the President outlined in general terms in his State of the Union message Thursday.

The President and his party plan to return to Washington tomorrow evening.

4 YOUNG BROTHERS DIE AFTER APARTMENT FIRE

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (AP)—Four young Negro brothers died today from burns suffered in a fire which swept their second floor apartment home last night.

Dead were Lawrence Steven Lee, 4 years old, and his younger brothers, Gregory and Gary, 3-year-old twins, and Alan, 23 months. All died in hospitals several hours after the blaze.

Firemen found them unconscious in a hallway outside their South Side apartment. The children's mother, Mrs. Dolores Lee, said the fire began when an overheated oil stove ignited a nearby chair. Fire Marshal Thomas Bradbury estimated the damage at $1000 but said the fire's cause was not yet determined. The fire was confined to the Lee apartment.

U.S. EX-AIRMAN PLEADS GUILTY OF LONDON ROBBERY

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP) — A former American airman pleaded guilty yesterday of a £8600 ($24,080) jewelry store robbery. Hubert Edward Clark, 22 years old, of Pueblo, Colo., was given a three-year jail term. The judge said he would recommend that he be deported.

While Clark was being sentenced at Old Bailey court, the manager of the hotel at Staines, near London, forced open the door to a room and found the bodies of a man and a woman. Scotland Yard identified the woman as Thelma Madeline Johnston-Noad, 46, alias "Maria," who Clark said had directed the jewel robbery two months ago in the diamond merchant's section of London.

Her companion in the apparent suicide pact was said by police to be Alfred Charles Ady, 40, also wanted for questioning in the case. An open prayer book was found near the bodies, and also two bottles believed to have contained sleeping pills.

Martha Carr's OPINION

Friday and Saturday columns are devoted to teen-agers who are invited to submit their problems to Martha Carr.

Dear Martha:

WHILE shopping downtown last week I saw my boy friend who had recently given me his class ring having an identification bracelet engraved. Thinking it was for me, I was waiting anxiously to receive it. A few days later, I spied my boy friend and my bosom enemy walking down the street. She was wearing the bracelet. Martha, I'm heartbroken. What shall I do?

SHATTERED LOVE.

Does the class ring mean you're supposed to be going steady? If so, he obviously has no intention of sticking to his agreement with you and you have every right to insist that he play fair and let you know where you stand. On the other hand, if you aren't going steady, and he does date other girls, I'm afraid there isn't too much you can do. You can't force him not to give a bracelet to someone else, but it just adds insult to injury, I know, to realize that someone you class as a "bosom enemy" received his gift. No matter how much you hate it, it won't help to show your jealousy. In fact, it might send him scurrying the other way.

★ ★ ★

Dear Martha:

HOW CAN YOU TELL when a boy likes you? And how do you go about showing that you like him? I am 13.

TEENAGER IN LOVE.

If he likes you, he'll be hanging around, trying to get a chance to talk to you, "just happening" to run into you between classes or down at the drug store. If he doesn't like you, he won't. It's about that simple. There's a fine line between showing a fellow you like him and actually chasing him. Just be careful not to embarrass him by being too friendly, but there's no harm in making a point of speaking to him or inviting him to parties with the crowd.

IN ANSWER TO Esther: I'm afraid you won't agree, but I honestly think your parents are being very liberal to let you go out as often as you do. Why not plan to stay home and be with the family those other three evenings without quarreling about wanting to go out? You might find to your surprise that you'll enjoy it.

Teen-agers: Send today for Martha Carr's leaflet prepared especially for you. It's called "E For Etiquette." Be sure to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Errant Husband

By Dr. Paul Popenoe

"I HAVE read your articles quite regularly and wonder if you can give me some good advice," a woman writes. "I am so mixed up, I can't stop and figure out what's right and wrong anymore.

"My husband and I have had quite a few misunderstandings, and each time I have tried to help him, but each time the problem gets bigger. The last time it go so bad that he gambled our car and furniture away. I did what I thought was right and told him to go until he got himself straightened out. After three months he wanted to come back, and for one month things were all right. Then things started happening again, and I couldn't stand it because I was trying to help him by working and doing everything I could to get him on the right track. Finally we got an annulment. He said he couldn't stand the responsibility of having a wife and wanted out before there were any children.

"NOW HE IS ASKING ME to come back and see if things won't work out and comes home whenever he feels like it just as if we were still married. I love him, Dr. Popenoe. But is it fair to me to go back and have the same worries? I work and save, and everytime I think we are going to get somewhere, he leaves.

"He doesn't want any children, and I just love them. I get sick every time I see a new baby and know that I'll never know the feeling of having my own child. What can I do to help him—if he can be helped, and what should I do in fairness to both of us? I am trying to be fair with him in every way."

★ ★ ★

YOU ARE FACING a difficult situation, Mrs. X. It is one that thousands of other wives have faced, many of them having made the wrong choice. Sometimes they have thrown out a husband who might have been made into a good mate without too much effort, and they have gone ahead with a lonely life. Sometimes they have taken back a worthless husband on glib promises to reform, only to find that his good intentions did not last for 30 days. The rest of their marriage has been misery. You ought to study the possibilities calmly and deliberately.

If you think there is a good chance to find a better husband, very few people would criticize you for doing so. But don't take it for granted, as so many women do when they rush into the divorce court, that some middle-aged Prince Charming is waiting right around the corner with a second marriage in which they will live happily ever after. Sometimes it happens that way, but more frequently it doesn't.

The alternative is to put him on probation. Tell him you will take him back if he can straighten out and stay straightened out for one year without any signs of weakening. Tell him he will have to work with a marriage counselor, and that you will be guided by the counselor's professional opinion as well as by the promises of your husband and your own impression. There won't be any guesswork about it. Either you'll know that he has become a good husband, or else he won't be your husband. If he really means business, he'll take you up on this. If he's just a trifler and going to be a trifler all the rest of his life, he'll continue to trifle.

Give him a week to make up his mind. If he wants to go ahead, he can do so. If he doesn't accept your terms within seven days, lock the door when he's on the outside.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

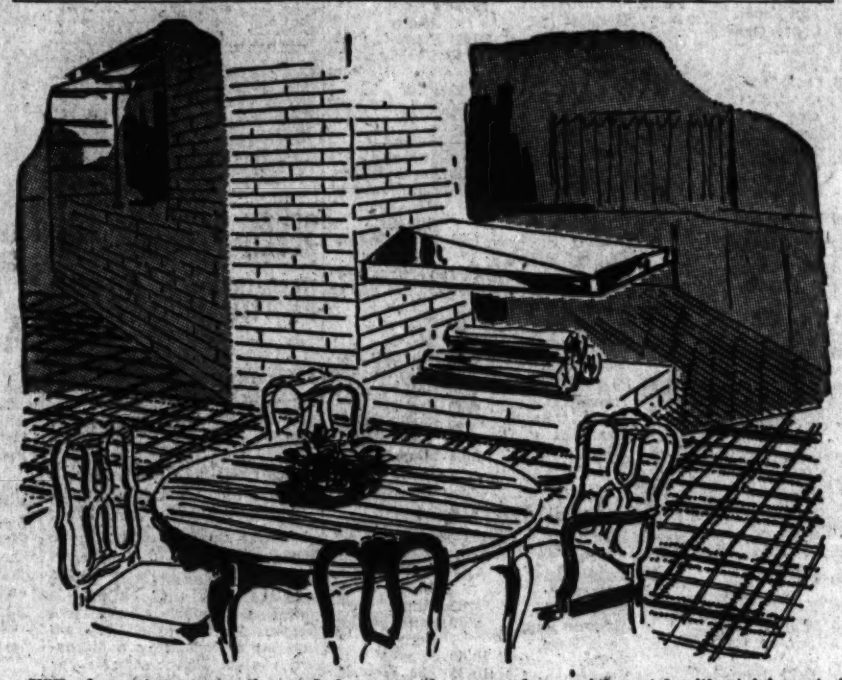

A LETTER tells me: "I have been working for my employer for 15 years. I have known his family for a long time but only in a business way. Before he went away to boarding school, my employer's son used to come into the office quite regularly and I always called him Jack. I haven't seen him for quite some time but he is now grown up and out of college. When he comes into the office to see his father, should I call him Jack as I used to, or should I call him Mr. Jones? Or would Mr. Jack be correct?"

It would be best to call him Mr. Jones, and then if he tells you to call him Jack, you continue calling him by his first name.

Living-Dining-Kitchen Area

By Elizabeth Hillyer

JUST how important the kitchen becomes in fashionable home design is pointed out dramatically by one of the most striking exhibitions in the current preview showings for spring in Grand Rapids. It is a living-dining-kitchen, in the Grand Rapids Furniture Makers Guild Galleries, designed by James P. Erdman, A.I.D.

The view sketched is from front and center of the large three-way open plan showing the brick faced, copper-hooded section which divides the living area from the kitchen area, the novel fireplace and the dining area in the foreground.

Wonderfully comfortable living, complete except for bedroom and bath facilities, is possible here. And it's living in style, with fine furniture in natural fruitwood to include a majestic breakfront on one wall and deep carpeting everywhere except for a startling red leather tile floor in the kitchen proper.

The handsome sofa and lounge chairs are covered with the latest of fabrics, the sylmer finished fabrics which are making big news. This finish, the first to defy soil and spilled liquids really effectively, encases the fabric in a silicone solution.

This idea-full living-dining-kitchen measures up on as many practical points as points of fashion. There's the sylmer finish on the upholstery fabrics and Fortisan for the curtains. Plenty of storage space ipcludes a wall of natural wood cabinets with wood grain Formica tops in the living area, built-in book and magazine shelves on the dining wall which also house a swivel television set.

Kitchen cabinets are a special pink metal with stainless steel counter tops. The raised oven and the refrigerator and a barbecue unit are built into the cabinet lineup. The copper hood extends over the center dividing island on both the kitchen and the living area side.

The color scheme? Pink walls; navy blue for the lounge chairs; red for the sofa; deep green for the curtains, and the tartan carpet is navy, red and green.

Do you buy for your home according to plan? Or do you buy hit-and-miss and make unhappy mistakes? Send for planning advice from an expert, Elizabeth Hillyer's new leaflet called "Seven Point Plan for Home Furnishings Buying." It's yours for the asking and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent with your request to Miss Hillyer at the Post-Dispatch.

Words, Wit And Wisdom

By William Morris

WORD GAME

HERE are 10 sentences, each with one word left blank. You are to fill the blanks with words compounded from some form of the Greek root "phobos" meaning fear. You're all familiar with "hydrophobia"—a morbid fear of water, characteristic of the dog disease rabies. See how many more such words you know in our quiz. And remember that, as psychologists will tell you, what we fear we hate and thus the compounded forms of "phobos" frequently have the connotation of hatred rather than fear.

1. A person who hates England is an ———.
2. Ever fear being alone? You're a victim of ———.
3. Hate cats? You have ———.
4. One who fears high places has ———.
5. Fear of closed places is called ———.
6. One who dislikes Italy and its people is an ———.
7. Dread germs? Maybe you are a victim of ———.
8. City dweller? Hate open spaces? You have ———.
9. Just plain loathe animals? Then you have ———.
10. One who fears fear itself is a victim of ———.

Score 10 for each correct answer. 100 is extraordinary; 80 is good; even 50 is better than average.

1. Anglophobe. 2. Monophobia. 3. Aelurophobia. 4. Acrophobia. 5. Claustrophobia. 6. Italophobe. 7. Bacteriophobia. 8. Agrophobia. 9. Zoophobia. 10. Phobophobia.

How large is your vocabulary? How many thousands of words can you use with confidence? For the answers to these questions just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to William Morris, in care of the Post-Dispatch, for a free copy of his new self-scoring vocabulary test. It will show you how many words you know and how to increase your word power almost immediately.

My Day

A Chat With Trumans

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW ORLEANS.

IN the short time we were in Kansas City, Mo., the middle of this week, we had all kinds of weather. By the time we took the evening train we were fighting through what might have been the beginning of a blizzard.

The dinner on Wednesday evening for the American Association for the United Nations was preceded by a press conference and a radio transcription. During these periods I was asked the most-impossible questions. No one could have answered them unless they had some specialized knowledge, which, unfortunately, is not mine.

During the interview Mr. and Mrs. Truman came in, and I was very happy to see how well our former President looked. He said he was working very hard on his book, which he hoped to make a storehouse of source material. He also said his knees still feel a little shaky but otherwise he is quite himself again. It was a great pleasure to have Mr. and Mrs. Truman at the dinner and at the evening meeting, and I was only anxious when I saw how it was snowing and I realized that they had a half-hour drive to their home.

★ ★ ★

THE EVENING MEETING was in a hall that held a little over 500 persons and it was completely filled. It was such a success that we hope to have an A.A.U.N. co-chairman for the western part of Missouri and a chapter set up in Kansas City. How they fare organizationally I shall hope to hear in a few weeks.

Fortunately we were traveling from Kansas City to Memphis by train, which we boarded at 11 p.m. and woke next morning to gray skies, which made us a little anxious about our flight to Little Rock, Ark. We had breakfast on the train and on arrival it had cleared sufficiently so that we flew comfortably into Little Rock ahead of time.

Our schedule in Little Rock was a busy one. Arkansas is in the situation of having two governors at the moment. One of them was kind enough to be at the airport with his wife and they accompanied us to the television studio and the hotel. At the TV station we watched the end of President Eisenhower's report to Congress on the state of the nation, and then I did a 10-minute program.

★ ★ ★

AT A LUNCHEON a little later we talked to about 150 persons, heads of organizations or individuals who are interested enough in the A.A.U.N. to become state board members. After lunch there was a workshop session, which was attended chiefly by organizations, and I think there must have been 250 or 300 persons present.

I am very much encouraged by the amount of organization that our state chairman in Arkansas has been able to bring about. Meetings would not be so well attended if she had not been doing so much basic work. And she tells me that Mayor Pratt Remmel of Little Rock is being of great assistance to her. There is an added interest there, of course, because Senator J. William Fulbright was on the last delegation to the General Assembly.

It is stimulating to be out in the country where one gets a feeling of how the general public is thinking. One woman in the meeting Thursday afternoon said she had been told that the A.A.U.N. was subversive, and what could she do about that. I told her that, of course, some people thought that the U.N. itself was subversive and the only thing you could do was ask people to study the groups a little more. In this way they would soon find out that neither the U.N. nor the A.A.U.N. were in any way subversive.

Separate Skirt

The pannier-pleated skirt is a newcomer among "separates" that match in fabric and give the appearance of a one-piece dress. Both printed and plain colored materials are used for this type of costume. Panels are set on with a heading at the hips to give a long-waisted effect.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

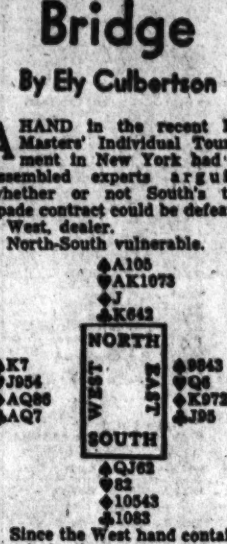

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

A HAND in the recent Life Masters' Individual Tournament in New York had the assembled experts arguing whether or not South's two-spade contract could be defeated.

West, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

Since the West hand contained precisely the minimum requirements for a one no-trump opening, it was not remarkable that the following auction took place at most of the tables:

West	North	East	South
1N.T.	Dble.	Pass	2♠
Pass	Pass	Dble.	Pass
Pass	Pass

It goes without saying that East's holding constituted a rather thin double of two spades, but at match-point play the prospect of even a one-trick set was very beguiling.

The usual lead by West was a diamond, on the reasonable thought that either North or East figured to turn up with the diamond king and so there was no point in West's keeping his tenace. At other tables the lead was a heart or a club—not that this made any difference. On the diamond lead, for example, even if West shifted to trumps, declarer couldn't be stopped from ruffing two diamonds in dummy and collecting two heart tricks, a club, the trump ace, and two trumps in the closed hand, for a total of eight tricks.

Yet, the two-spade contracts could have been beaten, although the fact is not readily apparent. Try a trump opening by West. At first thought it seems that this cuts down dummy's ruffing power but gives South the chance to set up the club king in exchange—but this is not true. The best South can do against the trump lead is to win with the ten and play the singleton diamond. West wins and leads another trump, won in dummy. Now when South leads three rounds of hearts, ruffing, and leads a club toward the king. West puts up the ace and lays down the heart jack, letting East get rid of his club—he discarded one club, of course, on the third round of hearts.

Weekly Report On Public Health

By J. Earl Smith, M.D.
(St. Louis Health Commissioner)

THE introduction, during the past few years, of fast, safe and effective treatments for syphilis and gonorrhea have been the basis for the false belief that these two diseases are no longer a problem.

Yet, in spite of these successful treatment methods the venereal diseases still present a serious problem.

★ ★ ★

SYPHILIS is one of the most serious and crippling of the communicable diseases because its first symptoms may go unrecognized. Each year in St. Louis 60 to 70 persons die of the disease, and scores of others become blind, or suffer heart and brain damage due to complications, because the disease went undiagnosed and untreated too long.

The question—how can these diseases be so prevalent when diagnosis and treatment is so relatively simple?—might well be asked. The answer, in the venereal disease control program, is a simple one. The general public is placing too much emphasis on treatment by the "miracle drugs" and ignoring the preventative and early detection measures.

A single case of uncontrolled, early infectious venereal disease can spread in a chain-like fashion until there is a virtual epidemic. The most important weapons in preventing its spread are education, contact investigation and mass blood testing. We can be sure of ourselves if a blood test is included as part of a yearly physical checkup. It will uncover the early infectious cases which cause the chain-like spread of the disease. A blood test will also locate those who have been infected for years

★ ★ ★

ACCORDING to the best estimates there are now over 2,000,000 individuals in the United States who need treatment for syphilis. In addition, almost a quarter of a million gonorrhea cases were reported last year.

The control and eventual eradication of venereal disease is dependent on the individual. If you have reason to believe that you might have a venereal disease see your family physician, or visit the prevention and control center of the Health Division, Room 18, Municipal Courts building.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By Dr. Albert E. Wiggam

Answer to Question 1.

WOMEN will answer with an A-bomb "Yes!" Luckily (for them) scientists agree. They assure us that man's face, head and reproductive system have more similarities to those of the apes and monkeys. Biologists believe that the female has always been the leader in evolution—the true "Mother of the Race"—in both plants and animals. Boys, that's sure one on us.

Answer to Question 2.

No. Sociologist Bernard Kirby, Washington State Board of Pardons and Paroles, sums up numerous studies. These studies show chiefly that some methods are more successful than others, but all are far from perfect. He urges states to provide more funds for scientific studies of criminals and delinquents before and after different methods of punishment and reformation. Applause here. Cheapest way in the long run.

Answer to Question 3.

Yes, says H. S. Fennell, United States Department of Agriculture, in "Scientific American." Dust bowls are due chiefly to (1) lack of will to conserve, and (2) man's short memory. Drouths are natural, but we forget this and during wet periods plow land that is sure to be blown away. Until man learns and remembers these psychological lessons, deserts—as always—will be "on the march."

How to Improve Your Memory.

Do you have difficulty remembering names? Telephone numbers? Good stories? Follow the simple, effective rules outlined in the booklet, "How to Improve Your Memory." For a copy send 15 cents (coin only), plus self-addressed, stamped envelope (give name of city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of the Post-Dispatch.

If you're a fortunate owner of a freezer, bear in mind that ice cream bought by the gallon is less expensive than ice cream purchased in separate quart containers.

Original Hollywood Pattern

No. 290

IT'S as young and stylish as you could ever wish, with the lovely princess lines designed to smooth your waist and billow out into the most feminine of flared skirts. What's more, it's created to double as jumper or date dress, depending on the time of day, and your mood too. As a date-dress, it's versatile; there's a brief little collared bolero with new-length just-above-the-elbow cuffed sleeves, made to match. For daytime wear, there's a casual blouse included. It's the core of your wardrobe all in one pattern—and so very 1955-looking, too.

FABRIC SUGGESTIONS: The sky's the limit, really, but you can pick to suit your purpose—heavy handsome cottons, in plains or spring-suggestive prints, velveteen and corduroy, are all suitable for both day and evening wear. Try bengaline, taffeta, or any of the silk and crepe family, if you're planning strictly for the social whirl.

Star pattern No. 290 is cut in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20.

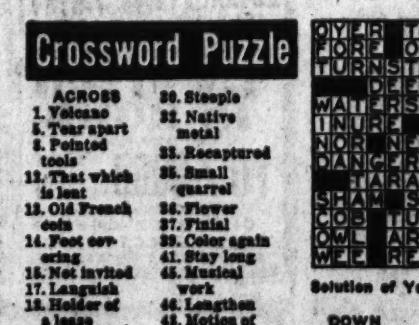

MATERIAL REQUIREMENTS: Size 16: Dress, 3¼ yards 39-inch. Bolero, 1⅛ yards 39-inch.

For a Star Pattern send 50 cents in coin to Star Pattern Department, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Box 350, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N. Y. Please include pattern number.

SEVEN PERSONS DIE IN TWO-CAR CRASH

Five Adults, Two Children Killed in New Mexico Highway Accident.

LORDSBURG, N.M., Jan. 8 (AP)—Seven persons—five adults and two children—were killed yesterday in an automobile collision 21 miles east of here.

State Policeman Neil Moore said the crash occurred when a speeding automobile with five persons in it crashed head-on into an auto bearing a Minnesota couple. Moore said the car driven by Ralph Osborn Mitchell, 22 years old, Adena (O.) soldier stationed at Fort Bliss, Tex., was three feet across the center line at the time of impact.

Killed were Mitchell, Sgt. and Mrs. Richard Lavern Hursh, both 25, of Silver Springs, Md., their two small unidentified daughters, Elwood H. Vincent, 66, Fairmont, Minn., and Mrs. Vincent, 59.

7 Killed in Two-Car Crash in Virginia.

FINCASTLE, Va., Jan. 8 (AP)—Seven persons died near here last night in the worst two-automobile crash in Virginia history.

Police said the head-on collision of two passenger cars at the foot of a hill on U.S. 220 was caused by "wantonly excessive speed."

State Trooper H. L. Holzbach, who investigated the accident two miles south of this Botetourt county town, said one of the cars—carrying five Negro men—left a 1000-foot trail of swerving, skidding, shoulder-to-shoulder and ditch-to-ditch tire marks before piling into the other.

Four of the five men in this car died. The fifth occupant was seriously injured.

A farmer, his wife and their son were in the other car. All three were killed.

The victims, all residents of Botetourt county, were: Julian L. Wills, 64 years old, his wife, Bertha Derfliner Wills, 63, and their son, Wilmer Rea Wills, 39, all of Fincastle; Gilbert Wiley, 21, and William Henry Clay Jr., 20, both of Troutville, and George Vincent Brown, 21, and Robert Pettus Jr., 16, both of Fincastle.

IMMIGRANT PLEADS GUILTY OF ATTEMPTED EXTORTION

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 8 (AP)—A 43-year-old immigrant from Salzburg, Austria, pleaded guilty here yesterday to two charges of attempting to extort a total of $200,000 from two millionaires. One of them was Vincent Astor of New York.

Heinz Adam, who came to Canada two years ago, admitted in police court that he attempted to extort $150,000 from Astor and $50,000 from Harry Reifel, a Vancouver business man. He was remanded for sentencing next Friday.

The money demands were made in letters to the two men.

WEEK'S HOG TOP OF $18.35, LOWEST SINCE DEC. 1950

Large receipts of hogs, tradition for the first week of a new year, sent hog prices last week to the lowest level in more than two years, the Producers Livestock Marketing Association reported today. The week's salable receipts, 50,300 head, were above those of last week and the same week of the previous year. The low top, $18.35, was the lowest since December, 1952.

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, Jan. 8 (USDA weekly review of the livestock market).

Steers and heifers closed the week Friday very uneven, commercial and low good 50c lower, average good and most choice steady, with irregular gains on the few high choice and prime offered all compared with last Friday. Cows mostly steady, bulls 50c higher, with vealers and calves about $2 lower. High choice and prime 1089-lb. steers claimed $29 and 1136-lb. averages $28.50, majority choice steers $24.50 @27, good and low choice $21@24, commercial and low good $18@20. Choice 1021-lb. mixed steers and heifers brought $26, good and choice $19.50 @24, commercial and low good $16 @19. Utility and commercial cows bulked $10.50@13, a few reaching $13.50. Most utility and commercial bulls claimed $13@14.50, lightweight butcher bulls $15 or better. Individual head of prime vealers reached $32, good and choice largely $22@30, with commercial and good slaughter calves $14@19.

Compared close of last week, barrows and gilts finished 50@75c lower, sows mostly 25c lower. Top prices ranged from $18.35 Tuesday and Friday to $18.75 Wednesday, the $18.35 marking a new low since December 1952. For the week, bulk of 150-220 lbs. sold at $17.75@18.50; 220-240 lbs. $17.25@18.25; 240-270 lbs. $16.25@17.75; 270-350 lbs. $15.50@16.75; 280-400 lbs. sows $15@15.75 and heavier sows $13.25@15.

Wooled lambs advanced 25c and shorn lambs 25@50c for the week, no change on aged sheep. About 60 per cent of receipts were full wooled and 40 per cent were shorter pelts. Week's top was $21.25 for woolskins and $20.25 for No. 1 skins and fall-shorn. Bulk of wooled lambs were good to prime from $19@20.50 with more than 50 per cent $20@20.50; a moderate sprinkling $20.75@21.25. Very little went below $18. Several hundred No. 1 skins as well as some fallclips brought $20.25; some choice No. 1 skins averaging 110 lbs. $20. A big share of clippers were merely good and choice at $19@19.50.

C. & N.W. DIRECTORS VOTE TO OMIT ISSUE PAYMENT

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (AP)—Chicago and North Western Railroad directors have voted to omit payment of interest April 1 on the company's second mortgage 4½ per cent convertible income bonds.

This was the first omission of interest payment on the bonds which were sold in 1944 and are due in 1999. Directors gave insufficient earnings as the reason for the action, at a meeting yesterday.

Last October the railroad reported a net loss of $5,535,315 in the first nine months of 1954 compared with a loss of $335,212 a year before.

In December the directors voted to omit dividends on the preferred and common stocks of the road.

Interest on the second mortgage bonds has been paid each April 1 for the preceding year. The bonds were sold when new securities were made available following reorganization of the railroad. Principal on the issue was $67,582,272 on Dec. 31, 1953.

Last October the North Western announced it would study the possibility of co-ordinating certain operations with the Milwaukee road as an economy move. Rail officials felt economies might be realized through co-ordinating traffic, operating, maintenance and other departments of the two railroads.

TIRE PRICES BOOSTED

AKRON, O., Jan. 8 (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and B. F. Goodrich Co. said yesterday they were boosting the prices of tires and tubes from 2½ per cent to 5 per cent.

That pattern was set earlier at New York by the United States Rubber Co.

Goodyear, blaming "increased production costs," said the 2½ per cent increases would apply to passenger, farm and small truck tires. The 5 per cent hike applies to large truck tires and all tubes.

The Standard Goodyear 769-15 size is now $24.35, an increase of 60c.

WIDE STOCK PLUNGE, SHARP PRICE RALLY

Week Sees Worst Fall Since Korean War, Best Rail Gain Since 1933.

By ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UP)—Stocks during the first week of 1955 plunged in their widest decline since the outbreak of the Korean war and rallied on the best railroad stock gain since March 15, 1933, the day the bank holiday ended.

It was a week of contrasts and records for the market. Wall Street went through periods of joy, gloom and new joy. Brokers waxed rich on commissions on the huge volume that averaged well above 4,000,000 shares daily with one day running over 5,000,000 for the first time since the session after Adolf Hitler invaded Poland.

Here are the other records:

It was the most active week since the 42,329,633 share turnover of the week ending July 29, 1933, second largest week in history.

It was the broadest market in all history.

It was the first time in history of market operations there was a temporary selling climax in the first week of a new year, normally a period of heavy fund reinvestment.

Tickers Behind 15 Minutes.

Tickers fell behind as much as 15 minutes on Wednesday and 13 minutes on Thursday, most since they were 27 minutes behind in the sessions immediately following the outbreak of the war in Korea.

The year began on Monday with a rise all around led by General Motors which at its high was up $9.50 a share. It closed up $7.25. That stock and du Pont, which owns 20,000,000 General Motors shares, closed with a gain in valuation of more than $1,000,000,000.

Traders, knowing General Motors directors were meeting in New York, guessed rightly the company would float additional stock with rights to present stockholders. They guessed wrong there would be a split-up.

For that wrong guess they paid in a lower market on Tuesday.

After the Tuesday close, the Federal Reserve System raised margins from 50 per cent to 60 per cent, an advance of 10 points or 20 per cent.

'Bad News' Hit Wednesday.

That "bad news" hit the market hard on Wednesday and it plunged 8.93 points in the industrial average, widest decline since the 10.44 point break on June 26, 1950, the first session after the start of the Korean war.

On Thursday, Senators J. William Fulbright (Dem.), Arkansas, and John J. Sparkman (Dem.), Alabama, suggested a senatorial study of the market.

The market plunged again on Thursday on the Senate study proposal but came back from its lows with the industrial average off 5.35 points.

On Friday calm returned. Selling pressure eased. Small amounts of buying sent prices up $1 to $3 easily. The market leveled off and turned dull.

Then came the spurt in railroad shares which again caused ticker lateness right through the close of the last session. Friday's railroad average rise of 4.03 points, best since March 15, 1933, restored 72.07 per cent of the week's loss in that average.

A boost of 3.71 points in industrials restored 29.52 per cent of their loss and one of 34 cents brought utilities back 47.89 per cent.

Sales Total 22,945,618.

Sales for the week totaled 22,945,618 shares, a daily average of 4,589,123 shares. In the last week of 1954, the volume amounted to 18,485,575 shares, a daily average of 3,697,115 shares.

Closing Dow-Jones averages showed: industrial, 395.60, off 8.79; railroad, 144.34, off 1.52; utility, 62.10, off 0.37 and 65 stocks, 147.86, off 2.36.

New York Central featured the week in volume and strength and closed at 36⅝ up 3⅛ points from last week's finish. General Electric rose 2⅜ on the week. General Motors lost a mere ⅞ point.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF BANK MERGER EXPECTED SOON

NEW YORK, Jan. 8—Merger of the Chase National Bank and the Bank of the Manhattan Co.—which would create the second largest bank in the United States and the largest in New York—may be announced next week, according to informed sources.

Officials of neither bank would comment but it is understood that directors of both institutions have approved the plans tentatively and that final action will be taken next Wednesday and Thursday by the two boards.

Bank of the Manhattan Co. had total assets of $1,668,200,344 on Dec. 31 and Chase National reported $5,908,131,517. Combined this would give a total of $7,576,331,861, compared with over nine billion dollars in assets for the Bank of America, National Savings and Trust Association of San Francisco, the world's largest.

The National City Bank of New York is now the second largest in the country with assets of $6,323,104,786.

500 MILLION DOLLAR FNMA LOAN TO PAY 2½ PER CENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The United States Treasury announced that the $500,000,000 of Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA) securities to be issued next week will pay 2½ per cent interest and will mature in three years.

The flotation of notes is the first step taken by FNMA under the new housing act to introduce private financing into the Government's mortgage banking agency and replace its borrowings from the Treasury. The Treasury, handling the offering in behalf of FNMA, announced that it will receive cash subscriptions on Jan. 11 at the Federal Reserve banks.

The notes will be dated Jan. 20, 1955, and will mature Jan. 20, 1958.

HAWK WATCH

By BRANDON BIRD

CHAPTER 26.

ANSON was speaking again. "You can drop that shotgun, Gratton."

I dropped it.

"You both saw that wild eagle attack me," he stated carefully.

"I saw you bring it in with a lure and kill it," I said.

He was kneeling by the dead bird now but keeping the pistol and his eyes on me. With his free hand he began playing with the limp talons. Then I saw what he was doing.

"No, Gratton, you're mistaken. I was throwing the lure for my peregrine and the eagle came at me. You saw it all."

"I see you now, taking the jesses off your own eagle—the one you flew at me."

He had the leather thongs off the eagle's ankles without even looking at them. Now he got to his feet and slipped the jesses into his coat pocket.

"No, Gratton, you see the eagle has no jesses on it. It's a wild bird." He shrugged. "It may have been the one that attacked you. I couldn't say, but you should be grateful to me for killing it."

"Maybe Dana should be grateful to you for killing Harrison Purcell."

"You're entirely confused, Gratton."

"I saw him on Spine rocks Saturday afternoon. You killed him with that eagle, the way you tried to kill me. The difference was, he had white hair. You had to plant your white fur hood on me."

"Anson. No." Dana's voice was harsh. "You said you put out a rabbit."

"He put out a man. We found Harrison Purcell's body less than an hour and a half ago."

"Go ahead. Tell him, Dana." Anson's voice was gentle. "Did I fly an eagle Saturday?"

Dana's answer didn't come. I turned. She was staring, gray-faced, at Anson.

"You do see what I mean, Dana?" Anson asked affectionately. "This man's suffering from hallucinations."

"White hair." Dana was speaking slowly, as if she were reading backwards. "Rabbits and chickens—always white. But only after my father came last spring."

Dana was still watching him, wide-eyed. "You were displeased that Tundra had been trained on white arctic foxes before we got her, till last spring. Then we started using white targets. You said it was because—all along you—you—oh, you beast."

"You're mistaken, little sister. We never had an eagle. If you'll just recall Saturday."

"What's he talking about?" I asked. "He flew it Saturday. You must have seen him."

"No." Dana said dully. "He didn't fly Tundra Saturday. He was there, but he let me do it."

* * *

ANSON was watching me with those eyes of his. "Don't try it, Gratton." The hand with the gun began to shake.

"Brother—why?" Dana begged. "What reason was there? What had he ever done to you?"

"What had he done? You ask me what Harrison Purcell had done?" The face twisted. "He took my mother—your mother, my beautiful mother — away from here, away from me. When she sent for Cricket to come to her I went along and I found her—my beautiful mother—carrying his child while he went about his precious career as if it were all perfectly normal.

"You ask what he did. I saw her die when you were born. That man killed her. As certainly as though he'd used a knife, he killed her."

"You didn't kill me," Dana said. "I'm the one who caused her death."

"You were all I had left of her." There was a fierce, mad tenderness about him. "Cricket and I brought you back. You were half my mother. I could stamp out the other half, the part of him that was in you. I brought you up to love our life here where we belong. You gave me affection—in a small way you replaced her. And then, after years of contentment you had to see that picture of him. You had to write to him."

"He was my father." Dana said. "I had a right to know him."

"You brought him back. He came—for one last indignity for me to suffer—to take you from me." Anson's voice was climbing. "He'd done it once—taken the one thing I loved and killed it. He didn't do it again."

* * *

A SOUND reached me above the high pitch of his words. A car engine laboring up a grade. There was a chance I could needle him into talking long enough.

"Why didn't you let it go as an accident?" I asked. "Why bury him and take the Cadillac so far away?"

He came back in focus on me, pushing the long hair away from his forehead. "You." He jerked his head toward the ridge across the valley. "You with your camera and your inquiring binoculars trained on me from the tower." His upper lip lifted to one side. "Your impertinent questions, your fawning over Dana. I think you have made an unfortunate mistake."

"No, Anson," Dana cried. "You can't."

"Don't move in front of him, Dana. This man has come on my property, armed. He's threatened me and I'm within my rights to shoot in self-defense. You'll remember the details, little sister—just as you'll remember the details about last Saturday. Then there'll only be the two of us again, with nothing else to spoil it."

"There happens to be a flashlight exposure of you taken when you came to bury me last night," I said. "And a picture of your eagle flying back to you Saturday."

Dana slid between us but Anson shook his head. "No melodramatics, Dana. You have better taste than that."

"I'm thinking about you, brother. And last Saturday. There's a better way — that leaves you out of it."

"Yes?" He didn't move his eyes from me.

"Luger," she said, "there behind you. Let Luger do it."

Anson's face lit up but he didn't turn.

"You're learning, Dana. That's right, stand back." His face went blank. "All right, Luger." He snapped it like a drill sergeant. "Get him. You heard me, Luger." He frowned impatiently. "Get him."

"It's Tundra." Dana said breathlessly. "He's got hold of her."

"Luger, I said, get him." Anson's head made a tiny move in the direction of the bird.

My left was never very smooth. This time it needed to be. It was better than that. It was perfect.

It caught him crosswise on the jaw and he went sprawling onto the rock. I tramped the hand still holding the gun but it wasn't necessary. He was out.

THE Skyscraper dining room 20 stories above the traffic sounds of Vanderbilt avenue, New York, may be a long way from the ridge across from Sleepy creek mountain, but not for me.

I'll have to go back to the mountain when Anson comes to trial. I only wish I didn't have to go through it all again. It's bad enough for me but what will it be for Dana? They say my flash picture coupled with her testimony are the things that will convict him.

My luncheon date across the table smiled at me as I said: "It will be wonderful in these mountains, Dana, you and I together, always. Of course, there'll be trips from time to time, assignments, but . . ."

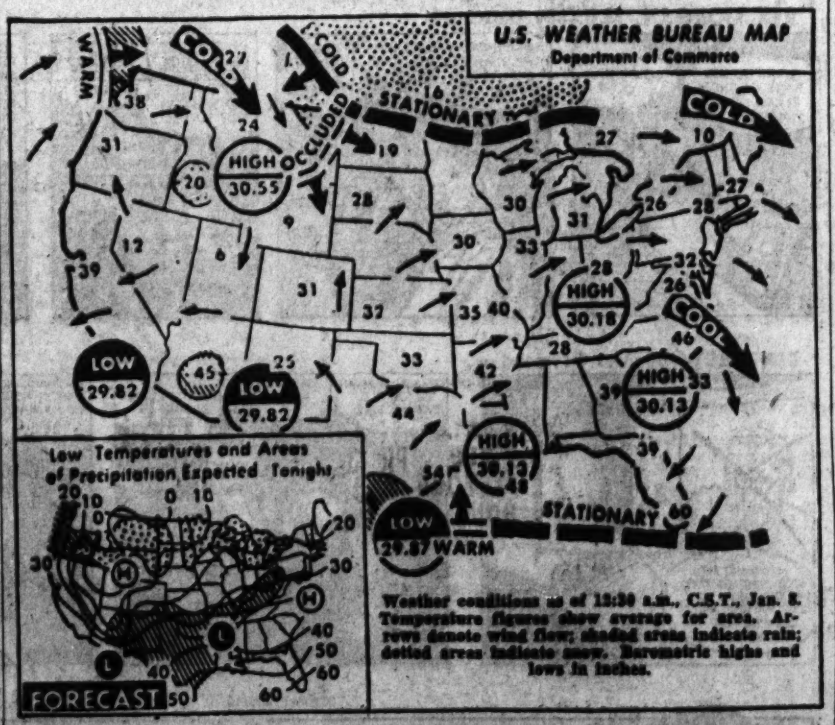

"But we'll always go back to our mountain home," she finished my thought for me.

Her fingers reached across table to grip mine. She gazed at me. I know now how Butcher Boy feels when she looks at him like that.

THE END.

A serial, "Adobe Walls, by W. R. Burnett, will begin tomorrow in the Everyday Magazine.

Mild Weather to Prevail in Area

Weather conditions as of 12:30 a.m., C.S.T., Jan. 8. Temperature figures show average for area. Arrows denote wind flow; shaded areas indicate rain; dotted areas indicate snow. Barometric highs and lows in inches.

Mild weather prevailed in the St. Louis area today as somewhat warmer temperatures covered the mid-continent from the Gulf states northward to near the Canadian border. Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said skies here will be cloudy through tomorrow with rain beginning tonight.

The Weather Bureau predicted temperatures ranging tomorrow from the upper 30s to near 50. Wahlgren said Monday will be somewhat cooler. In Missouri early today, temperatures varied from 27 at Kirksville to 36 in downtown St. Louis.

Below zero temperatures prevailed again this morning in western Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and Idaho with low readings of 20 below at Big Piney, Wyo., and 15 below at Elko and Ely, Nev.

There were only a few wet spots across the nation today. Heaviest precipitation, less than an inch, was in the Arizona desert. Snow flurries were reported in New England and parts of the northern plains.

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

A SCHOOL pupil, Suzanne Lorenzen, writes:

"During a discussion in our science class, this question arose: Are all scorpions poisonous?

"We know that scorpions have been declared as poisonous in the past, but my science teacher read recently that some are not. The class, as well as myself, would appreciate it if you would help answer this question for us. I am in junior high school and follow your columns every day, finding them very interesting."

Your question, Suzanne, is a bit hard to answer because I must first make sure which scorpions we are considering. If we include whip scorpions as members of the tribe, I can say that some scorpions are without either stingers or poison. The little book scorpions and other false scorpions also may be classed as harmless to people, though they pursue and destroy various kinds of insects.

* * *

A WHIP SCORPION is shaped very much like a true scorpion. Its long whiplike tail may be mistaken for the stinger of a true scorpion.

Whip scorpions sometimes have bodies which are three inches long, and their tails may be two and a half inches in length.

Whip scorpions belong to the same family as true scorpions, namely the arachnids, but they make up a different branch.

The usual home of whip scorpions is described as a rocky place. They like to spend time in open places between the rocks of a cliff, also inside caves.

* * *

AMONG THE WHIP scorpions are the "vinegaroons" which live in southwestern parts of the United States, also in Mexico. These have an odor which may remind a person of vinegar. Many persons have captured vinegaroons and have kept them as pets. They never sting, but may cause a bit of pain with their "nippers."

True scorpions, on the other hand, can give painful stings. I observed the pain which came to an 11-year-old girl and a 13-year-old boy who climbed an oak tree and met with the stings of scorpions. So if you want pets of this type, be sure that you get a whip scorpion instead of a true scorpion.
